

Keptos explains opposition to Cassano

by CINDY CAMERON

Dean of Arts, Peter Keptos signed a petition opposing Dr. Paul Cassano's running for the Presidential position at UNB for personal reasons, and was not representing the entire Faculty of Arts.

"I was not representing anyone within the Faculty. I signed the petition because I believe in the statement the petition represents", he said.

In an interview Wednesday, Dr. Keptos added that Dr. Cassano does not fit the position as President of UNB, mainly because he is lacking in the necessary qualifications, and doesn't have a strong enough c.v. at the present. Given more time, he would eventually suit the position. He said he feels that "many other have stronger vitas, but that depends on how one perceives them. At the present I do not think he has the background experience for president of the university."

But what about the faculty and the students. Doesn't this affect them in some way?

"There's a negative feeling here. The faculty and the students have a very low morale at the moment. They sense something hanging over their heads, because the issue is causing various things to slow down on campus", said Dr. Keptos.

At an Arts Council Meeting last week, Dr. Keptos explained he did indeed sign the petition, and he also went on to give his explanations as to why: "Cassano is not my choice for the Presidential position".

Dr. Keptos suggested Dr. Condon would make an excellent president.

"The man has energy, charm, a good track record, and very good public relations skills. Unfortunately he never had the chance in the 'Bear Pit'.

A presidential candidate is given a chance to prove himself worthy to this esteemed position by publicly meeting the students and faculty.

Dr. Keptos said he believes if Dr. Condon had been given this chance as Dr. Cassano had, we would have a president by now.

The whole issue is upsetting to all concerned and Dr. Keptos said it "is an annoyance, and innocent people are going to get hurt by the whole process."

Physicists to meet

Feats of daring and skill in earl Walker's presentation, "The Flying Circus of Physics" will highlight the Atlantic Under graduate Physics Conference, being held here on the weekend of October 12-14.

Among Dr. Walker's stunts will be lying on a bed of nails, being smashed by a student-wielded sledge hammer, swallowing liquid nitrogen and exhaling the vapours, and chopping up concrete blocks with his bare hands. All is not magical and mystical, however, as Dr. Walker's stunts are merely hammed up demonstrations of physical principles and phenomenon.

The conference, AUPC-79, is being organized for the first time by the UNB Physics Society. Physics students from all over the Atlantic provinces are expected to attend the two-day event.

Aside from Dr. Walker's presentation the conference agenda includes a talk on nuclear waste management by University of Western Ontario Geology Department Chairman Dr. William S. Fyfe, student papers, tours of UNB and other local research labs, guest speakers, and a Chinese buffet. Closing the conference will be a talk by UNB Physics Professor Emeritus Dr. Theo Weiner on the (political) atmosphere in Germany in 1933, at which time he was a physics student there.

Both Dr. Walker's and Dr. Fyfe's presentations will be open to the public, as part of the Physics Department's Open House. Both will be held in the MacLaggan Hall Auditorium, with admission to the 7:30 p.m. Friday Flying Circus event being by free ticket, available from the SUB, the Physics Department, or Westminster Books on King Street. Tickets will not be needed for Dr. Fyfe's talk at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Those interested in registering for the conference can contact the Physics Society at 453-3571. Those interested in the tours and demonstrations being planned for the Open House can contact the Physics Department at 453-4723.

CONSTITUTION COMMITTEE

Recommended changes to the By-Laws and Regulations. These changes are discussed by Council. The question of electing the Vice-President at the Fall election along with the other executive members is discussed. Bartlett suggests that this is a good idea and talks about the lack of continuity and efficiency with the former Vice President's. Some members disagree with this suggestion. Speeding on Campus has become a problem. The University is considering putting speed bumps to alleviate this problem. The Student Directory is almost ready to go to the printers. It should be available to students within a month. Bev Doherty and Sherry Elderkin have missed three consecutive meetings of council without valid excuse therefore according to the Constitution they are expelled from Council.
