Is there a chance that a NUS referendum will be up in the near future?

James Murray, newly elected president of the Student Union, plans to meet with executives of the SRC and fieldworkers of NUS to discuss the possibility of holding a referendum for the reason, he states, is because he feels that the students do not get their money's worth belonging to NUS. What he like to see is, instead of taking $1.00 from each student, giving this to NUS to put to use all the students across Canada wants to take the same $1.00 keep it here to use for better clubs and organizations on campus. He feels that students would personally benefit more if this were the case.

Upon being asked what his impressions were on being council, Murray stated the major issues were facing union at present and that spending most of his time information gathering. He attended a Senate meeting has had a meeting with De Students, Barry Thompson.

Hildebra

On Wednesday former cou Alan Hildebrand told the wickan that he had 635 sign on his petition asking the SRC to reconsider the motion which defeated concerning student

The motion was intended recognize the SRC fees as optional. The motion failed close vote.

The constitution specifies petition of 10 percent of student body forces the SRC reconsider the motion question. Should the SRC change their minds at the meeting, the constitution specifies that a further petition of 5 percent of the students will force a referendum within 2 weeks.

Asked what he thought the would do this week with petition he said that "It remains to be seen".
