ginald Rat Stewart and Oily Atkins greased the skids and down went Jerry Hughes who was merely an atom after last Saturday nite, the "mighty" part of it had disappeared. Your reporter missed the dazzling action at the end of the game as Kinkaid, Fletcher and company and Paddy Holden (Yea School) went to work on the Juniors and the score was rung up to four despite the work of Willie Cowan and "Roberta" Mair and Silent Bob Jamieson who was knocked out of the rink at one point and came back strong at the final gong.

Sophs 4—Frosh 3

The goal scoring for the Sophs was monopolized by Hot-Stuff Robichaud and Ernie Hamilton. The feature of the game was the appearance of a new goalie for the Sophs. He was their star forward last week and still won't allow his name to appear in print as he is afraid the co-eds will take him away from his work during Co-ed Week. So is Ernie Hamilton but he got two goals so the Sophettes should see that he gets his deserts.

The game see-sawed back and forth with now one team in the lead, now the other. Neither side seemed to want to keep it long; but the final whistle caught the Sophs napping and as they were ahead, they were declared winners. Weymond I and Weymond II waged a great struggle of brotherly love. Weymond I took the bumps but he also got two scores. "Early-bird" McDermott also counted for the greenhorns but was kept pretty well tied up by another brite lite from the far reaches of the Saint John River—"Rosey" Ross. The Freshmen had three forward lines and the referee and thus managed to put up quite a struggle, but the Sophs want to see their countenances in the Year Book again, so they simply had to win, bless their little hearts.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF OUR COLUMN?

It's a swell idea because you can get everyone's ideas on every thing.—Aurelie Mulhern.

I think you're on the right track.—Harold Richards.

I think it's very nice but you should ask more people and have more of a variety of answers.—Reg Stewart.

...I think it needs.. a bath.. in life buoy.—Connie Conlon.

It's pretty good but it doesn't get the point of view of the whole college.—Jim Callaghan

I think it's very good—the only chance the average person gets to say what he really thinks.—Harry Wall.

Shoot him along with Wilf Carter.—Bill Haliburton.

I think it's very good because it gets the idea of the students.—Dorothy Brodie.

It shows some people around here have some "up and go" to them. Ken Hinton.

The column itself is pretty good, too bad you can't say the same about Lena and Liz.—Jack Morrison news, beauty hints or choice recipes, having to wait until the announcer has finished narrating a blow-by-blow description of the Joe Louis fight which took place last night. Can you? Again, I cannot.

I think it's very point blank in its answers and it shows student opinion very well.—Bill Bonnel.

To go further, take the case of the same business man as we spoke of a few lines above. He'll be tired at the end of the day, and after supper will want to settle down in his favourite armchair with a pair of slippers and his pipe. He will want to spend a quiet evening reading his paper in leisure. Can you imagine him having to sit and listen to what Dorothy Dix has to say to "Lonely Lena" or to a reading of the financial report of the A and B Company? Once again I cannot. He'll get up, probably curse vehemently and proceed to turn the radio off with an impatient flick of his wrist.

So, all in all, we must conclude that both the newspaper and the radio are vital in themselves and the one irreplaceable by the other. The daily newspaper may be on the decline in some respects but it can never be entirely supplanted by the radio.

Education Society

ary President of the Society, Mary Neville, President, Dallas Laskey, vice-president and Ruth Morrel and Neil Ganter, Junior and Senior Representatives.

Following the election of officers Dr. A. S. MacFarlane, Chief Superintendent of Education for New Brunswick, gave a very instructive and entertaining talk on the English School System.

Following this, tea was served and a sing-song enjoyed by the guests.

Canadian Campus

Manitoba has been invited to take over the Winnipeg Tribune for one day. And more than that: the young reporters will have a chance to vie for the three prizes of one dollar, one half-dollar and one-half dollar awarded each week to the writers of the best news stories. To top it all off, their "Aunt Arctic Ball," the annual winter social affair, is just about ready to go freezing its way to success.

Shoeshine Boy

The shoeshine boy at Hart House, University of Toronto, is an artist by choice, a shoeshine boy by necessity. When the men of the campus are not anxious for footwear simonizing, he draws a canvas from under the polish throne and sketches a landscape or dashes off a hunk of cubistics. Every now and again,

B. will be accompanied by their newly acquired coach "Snap" Thompson, who took over his duties last week, and Manager Don Good. A return engagement will be played with Mt. A. on their home ice Wed., February 21.

Federation Charged

The full text of the statement is as follows: "The students' councils of the University of Montreal and of Laval University (Quebec) have resolved to withdraw from the National Federation of Canadian University Students. Here briefly are the reasons for this decision:

The students' councils of these two universities consider that it is the function of student organizations to stimulate full and free discussions of all problems which face youth today. Canadian students must take a stand. They must adopt decisions which seem to them to be in the interests of this country, Canada."

"The N.F.C.U.S. consisting of fifteen or sixteen members meeting every two years has shown itself unable to serve the needs of the mass of Canadian students."

"Most important of all the N.F.C.U.S. has adopted an extremely undemocratic attitude. It is generally known that a distribution of questionnaires on conscription has been undertaken, in order that students may express their opinion on this issue. The N.F.C.U.S. leaders have stated opposition to this questionnaire, revealing an undemocratic attitude to which we are unaccustomed, and even to a certain extent, an anti-Canadian attitude. This decision was taken without consulting French-Canadian members of the N.F.C.U.S. and despite the fact that French-Canadian students as a body are unalterably opposed to conscription. Canadian unity just like Canadian democracy, will no longer be possible if the opinion of a large section of the Canadian people is deliberately ignored."

"The Universities of Montreal and Laval not desiring again to become victims of the autocratic measures of the N.F.C.U.S. formally declare that henceforth they have no connection with this organization."

Beamish Addresses Science Club

The Science Club held a dinner meeting in the Goody Shop on Wednesday evening. The president was in the chair. The meeting was the first of the Spring Term and a good number of Science students were present.

John Beamish was the speaker for the evening addressing the club on geology survey work. In his address he described the methods used by field parties in collecting geological data. He described the method of keeping field notes and of plotting results. The areas dealt with in particular by the speaker were St Stephen and Bathurst. Mr. Beamish also referred to the recreational activities of the members of the party.

After considerable discussion the meeting adjourned.

a connoisseur will chance across a good time, and Stan the shoeshiner gets paid for something else besides "shinin' shoes all day." But as a general rule, he draws and paints for fun. His latest commission is the sketching of a Roman portrait for the local production of Timon of Athens. This is his second attempt at portraying the human figure. The first is a red-headed wench, done in cubes and known intimately as Cockeyed Liz.
