

GOINGS ON

by
JEAN RAMSAY '42

The members of the New Brunswick Legislature were the guests of the Faculty of the University at a luncheon held Friday last in the Ladies' Reading Room, the Ladies' Society catering. Later the visitors were given an opportunity to inspect the Red Cross Society's Blood Bank and the work in the Royal Canadian Air Forces' technical courses.

Shirley Pugh was convenor of the luncheon, and her committee consisted of Jo Rowan, Margaret White, Eileen Crotty, Marion Morrison, assisted by Kay Gale, Frances Murray, Frances McLean, Mary MacLean, Oia Andrews, Barbara VanDine and Sheila Lemont.

Tom Traynor '44 was the guest of honour when the Newman Club of the University was entertained by Mrs. J. L. Neville and Mary Neville '40. Tom, a Sophomore, is leaving the University to join the Redemptorist Order and study for the priesthood.

Paymaster Sub-Lieutenant Gordon Fairweather, R.C.N.V.R. ex '44 has recently been promoted from the rank of Petty Officer to the rank of Paymaster Sub-Lieutenant.

Tom Patterson ex '42 has been elected Vice-President of the Students' Council of Dalhousie University.

Dave Dyer '41, who has been employed by Price Brothers at Dolbeau, Quebec, is spending a few days in Fredericton.

Mary McKenna '41 spent a few days in Fredericton recently.

It was learned authoritatively that George Carr '41 took part in the rescue of survivors from the American destroyer and transport, recently announced as wrecked near St. Lawrence. George is employed as a mining geologist with the St. Lawrence Corporation.

He—Where's my wife?
Street Car Conductor — She's round behind.
He—I know, but where is she?

Wood—Every time I kiss you it makes me a better man.
She—Well, you don't have to try to get to Heaven in one night.

Going from the corn to the sublime we now indulge in a bit of Latin poetry:
Boyibus kissibus sweet girlorum,
Girlibus likibus askum formorum

Back from my vacation after letting the co-eds and the engineers dig up the dirt for a couple of weeks . . . by the way, after Sat nite, I know enough about the bridge builders to bury them all . . . everyone laying claim to the title of "spiritual" adviser . . . Nels winning out however, grabbing both the title and Bap's bottle . . . how does it feel when you're a super-sampler? . . . Sid having a bit of trouble with Henry Ford . . . juicy jokes flying around the rat race . . . that stag line in ambush for Booty . . . and Bop both getting and giving some "pointers" . . . but after all boys an ice pick isn't the most sanitary thing in the world.

When the Residence provides a little tough competition you don't find Chub sitting home and sulking. He learns the Morse Code,— Dot Dot-Dash!

We hear the Air Force is moving in for the week-end, Joyce, Fettes won't like that.

Don't know who he was Mavis, but I liked his looks!

Don't you think, Coot, that you should get a different license plate if you're going to make your "habitat" among the oil tanks.

The Air Force appears to be taking over. He used to see Red, but Watt . . . is he going to do now?

Can it be love that made Connie take her shower with her . . . still on? I guess she had plenty of time to figure it out while she was drying off.

It's my Bet that they have their system of double dating right down Pat. Colin' for the girls together makes the date more Sweet w're told.

Jean, you better get that bell system installed pretty soon if you're gonna stop one guy from sitting on the rail making faces as the other one walks up the path—and on Sunday night too!

"I like you."
"I like you too."

And the Army blew in with a Gale Saturday night.

'Evans sakes! the way these engineers persist in robbing the cradle.

See you at the Con, Kids, and for pete's sake how about a bit of co-operation — a little more action please.

Love and kisses,
