HOW TO WRECK ANY SOCIETY

1. Don't come to meetings.
2. But if you do come — come late.
3. If the weather doesn't suit you, don't think of coming.
4. If you do attend find all the faults you can with the officers and other members.
5. Never accept an office as it is easier to criticize than to work.
6. Nevertheless, get sore if you are not put on a committee, but if you are, do not attend committee

Ah, me fine lads and lasses, and who's it going to be this week? Heart palpitations and nervous indigestion coupled with overpowering fear and trembling? Well, skip it! Snoop is going to be nice and gentle and sweet with only a, shall we say, twinge of arsenic? Anyway, if you stupid, dumb so-and-sos would invite somebody to the football games I'd have somethin' to talk about. But don't get smug, dearies, 'cuz Snoop creates conditions and gossip which could embarrass and scare you all! By the way, did you know that Snoop is responsible for the stinkin' weather we are having? Umbrellas make for nice little chummy conversations, you know, and boy! that's my meat.

Who were the co-eds and bunnies that squawked all week about the Budget and then didn't turn up Wednesday night?

Just what is going on, Eileen?

What has Eric got that accelerates recuperation? Words only???

Freshette, freshette, give me your answer true! quotes a certain tall, young freshman. (Advice from Snoop—take your time, bub!)

Won't somebody tell me about the party Monday evening? I've heard, and this is straight from the meetings.

7. If asked by the chairman to give your opinion regarding some important matter, tell him you have nothing to say. After the meeting tell everyone how things should be done.

8. Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary, but when other members roll up their sleeves and willingly, unselfishly use their ability to help matters along, vow that the Association is run in a clique.

10. Don't bother about getting new members. Let the secretary do that.

11. When a banquet is given tell everybody that money is being wasted on big blowouts which make a big raise and accomplish nothing.
