CANADIAN CAMPUS

A C.U.P. Feature

Varsity Press

Slowly and sedately, the newspapers of the Canadian universities are becoming broader in their scope, more ambitious, and more competent. The latest step forward among Canada's campus journalism family is a full rotogravure section published by University of Saskatchewan's The Sheaf. In sepia tints are reproduced shots and angles of university life in Smilin' co-eds, airplane pilots, social directors, hockey rinks, they Saskatchewan and across Canada. All troop across the four-page section as Canadian campus journalism experiences something new. Dances and banquets, and a subtle "boy meets girl" from The Manitoban round out the rotogravure section of The Sheaf. Bravo.

Parliamentarians

Several Alberta undergraduates are inextricably entangled in what is known as the Alberta Boys' Parliament, meeting every Christmas in the legislative chambers at Edmonton. Last Christmas the speech from the throne was defeated, the government ousted by a lack of confidence vote, the leader of the opposition became premier and forced the government to vote against their own legislation, and was in turn defeated. Then opposition leader, Alberta student Ernest Nix became head of a coalition government. Anything can happen in Alberta.

Vitamin, Eh?

As a matter of fact anything can happen in Alberta. Dr. Pett caught cold in the recent wave of catarrh, and the campus was in turmoil. Said Dr. Pett is the person who administers Vitamin A tests. He claimed that he didn't suffer from a Vitamin A deficiency (Oh?) but Engineering Society Addressed by Profs.

Hear Baird and Turner In Forestry and Geology Building.

The second meeting of the Engineering Society was held in the Forestry and Geology building on the evening of Jan. 15. President, Jack Ring, was in the chair. The arrangements for the meeting were in charge of J. O. Dineen.

The guest speaker of the evening was Professor A. F. Baird. He gave a very interesting address on "The Tools of a large industry," taking the Shawinigan power plant as an example of a large industry. However, he also went outside of this plant to show some other important features not used in the Shawinigan plant. To illustrate and stress the importance and size of certain equipment, he showed numerous slides. These slides were made from pictures taken inside several of the large industrial plants.

Student Body Hears China Missionary

The students of the university had the privilege of hearing Miss Grace Gibbard, missionary to China and representative for international war relief on Tuesday.

In her speech Miss Gibbard gave a picture of student life in China, which is still functioning after two years of war. True, there is not the large scale education program as before the war. The number of high schools in China today is very limited and of universities there are only one or two but in these remaining institutions, where equipment is very scarce, work goes on much as usual regardless of numerous air-raids. It is a notable point Miss Gibbard said that the students are as far ahead in their work as under ordinary peace time conditions.

Coveted Award Won By U.N.B. Graduate

Don McKinnon '39 Wins Engineering Prize.

Donald L. MacKinnon, president of last year's graduating class of U. N. B., was named winner of the Martin Murphy Prize this week. This prize is awarded annually by the Engineering Institute of Canada.

Don McKinnon, graduated from U. N. B. with a B. Sc. in civil engineering last spring. While attending this university he was prominent in both athletic and scholastic pursuits. Last year he won the coveted athletic distinction for four years' service on the varsity football team and two years on the hockey squad.

The Engineering Institute award is given in memory of the late Dr. Martin Murphy, a past president of the organization. The prize which consists of instruments and books is the institute's highest award. Competition is open to students and junior members of the Engineering Institute throughout the Maritimes.

This year's winner will be presented with the prize at the institute's annual meeting in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto on Feb. 8. A thesis entitled "Soil Mechanics" won him the award.

Co-ed First Aid Class Formed at City Hall

A U. N. B. Co-ed First Aid Class was formed on Wednesday night at the Fredericton City Hall.

Constable Baker of the R. C. M. P. will conduct the six weeks course.

There are about 12 co-eds taking advantage of the opportunity to take this separate course. It is regrettable that more girls have not registered for this valuable training.

However, any of the co-eds who have not joined and are still desirous of so doing, will have the opportunity to start work on Wednesday night.

Co-eds Discuss Plans For Alumnae Tea

Further plans for the Alumnae Tea were discussed at the latest meeting of the Ladies Society, which was held on Monday.

