Co-eds Lose to Acadia

Last Friday in the first game of a home and home series, the co-eds played Acadia on their floor.

U.N.B., though greatly weakened by the loss of Marj Barberie, one of their best players, out because of an eye injury, and further handicapped by the unfamiliar gym, fought gamely but bowed to the superior playing of the Acadians.

The Acadia co-eds took the lead early in the game and were able to hold it throughout. The Acadia team played a good game and used long shots to the best advantage.

Eileen Chapman was top scorer for Acadia, with 16 points. Jean

McKay was next with 14, while Margie Robb accounted for 13 points.

Captain Mary Murray for U.N.B. got 7 points and Mavis DeLong and Jackie Pickard followed closely with 6 and 5 respectively.

The lineups were as follows:
Acadia — F. Rogers, J. MacKay, 14, B. Kinley, M. Robb 13, E. Chapman 16, L. Troope, N. Grant, K. MacKay, I. Trenholm.

U.N.B. — M. DeLong 6, M. Murray 7, E. McLaggan 2, B. Page 3, J. Pickard 5, M. Morrison, B. Law, B. Dougherty, G. Harquail.

Moose Miller Stars

Tradition was upheld on Monday night as the co-eds mopped up the ice with the faculty to the tune of 5-2. Although hampered by numbers, there being 1.67 co-eds to 1.00 faculty, the girls played an astonishing game. During the first period, action centred around Stay-At-Home Ryan. Every time the fast moving co-ed line of Dynamite DeLong, Pouncer Pinder and Prancer Page, lead by Captain Murray, took the puck up the ice, Ryan figured up the muscle contractions per second required to deflect the puck, and sent it back. However, Murray decided that if she was fast enough she could get past him while he was still in the latest period before treppe or contracture could show their effects. The reward was the first score of the game—for the co-eds. Unfortunately, Well-Fed McCourt went to town for the last couple of minutes and scored two goals making it 2-1 for the Faculty at the end of the first period.

After due warning from Killslime Wright's son to "Change" goals, the second period started. The Faculty ganged up on the puck, formed a circle around it to edge it down the ice. Bungling Baileman saw through the plot, dashed wildly among them, and dispersed the weird circle like acid disperses a colloidal suspension. Seeing their chances, Little Miss Moffett and Booby-Prize Morrison came in to decoy the puck to the other end—Moose Miller showed the best manners among the faculty as after tripping Morrison, he politely helped her up. But Tiny Moore and Well-Fed McCourt got nasty with the result that Pouncer Pinder and Navy Bell fell in a heap on the ice. As the sterling referees sent McCourt to the penalty box, the latter repented of his misdeeds, and was heard to mutter: "All the perfume of Arabia will not sweeten this little hand? During this period, the co-eds got two scores, not saying how.

In the third period, Prancer Page came into prominence as she continuously broke up faculty plays and was bashed by Hoberi Habeeb. Knowing the score was 4-2 against him, Moose Miller began computing the spherical indicatrix of the surface of the ice, but Dazzling DeLong, our mathematical wizard, proved it didn't matter anyway as she dropped the puck over the back of the net much to Barney's surprise. At this time Defetpsman Dougherty had the bright idea of sitting in front of the goal, and Killslime Wright couldn't get around her. The referee happened to blow the whistle marking the end of the game after which Habeeb, with a desperate attempt at regaining the prestige of the faculty, barged the puck into Daring Duff's eye. The attempted reconciliation between these two was worth hearing as was

Varsity Trims Acadia

In the Acadia gymnasium on last Friday night U.N.B. handed the Axemen a defeat to the tune of 36-22.

The game started off well but it soon became evident that U.N.B. had the superior team and that the Acadia team was playing a losing game. Acadia however tried hard and went down fighting.

The game was a bit rough in spots and Captain Jerry Lockhart suffered an injury to his ankle. Jerry and Rogers of the Acadia team tied for top scoring honours each accounting for 14 points. Manzer for Acadia got 6 points and Corey the remaining 2.

For U.N.B. Garland and Mitton each had 8 while Owens and McClintock got 4 and 2 respectively.

U.N.B. regrets that Acadia won't be able to come for a second game this time in our gym.

Lineups:
Acadia — Manzer 6, Rogers 14, Morton, Corey 2, J. Adams, Algie, K. Adams, McWilliams.
U.N.B. — McClintock 2, Elgee, Garland 8, MacDiarmid, Lockhart 4, True, Mitton 8, Owens 4.

