ENGINEERING DAY

By BUS—'48.

With the departure of the "visiting firemen" as Col. Grant, (President of the Engineering Institute of Canada) and his party had been dubbed after their pyrogenetic luncheon at D-Coy Inn, the U. N. B. Engineering Society, taking advantage of the spirit of the day, held their second meeting of the year in the theatre of Alexander College last Thursday night.

A concentrated and provocative advertising campaign by talented artist Marshall Howard drew more than 140 potential engineers to hear President Johnny Holm's address of welcome. The special welcome to the Freshmen engineers, in whose interest the meeting was primarily held, was well received as was evidenced by the big round of applause from that group alone.

To make the feeling of comradeship more evident among the members, red cards bearing Civil and Electrical crests complete with name spaces, were distributed to the boys by Myles and Busby, who were attentively followed by pin-boys Bond and MacIntyre. The meeting then proceeded under the capable direction of the Secretary-Treasurer, Larry Moffard.

Moffard, in telling of the aims and plans of the Society, waxed eloquent when referring to the real reasons and basic purposes of organization. It was with Larry's introduction of Johnny Busby that the (very slight) initiation of the Freshmen Engineers got under way.

Finally the Freshmen were in turn introduced to the Executive.

Cigarettes having been passed around. Johnny Holmes again took the chair, paving his way through a blue haze which filled the air after which the business meeting was begun. Much discussion as to whether a smoker or social evening would be in order for the ensuing meeting was finally culminated by a vote in which the latter was found to be the more popular.

The Freshmen rose to the fore by showing their interest in having excursions to various centers of Engineering interest such as the Minto Coal Fields and the New Brunswick Breweries at Saint John. A committee was accordingly set up to investigate the possibilities of such ventures.

The subjects under discussion were:

(1) The affiliation of the Radio Club with the Engineering Society;

(2) The extension and expansion of the Engineering Stores:

(3) The possibility of obtaining a recreation room on the campus;

(4) The appointment of a reporter from the ranks of the Freshmen;

(6) Ideas for future meetings.

A definite conclusion as to the action to be taken upon these matters was not reached as the Executive was interested mainly in sowing the seeds of the ideas with the hope that during future meetings, opinions expressed would be those borne of thought and not of hasty decision.

The business meeting having been poilshed off, monies, which had been procured by Moffard, were shown The most interesting reel was from Imperial Oil dealing with all preliminary geologic investigation necessary in the never-ending search for oil.

To top off a very successful evening refreshments were served to all. Doug Cooke said he wasn't thirsty when the milk was passed.

This meeting of the Engineering Society showed just what could be done with and for an interested group. It is obvious that the nucleus has been loomed around which the Engineering Society shall rise to a high position among the campus organizations.

"We have been rusting on our Laurels!—let this year's Engineering Society leave its mark in the annals of U. N. B.'s Engineering Fame, said a Senior Engineer summing up prospects for his club this year.

C.O.T.C. Applications

In order that we may assess as soon as possible the number of vacancies required by Corps for the UNB contingent may any students contemplating applying for enrolment complete the required application form and hand it in to the C. O. T. C., orderly room, Hut No. 7, Alexander College by Saturday, 1 Nov. -47.

Applications will be accepted after that date up to 15 Jan, -48, but early applicants will get first consideration.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT!

Unjustified criticism was directed at the S. R. C. in the last issue of the Brunswickan.

Mr. Yeomans, who is president of the Junior Class, implied in his brief letter to the Junior Class that the governing body of the students was not taking steps to implement its own ruling with regards to students' wives being admitted on students' passes. I might suggest to Mr. Yeomans that the reasons for not issuing the passes to the wives until November 4 were explained to him by the S. R. C. and that he carefully ignored such explanations in his open letter, thus leaving the entire student body with a false impression.

In reply to Mr. Yeomans' attack I might say that it is not, nor has it ever been considered, the intentions of the S. R. C. to withhold from the student body those privileges granted them. To Mr. Yeomans, the S. R. C. President explained fully that it would be impossible to stamp passes for students' wives, because we did not have the equipment available and will not have it until November 4. Our system for keeping a strict check of passes this year has been much improved. The Students' Representative Council does not wish to jeopardize the student body by issuing passes freely and haphazardly to any student who suggests to the S. R. C. that he has a wife and that he would like the privilege to be granted immediately.

Her lips quivered as they approached his. His whole frame trembled as he looked into her eyes. Her chin vibrated and his body shuddered as he held her close. The moral of this is: Never kiss a girl in a jeep with the engine running.

Thought for Today.

College bred is made up of the flower of youth and the dough of old age.

Bouquets to the newly organized Radio Club! From all reports it has only had a few meetings but has become very active indeed. For you to answer when you present your constitution to the S. R. C. for approval: Do you wish to be annexed to another organization, i. e. The Engineering Society (if they'll have you) or do you want to pilot your own boat?

Gripe and Tripe.
A Compromise.

The S. C. M. claim they should have been included among the great organizations on the campus. We agree. The Newman Club maintains they should be included among the top organizations. We heartily concur! Total number of great organizations on the campus to date: eight.

U-Y Wants Co-eds

"But where are the co-eds?" was the momentous question which was unanimously shouted by a large gathering of hopeful U. Y. members.

The cause of this sudden outburst on an otherwise peaceful Sunday evening was brought about by a conscientious (?) gentleman who had asked that since there was nothing in the constitution to prevent it, why weren't there members of the opposite sex enrolled in U. Y. He added that it was of his opinion that girls might liven up the U. Y. meetings somewhat, which point was quickly agreed upon by the other members. After much wild clamoring and very little discussion, practically all the gentlemen, voted to welcome all co-eds who might be so intelligent as to wish to belong to such an organization.

With the announcement that the induction service for all new mem-

RADIO CLUB WORK SHOP NOW OPEN

Plans for a ham station, code classes, theory classes were on the agenda at Tuesday night's radio club meeting.

It was announced that the workshop rooms in Hut 38 are ready for use. This means that club members will have a place to work on their gear, test circuits, and work with other members. Although at present the radio club owns neither test equipment nor tools, generous members have decided to leave theirs in the rooms for mutual use. Interested hobbyists need not feel hampered by lack of tools.

The rooms will be open for use at all times; regular club meetings will be announced and will be held in the Alexander College Theatre.

Numerous money-making plans were discussed and it was decided to hold a dance in the near future.

Under capable charge of Ben Adey and Bill Aubin, supports for two 40-foot aerial poles are ready and a good antenna should be up by Saturday.

The evening ended with some very interesting films on the X-ray tube, sodium vapor lamp, the occupational opportunities in radio, and several others.

The club is open for any student interested in radio. The next meeting will be announced on the bulletin boards.