This tea which is held every two years in honor of the Fredericton branch of the Alumnae, will be held this year on Saturday afternoon in the Ladies' Reading Rooms.

Other guests will include the wives of the faculty. At this traditional function, the Senior girls will assist in receiving the guests, the Junior Girls will replenish, the Sophettes will assist in serving and the Freshettes will wash the dishes.

Freshmen to Sponsor Soldiers' Aid Dance

To be Held at Castle Hall Tonight—Large Patronage Expected.

The Freshman Class will hold a dance for the SOLDIERS COMFORT FUND in Castle Hall tonight. This dance is a result of action taken last term on a decision that the Freshman Class should do something in the interests of the present war.

The Freshman Class of U. N. B. is the first collegiate group on this campus to take any definite activity in this direction. News of this activity has already been publicized across Canada, giving added prominence to tonight's dance.

McGinn's Orchestra (eight pieces) will supply the music. As this is to be the big effort of the year for the present Freshman Class, the students hope for a large attendance not only from outsiders but also from the University's student body, and particularly from members of the C.O.T.C., since their interest in conditions at the Front is more acute.

Arts Society to Hear McCourt Wed. Night

A banquet for members of the Arts Society will be held next Wednesday at six o'clock in the Goody Shop. The speaker will be Prof. E. A. McCourt of the department of English whose subject will be "Ireland Yesterday and Today." Prof. McCourt was born in Ireland and has travelled extensively in that country.

All members of the society are requested to attend and are urged to be punctual. It is planned to hold more banquets this term at which interesting speakers will be heard.

Debating and A.A.A. Budgets Discussed

The budget was the subject of discussion at the recent Senior Class meeting on Tuesday. Hugh Brennan, president of the class was in the chair.

Considerable discussion was carried on at the beginning of the meeting on the subject of class representation on the S.R.C. since under the present system, the Senior Class has no direct representation on that body.

Items on the budget that received the special attention of the class were Men's Debating and the A. A. A. In the case of the Men's Debating budget it was recommended that the number of the conference delegates to Acadia University be cut down from five to three.

The meeting also voted to cut out the Sun Lamp and Athletic films from the A. A. A. budget.

All Remain in N. F. C. U. S.

BULLETIN:—Dalhousie University withdrew from the C.S.A. last night because it felt that college undergraduates' interest could best be served by the N.F.C.U.S.

Five Canadian universities have severed all connections with the Canadian Students' Assembly during the past two weeks according to reports received by The Brunswickan from the Canadian University Press. These universities are: Mount Allison, U. N. B., University of Saskatchewan, University of Manitoba and the University of British Columbia.

Mount Allison was the first to quit the C. S. A. doing so after delegates Lorne Bell and Angus McClelland to the C. S. A. conference at Ste. Anne de Bellevue declared the conference, "Definitely anti-British, anti-war and anti all those principles which form the basis of our ties with the British Empire."

U. N. B. quit the C. S. A. at a meeting of the S. R. C. last Friday when the following resolution was passed—"Whereas we feel that the interests of the Canadian students can be served adequately through one official national organization.

And whereas we are satisfied that the N. F. C. U. S. is so constituted as to be capable of fulfilling all the necessary functions of such an organization.

And whereas we are not convinced that the C. S. A., is capable of promoting the best interests of the students of this university.

Be it therefore resolved that from this date the S. R. C. of the U. N. B. discontinue its association, such as it has been, with the C. S. A. and support and extend recognition to only the said N. F. C. U. S."

Since the withdrawal of Mount A. and U. N. B. from the C. S. A. the universities of Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and British Columbia have taken similar action. In the Western universities the reasons for withdrawal were that unnecessary duplication exists with membership in the N. F. C. U. S. carrying all the advantage of membership in the C. S. A.

The recommendation has been made at Acadia that that university sever all connections with the C.S.A. at the start of another college year. The withdrawals are said to have so weakened the status of C.S.A. that it can hardly any longer be considered a truly national organization.

Preliminary Budget Meeting, S. R. C. on January 18-19

Discussion on the proposed budgets this term was of so protracted a nature that it was necessary to continue the preliminary budget meeting at a second session.

The first meeting centred around examination of the Hockey and Men's basketball budgets. No reductions in these budgets were made at this meeting, but many suggestions to that end were made