The second period was almost a repetition of the first in style of play with St. Thomas being a little stronger in this session as both squads accounted for three markers. Stewart opened the scoring with a beautiful unassisted goal on a rush from his own blueline, and the smooth skating centremen made no mistake as he went in to beat Bourque cleanly.

McEachern got this one back in two minutes, taking a pass from Collins, the handy Chatham pivot man. He skated to the goal mouth to flip the puck to the corner for the Saints second goal of the game.

St. Thomas again chalked up a score with Collins this time doing the honors to bring the count 4-2. Big Dale Wade, brilliant defenceman, who also played a great game offensively, contributed the next bit of excitement for the Red and Black supporters who thronged through the rink, by breaking fast from his own blueline to split the Green and White defence and whipped the disc home.

Simpson completed the scoring for U.N.B. on a pass from veteran Bell, and McKenna battled in the

BOWLING

Tomorrow afternoon the Bowling League opens its playoff schedule, with three sudden-death games to be played. Mesquiteers vs. Freshmen, Sophs vs. Joy Riders and Wildcats vs. Roughriders.

Last Saturday Mesquiteers clinched first place by sweeping all four points from the Freshmen, even though anchor-man George McClintock was away with the basketball team. Walter Ross, Doug Ryan, and Fred Cuning all went big for the Mesquiteers, while Ghern Wheeler continued to supply most of the power for the Freshmen. The Sophs stumbled through to take three points from the Joy Riders in a close game, and these two teams should have a hot game again tomorrow. Frank Hoigan and Bill McKinnon were the Sophs' big guns, while Wally Hatfield and Bud Fairley sparked the Joy Riders. The Wildcats spilled the Roughriders for three points, and are being favored to win tomorrow. Reid of the R.C.A.F., guesting on the

Co-ed Ping Pong

Not to be outdone by the boys, the co-eds have organized a ping pong tournament. The interested girls submitted their names and drew partners. The draw stands as follows.

J. Pickard, K. Bell; E. McLaggan, S. Kinney; M. Murray, L. Stevens; B. Bateman, B. Page; M. Morrison, B. Law.

In the games played so far J. Pickard and E. McLaggan have eliminated their opponents. They in turn played off and J. Pickard emerged victorious.

The rest of these games are to be played as soon as possible, and our Co-ed ping pong champ will be announced in a later Brunswickan.

DOUBLE HEADER TONIGHT

Tonight promises to be memorable in Basketball history. Mount Allison co-eds meet U.N.B. co-eds and Mount A. boys tangle with U.N.B.'s varsity quintet at 7.15 in the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium.

Not very much definite information can be gathered about Mount Allison's teams but Coach Howie Ryan is confident that both his teams will "do him proud". The boys team hope to add another victory to their collection which has been piling up so rapidly.

The co-eds will be without one of their strongest players, Blanche Law, who will be unable to play for a while due to an injury sustained in the last home game. However their snappy centre, Marjorie Barberie, will be back in there tonight and the co-eds are also hoping for a victory.

These games will really be worth seeing so how about a really big turnout! Let's see everyone there at seven to cheer the kids on.

Girls Lineups:
Mt. A. — M. Godfrey, B. Shaw, M. MacDonald, O. Garland, M. Coates, H. Anderson, H. Hawkins, L. Marshall, J. Cummings.

Women in

We have all heard many times in the last few years that the position of women will be greatly changed as a result of the war, that the hitherto closed professions will be open to women; that a woman doing the same job as a man will receive the same rate of pay, and that a married woman will be able to work outside her home if she wishes. Charwomen and scrubwomen have always been accorded that privilege!

Certainly the magnificent jobs that women have done and are doing in this war will affect their position in a measure, but not in my opinion as materially as some people think unless women singly and in groups are prepared to dig their toes in and refuse to allow themselves to be pushed back to their pre-war position.

Let us make no mistake about it: women have done a magnificent job. There are over one million women working now, with over 260,000 in war industries alone. They are in the shipyards, in industry. I saw one of the shipyards in Nova Scotia. I saw women working as riveters working in the factories, in business as welders, handling huge travelling cranes with ease and dispatch. I saw some women cleaning out the under holds, a job that few people men or women relish, and working all day, an eleven hour day, in cramped positions with the bolt and nut gangs. In that yard they received equal pay for equal work.

In Ottawa and other centres women are holding high administrative positions and are contributing first rate technical knowledge and organizing ability. In fact I can state with authority that the consensus of opinion of employers and managers all over Canada, is that women have shown that they can do as good a days work as a man in fact in some cases, better, and that they can hold and administer positions of great responsibility.

However after the war the story will be different, and it is likely that
