DRIPPINGS from the Editor's Pen

Although this column hasn't been very active in predicting coming events, we feel quite sure that we are not going out on the limb when we say that there will be a covered rink here within the next few years. We also feel proud that this University is going to have a rink that will be the best in this province, if not in Eastern Canada.

The reason we feel so sure of all this is because the recently appointed committee for the rink has shown such enthusiasm and has presented plans with a great deal of foresight. After viewing the new constitution we wish to congratulate the originators of the plan and all those who have helped to lay the foundation.

With such a long term proposition as the building of a rink, results do not show well at first. Years will undoubtedly pass before the first sod is turned and the cement is mixed. Present students will be a memory before the first hockey game is played in the new Arena and unfortunately, the college will be a memory for the greater portion of the present students.

One of the major drawbacks of a college is the lack of continuity among the student body. Faces and dispositions change. Interests vary from year to year and from class to class. The need for a rink may become confused with some other need which will seem important to students on the campus.

With such a situation a liability, the students of today will have to keep in close touch with the students of tomorrow if their ambition is to be the success it promises to be. The life executive of the present Senior Class will have to regard their positions, not as sinecures but as jobs with a real purpose. The graduating classes for the next few years will have to be in close contact with each other and with the college. The positive will have to be accentuated.

STUFF 'N' THINGS

With Co-ed Week gone by the board females can once more settle down and their opposites can regain their composure and control of affairs up the hill. Undoubtedly all will agree that the girls did a smart job leaving many surprised and amazed collegians wondering what week it was. The Bunnies carried on in traditional style with signs proclaiming qualities varied and sundry, with Rod Mowatt's placard featuring the Lily White League being the most outstanding. Well, maybe our opinions do differ. The sleigh ride produced many thrills and spills, as did the coed hockey contest, tough on varsity. Can't vouch for Dance or Sat. nite dates as we missed out on same, but rumor has it the last two days were keeping with the rest of the week.

Perhaps you have never thought of yourselves before as you progress thru the various classes of university life, but doesn't our following comment strike a familiar note:

Frosh: Wonder WHAT you are.
Soph: Wonder what you are DOING.

Junior: Wonder what you are doing WITHOUT.

Senior: Wonder what you are doing without an EDUCATION. . . think about it awhile and it's probable you will agree.

By press-time every student will know about the FUNFROM, that special unique entertainment being sponsored by the Juniors under the able guidance of chairman John Lawrence. Surprises galore have been promised and with the clever advertising campaign already in evidence, seems as tho the FUNFROM is to be a bang-up show. On the weekend of the Tournament the 45ers come out of hiding with the Basketball. The title is apt, and the seniors are apt to give all patrons a really sharp dance. Speaking of entertainment, Varsity basketballers have been tolling the praises of the officers and men of No. 4 Repair Depot, R.C.A.F. for the hospitality shown them over the weekend. As well as being a clever basketball team the airmen at Scoudouc are gracious and entertaining hosts. The team spent Sat. nite at the R.C.A.F. station as guests of the air force and they hope to be able to repay in kind when Scoudouc plays here March 3.

Coed Week produced a bit of humor that might be interesting to others. There weren't many on hand to see the horse frightened by Marg Vince and Scoop Gammond one afternoon during THE week. Far from us passing any comments on the cause, but in any case the horse with log-laden sled attached ended up in a snowbank on College Hill Road.

Crack-of-the-week: Fran McLean sitting in Residence Lounge reading a newspaper while waiting for her date was unperturbed when the Major asked:

"Well, are you here to see me, Miss McLean?"
Laconically Fran replied, "Not until I pass my Freshman math."

Our attention was called to the fact that we inadvertently referred to the Dramatic Society as the War Effort Committee in a recent column. Sorry, people, but we'll see the eye specialist at his earliest convenience.

And this one we just can't let go by; that is the meaning of the abbreviation C. C. C. . . . but of course any cec knows it means Co-ed Choral Club. However, another interpretation is Choral Conservation Club.

Always the dullness of the fool is the whetstone of the wits.

Whatcha doin?
Jis sittin.
Nothin' to do?
Plenty to do.
Thinkin' whatcha Gonna do?
No. Thinkin' could Lead to doin.
So I'm Jis sittin.

— McGill.

Little Boy: "Mother do they have bridges in heaven?"
His Mother: "No dear, it takes engineers to build bridges."

Are You Writing Regularly?

"Write often, keep the family bonds strong enough to cross the Atlantic, send pictures of the family, neighbours and street. Pictures warm the hearts of men away from home. Fill your letters with the homely, everyday happenings that make your soldier know he is still part of the home."

The Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill.
