M. I. D. L. HOLDS CONFERENCE AT U. N. B.

Six Colleges Represented As Changes Are Made In League Constitution

Schedule of Debates Drawn Up

U.N.B. welcomed the representatives of six Maritime colleges to her campus on Friday, October 30, when the Maritime Intercollegiate Debating League met. At this conference, the first of an annual series, many changes were made in the League's constitution and a schedule of debates was drawn up.

The following were present at the opening session of the league: Sam Budovitch, President both of the Men's Debating Society of U.N.B. and of this year's conference; Lyman Purnell, also of U.N.B., who acted as secretary; and Delegates Edmund Morris, Dalhousie University, Halifax; Athol Roberts, Acadia University, Wolfville; Spencer Inch, Mount Allison University, Sackville; Richard Murphy, St. Mary's College, Halifax; Finlay MacDonald, St. Francis Xavier Antigonish; John Ryan and Barry Losier, St. Thomas College, Chatham; John MacCallum, U.N.B. The only college in the league that did not send a representative was King's College, Halifax, which, it is feared, will not make use of its membership until after the war.

The President, Sam Budovitch, opened the meeting and on behalf of U.N.B. extended a hearty welcome to the visiting delegates. The most important amendment to the constitution was a change in the method by which the judges should decide the debating contests. Other

I. R. C. MEET IN UNITED STATES

Lyman F. D. Purnell, president of the International Relations Club of the University of New Brunswick, left this evening to attend a conference of such clubs in New England to be held during the next three days at Colby Junior College, New London, New Hampshire. Mr. Purnell will be the only delegate from a Canadian college to attend the conference. Last year five students from U.N.B. attended the conference which was held at Smith's College, Northampton, Mass.

At the Saturday session of the conference Mr. Purnell has been chosen to lead a discussion of the British Empire and its part in the war.

S. R. C. Holds Short Business Meeting

Approval of the Social and War Effort Committees was sought from the S.R.C. at its regular meeting, Friday, October 30. Arnold McAllister presided at the gathering, during which several other business matters were discussed and voted upon.

The Council agreed to the committees as named by Robert Evans, who is chairman of both. The following were appointed to the Social Committee—Eileen Wright, Sheila Lemont, Eileen Crotty, Eric Bell, Malcolm Mackay, James Fettes, Stan Spicer and Albert Clark. Chosen for the War Effort Committee were—Sheila Lemont, Joyce Mavour, Kay Bell, James Fettes, Sandy Gregory, John Landry and Bruce Miller. Evans said that he intended to call his committees together as soon as possible so that they might begin to make plans.

Several defects in the system of policing the gymnasium last year were brought to the attention of the meeting and it was decided that applications for a chief of police would be called for this year and that he would be appointed when the council next met. This chief of police would see to it that members of the staff were at each event that took place in the gym.

A request that the S.R.C. grant an additional sixty dollars to the Brunswickan to be used in action cuts, was refused by the council. A recommendation was passed that such cuts be paid for from the surplus bank account of the paper, and that discrimination be used in obtaining them.

The Council also set aside an amendment to the constitution of the Brunswickan which read that the Managing Editor or Associate Editor be added to the Managing Board of the paper and that the choice should be made by the Board at the beginning of each year. The S.R.C. recommended that the amendment be changed to read that either the Managing Editor, Associate Editor or News Editor should be a member of the Managing Board.

STOP PRESS!

"If students do not show more cooperation on the Brunswickan the paper will still continue to come out late," stated Davidson, at an emergency meeting of the Managing Board last night. "We need more reporters who can be depended upon, present reporters are not

Celebrated Artists Were Heard in City

The University of New Brunswick is to be congratulated on their choice of artists and programs.

Harry Adaskin, violinist and Frances Marr, pianist, appeared in the Normal School Auditorium Tuesday, October 27th, under the auspices of the "College up the Hill."

Although it is over a week since the inspiring recital by one of the foremost Canadian violinist and brilliant pianist, the vivid presentations are still fresh in the minds of those who attended.

Mr. Adaskin commenced his musical career in Canada and has performed abroad in many of the European countries as well as on this continent. His pleasing personality, perfect stage poise and enunciation completely captivated the interest and entranced the listeners when he described the meaning and purpose of music. The comments on the lives of the great composers, whose works he presented that evening, were delightfully entertaining. In his instrumental he displayed excellent technique of a born artist, mastery of his violin and communicated the musicianly feeling to the audience in his interpretations of Beethoven's, Mendelssohn's, Debussy's, Tchaikovsky's, Kreisler's and Hubay's music.

