INTERWAILS

Next Friday is the date for Interwails. One dollar is the fine. There are short stories of jazz, gambling and seduction. There are moods of introspection. There is poetry that has a coy implication to it, or gruff frankness, or starkness.

Interwails is not a joke — it is a collection of prose and verse valuable in quality and effort. It is unique — it is student, UNB, and something more than them. And, in Interwails you can be sure that each word is printed as the author would have it. Such is not always the case. Even as I write these words I know that the damn Brunswickan staff will take their usual egoistic approach and nievely assuming that they can correct what they cannot comprehend, will begin to mispell the words and deboocho the grammar, sicken the stile, and obscure the meaning of every sentence — especially this one. However, I am resigned to this. It will be enough if you know when Interwails is coming out. (ED.: Another "debut"? That it will cost a dollar and why it is worth much more.

■ A gallery: fourteen young, successful, but not necessarily complacent people. ■ A panel: What six young politicians think and do about politics. ■ A short story: Ring Around October, by Adrienne Poy. ■ A look at "the middle-aged young": by Peter Gzowski, a reporter their own age, who finds a new restlessness among a small but growing group who are bored by easy success.

There's something special about du MAURIER

says FRED DAVIS
TV's top panel moderator

"As a du MAURIER smoker, I know what satisfaction means. It's the feeling I get when I light up a du MAURIER and taste that choice Virginia tobacco. And the "Millecel" super filter is the finest yet developed."

The trend today... is to
