The Alumnae of the University of New Brunswick, entertained the coeds of the University, as well as members of the Alumnae at their annual tea on Saturday last. The tea was held at the home of Mrs. L. S. Morrison, and the guests were received by Miss Maggie Jean Chestnut and Miss Margaret Anne Morrison. The living room and dining room were bright with autumn flowers. The main table was centred with a basket of bronze chrysanthemums and Tallsman roses, and presided over the first hour by Miss Ethel Thurrott and Miss Zula Hallett and the second hour by Mrs. N. A. M. MacKenzie and Miss Hazen Allen. The members of the Alumnae assisted in serving.

Humpty-Dumpty sat on a wall, Humpty-Dumpty had a great fall And now he's looking forward to a great winter and spring.

Customer: You're sure one bottle will cure a cold?
Assistant: It must sir—nobody's ever come back for a second.

ROUGE ET NOIR

Scoop by "Snoop"

Another week gone by and I'm getting weaker—Nothin' doin' on this campus—But perhaps the Fall Formal will same me from utter oblivion—

No gossip
No snoop—
No snoop
No snoop!
Gee whiz! Do somethin'!

Co-education pays no dividends at U.N.B.—saw three females taking themselves to the show—and on Saturday night, too. Tut, tut, young men!

Lipstick adds zest to the lips of the blonde
In improving all femmes it goes far—
But for the love of Saint Peter and all that is fond
Does it add to the roof of the car.

Kay and I quote "At last I've made an impression on Mickey—"

Saturday—old Gaiety nite—is still slipping. Two's company, three's a crowd.

And so one of those snooty little bridge clubs is again blooming forth. Too bad we couldn't listen in once in a while to know the real meaning of the word gossip.

The shades of night were falling fast,
When for a kiss he asked her
She must have said, "Oh yes my dear,"

'Cause in came Bob Grant.
Have a peanut, Mr. Airforce?
Don't mind if I do, has-been!

Three great men left the campus for Woodstock recently. Their initials are Bunker, Cameron, and Skelton. All came back—tired.

Watch your P's and Q's Sandy. I hear you slipped up on the Fall Formal.

Tsk, tsk, Frannie—is that being fair? Everything was hunky-dory, though, till he Bobbed up.

Dorothy Dix Snoop will attempt to solve any of life's deeper problems, thus revealing another side of his ingenuous nature.

281 York Street,
Freddiesburg,

Dear Snoop:—

I think you are a mean old toe-tramperonner and if I only knew who you are, I wouldn't speak to you any more. If you are as smart as you think you are—maybe you can answer me this—I go with a college boy and he is very nice and all that—but if he only had some hair on his chest—I can't believe that a real man doesn't have hair on his chest. What will I do? I don't want to give him up.

Dilemma

Dear Dilemma:—

Don't be so silly. Every boy can't have hair on his chest. Give him time and they may sprout yet. However that's very doubtful at this stage of the game. Why don't you persuade him to get a rabbit tattooed on — then he'd have at least one hare on his chest.

SNOOP

Definite clue for Snoop-hunters:
Both legs being amputated I walk with a distinct limp.

Love and hisses,
Me

Steel-blue skies. Snap in the air. Pavements ringing with brisk steps. Shoulders back chest out. It's Autumn. A coat sweater in the regulation colors, Scarlet and black—perfect for Autumn. "Thats all and thats that."