Concerning New Government Regulations

President N. A. M. MacKenzie issued the following statement to the male student body this week.

"Government regulations now provide that University students meet their requirements in respect of two things:

1. Military Training in the University.
2. Academic standards.

In advising the military authorities to leave a student in college or to send him to the training centre, the following will be taken into account:

1. Attendance at C.O.T.C. and U.A.T.C. parades.
2. Attendance and promptness at lectures and laboratories.
3. Satisfactory completion of work assigned, e.g. tests, essays, readings, etc.
4. Mid term reports.
5. Examination results.
6. The opinions of the professors under whom you work.

In brief, if you are absent from parades or lectures or late for either, if you do not do the work assigned you, if you do not pass your examinations or if you do not satisfy the faculty that you are doing good work, you will probably find yourself in the Training Centre before the end of the present academic year.

Reports will go in to the authorities as required but in all cases reports will go in early in the new year.

Senior Engineers Work On Power Plant For U. N. B.

In order that our university may not be without essential lighting facilities at a critical time, Dr. Baird, Professor of Electrical Engineering, has assigned four of his students to the task of building an emergency power plant in the former gymnasium. This work was begun at the end of October and should be completed by the first of March.

The four students are seniors and are doing this service instead of writing thesis, such as is required of them at the end of their fourth year. In addition to installing the equipment they must make full reports on their proceedings and drawings to explain their methods. Much of the job must be done in spare time as the period given to thesis work is much too scanty to allow them to finish.

When the plant has been set up, U.N.B. will have power even if the general current is cut off. Of course, the new plant will not be able to light the entire campus, but it will be able to provide electricity for the laboratories and other important departments.

A large generator, which up till now has been used for purely experimental purposes, will be placed in the basement of the old gymnasium.

Social Com. Plans For Fall Formal

After much debating and mind-changing the members of the committee finally assembled last Tuesday evening at the home of Eileen Wright. Bob Evans, chairman of both committees, was in the chair.

The Sadie Hawkins Dance, scheduled for tonight, was the first subject on the agenda and plans for the dance were soon formed. On a suggestion from Bob Evans the slogan "Girls; if you can't bring your man, bring your dog," was adopted by the publicity department.

Plans were then laid for the Fall Formal. Such items as: decorations, refreshments, etc. were allotted to various members of the committees and it should be "the event" of the term.

Having dispatched these main items, suggestions for other functions of the committees were discussed.

Upon adjournment the traditional tea was not served, and the members had their fortunes told by cards instead.

And so your reporter left them to their "wish and cut" and "beware of a dark man" lest Snoop catch up with him.

Dr. Trueman Resigns As Head Of Mount Allison

S. C. M. Meets At Y. M. C. A. Sunday

The S.C.M. held its meeting last Sunday evening in the Y.M.C.A. rooms. In the absence of the president, the vice-president, Ken Dawson, took charge of the meeting.

After a sing-song, the leader conducted the group in a devotional period, during which several important matters were discussed.

Ken Dawson then told something of his experience at the Conference at Lake Couchiching last summer, and the meeting came to a close after refreshments were served.

showing sufficient interest. This is serious and is causing the paper to come out late. It is the students' paper and yet they show no interest," he said.

The meeting which was held last night was an emergency one, called by Davidson to consider his resignation. Upon being assured that something better could be done, he withdrew his resignation and assured the Managing Board that he would carry on till the end of the term. Pros and cons were also discussed as to the possibilities of publishing the paper on some other day.

Sackville, N. B., Nov. 1—(CUP)—The resignation of Dr. George J. Trueman as President of Mount Allison University was announced at the fall meeting of the Board of Regents of Mount Allison Friday, Oct. 30. Dr. Trueman's resignation will take effect in May, 1943. A committee headed by Dr. W. M. Tweedie was appointed to recommend a successor to the position. The report of the committee will be finalized at a meeting to be held December 1.

Dr. Trueman, in an interview, made it clear that his resignation is a matter of personal principle and is not connected with university matters. "There is no reason," he stated, "except that I have been teaching nearly fifty years. I felt that as far as I was concerned I could make a greater contribution in a less strenuous position."

Dr. Trueman expressed his view that there had to be a change in the University soon in any case. "After this war I am looking forward to the work of the University undergoing considerable revision. There ought to be in the position of President a far-seeing young man who can carry on the work. It would not be consistent with my own principles if I did not retire."

Asked if there were any probable
