

With the Alumni

— by —

RUTH HANSON

THE Alumnae recently met for the first meeting of the season at the home of Eliza B. Hunter '92 on Waterloo Row. Miss Zula V. Hallett '11 of Marysville, presided.

Plans were made to hold a telephone bridge for the purpose of raising funds for the society. It was urged that the patronage of the students be solicited. It was decided to entertain the new girls of the College in the near future. At the conclusion of the business meeting, refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Miss Louise Kinghorn '04, teacher in Smythe Street School here, is convalescing at her home after a serious operation.

Mrs. Stewart Mavor, of Calgary, who was formerly Frances Steeves '10, is visiting in Marysville. Mr. Mavor who also attended the University some years ago, is a prominent lawyer in Calgary.

Mary Neill '32 is attending Fredricton Business College.

Ed. Baird '32 is in his second year at Pine Hill Divinity College, Halifax.

Frank Wetmore '33 has received the appointment as demonstrator in the Chemistry Lab. at McGill.

Harold Heaney, graduate in Forestry in '28 is confined to the East Saint John Tuberculosis Hospital.

Evelyn Gordon '33 is teaching school at Springhill, just outside the City limits.

Class of 1933

F. E. W. WETMORE

Recently appointed Chemistry Laboratory Assistant at McGill University.

A marriage of interest took place at the First Presbyterian Church manse, Moncton, when Rev. S. J. MacArthur united Margaret E. Weldon '32, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Weldon, Chatham, and Mr. John L. Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray, of Lower The couple were unattended. Mr. Napan, Northumberland County, and Mrs. Gray will make their home at Lower Napan, where the groom is a prosperous farmer.

Louise Allison '31 is teaching at Red Bank, Northumberland County.

Jack Bigelow '33 is working for the Mersey Paper Company at Liverpool, N. S.

WHAT THEY DID

Ruth Hanson and Ted Coffey kept the boys and girls apart in the city parks.

Dick Black went back to the land near Centerville.

Chet Campbell dug wells and laid flag-stone walks.

Dave Coughy washed cars for millionaires between golf matches.

Geo. Gorman "went blind" in night-clubs in New York.

Art Odell went fishing in N. S. Didn't catch anything, i. e. not much.

Dot Palmer chased bears and cowboys at Banff.

Jerry Sansom taught German at Summer School.

Andy Brebner ran the Atholville mill for the Fraser Co.

Jimmy Dodds isn't all there—he lost his tonsils.

Don Jamer chased girls up and down river in a motor boat.

Andy Likely is like Dodds, only he lost his appendix.

Sid Thomas was "The Eyes and Ears of the World"—or something.

Jean Burnham came back from Scotland.

Jim Lunam chauffeured for Papa Lunam.

Morrison Manchester worked on a milk route.

Gus McCarroll sold gas in Saint John.

Johnny Donaldson was in the bush,—and—at Peacocks in Quebec—ask him girls.

A professor whose name is listed in "Who's Who" was among the 86 unemployed teachers who applied for work at $15 a week at the temporary emergency relief stations of New York State.

ALUMNI NOTICE

It is the Alumni to whom we must turn in quest of material for this column. Miss Hanson utilizes every agency at hand in an effort to provide the large quantity of material essential for its continuation, but the great bulk of desirable information regarding our graduates and ex-grads., is entirely beyond her reach. The Brunswickan would greatly appreciate the co-operation of any of our readers in providing Miss Hanson with material for her column. Personal comment on the paper in general, is also invited; and we should be only too pleased to have readers contribute articles, short-stories, poetry or news for publication in its pages.

Last minute word from Miss Hanson states that her supply of Alumni material has run so low that this column will be forced to discontinue after the next issue, should readers fail to contribute what they can. Surely everybody could contribute at least one brief item dealing with a graduate or ex-grad.

—The Editor.

STUDE CENSORS TO KEEP TAB ON PROFESSORS

Chapel Hill, N. C.—Students at the University of North Carolina here have decided to keep closer tab on the various professors and instructors at the college. According to an announcement made by student representatives this will take the form of criticism of the courses, coming through a consensus of opinion of the students taking them.

The Daily Tar Heel, student publication, will be the official medium of this censorship. It plans to run a series of features on various courses offered in the school with brief summaries and critical comments on the subjects appended. Members of the faculty have not yet commented on the venture, though it is rumoured that they are in full agreement, since it will probably aid them in making their lectures more interesting and of greater appeal to students.

MODERN COLLEGE LIFE

(From the Ohio State Sun Dial As the movies describe it—)

Up at ten and amid the luxurious surroundings of my room, leisurely dressing and selecting appropriate attire from my wardrobe of twenty some suits. To class in my twelve cylinder roadster and reclined comfortably in a modernistic chair for an hour listening to Prof. Adonis about whom the femininity of the campus is crazy. Lunch with Diane and Babe and thence for a drive. Returned for tea at the Theta House. Dropped over to the stadium in time for the third quarter of the game and hurriedly changed into a uniform, scoring the winning touchdown and was carried on the shoulders of excited mob. Dinner and dancing with Lily and then for a drive during which I proposed and was accepted. So to Covington to be married and returning. Home to bed.

According to the reformists—

Awoke at eleven with brown taste and headache. Took another eye-opener. Slept thru two classes. Took another eye-opener. Slept for an hour. Went to cocktail party. Went to dinner. Went to joint. Went to crap game. Went after date. Went after drink. Went to roadhouse. Went to bed.

As it really is—

Up at seven and put on socks which are standing in corner. Went to class from eight to twelve. Went to lunch. Went to library. Studied till five. Went to dinner. Went to library. Went nuts.

Without memory, man is a perpetual infant.
