

Pornography film well received

UNB stepped right into the middle of a national controversy, Tuesday night when the National Film Board production, "Not a Love Story" was shown on campus. Over 1,000 people showed up at Tilley Hall and the auditorium was packed by 6:30 p.m. This necessitated two more showings later in the evening at Tilley and MacLaggan Halls. The high turnout at UNB received national press coverage.

The film, a documentary about the pornography industry in Canada, has some very explicit scenes. It shows just what the strip tease acts, live sex shows, magazine photography sessions, and violent pornographic short films are like. Feelings of the women involved, a magazine publisher, and of various men and women opposed to pornography are all expressed.

Even though the film is intended to be informative, involving thought and discussions, and is not entertainment; censors in Ontario and various other provinces are coming down heavily on it. Executive Producer, Kathleen Shannon, at UNB on Wednesday, said, "Our intention was to examine an issue that affects all our lives."

"Not a Love Story" was produced by the National Film Board's studio D, which provides a forum for women filmmakers and their concerns. Its main objective is to bring a woman's perspective to social issues and to act as a catalyst for social change through the mediums of film.

Due to the high turnout for the film it will be screened next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 7:30 in Tilley 102.

Carnival in planning stage

Preparations have been started to make this year's winter carnival a success. The executive have been busy planning and arranging events that they hope will include all students of UNB.

The winter carnival will be held from January 13 - 16. We feel the early date will allow students to be able to participate without the pressure of mid terms.

The carnival executive want this to be the best ever and invite ideas and input from all students at the general meeting Monday, November 16 at 7 p.m. in Tilley 303.

The members of this year's executive are: Kevin Harrigan, Chairman; Nancy Forbes, Vice-Chairman; Judith Rogers, Secretary; Susan Lynch, Public Relations; Kathy Anne Woodford, Residence Liaison.

CARAVAN sale next week

World University Service of Canada will present CARAVAN, an international handicraft sale and exhibition, in the Sub Blue Lounge starting Tuesday Nov. 17 to Thursday and will be open daily from 9 am to 4 pm.

CARAVAN features a wide selection of handicrafts rich in tradition and beautiful in design. CARAVAN products are hand crafted originals made by cooperatives and self-help organizations around the world and in Canada.

CARAVAN is sponsored by the World University Service of Canada, a non-profit organization composed of faculty, students, administrators, and alumni concerned with the issues of international development.

Chatterbox

There seems to be an awfully short professor running around 3rd floor of Marshall d'Avray. Have any of you seen him lately?

Would B.D. please come to the Bruns and pick up his playboy magazines.

Doug M. that bear never got up and walked away.

Aitken likes to give McLeod girls showers.

Mike D., was that fat lip you had on Monday really the result of Saturday night's hockey game?

P. Murray was sure dancing up a storm Tuesday evening.

Kathleen W., is it really true that you got some of the girls from Tibbits kicked out of the Arms . . . breaking glasses?

Susan T. the happy hooker wants to hire you.

R. Adams, McAdams Funeral Parlour is interested in buying that coffin you have in back of your trunk.

Rod, J.F.'s and J.R.'s kitchen is closed at 2 a.m., try Luna for a pizza.

Here's one for the girls! We have reason to believe that the tree in front of Aiken House has been occupied by nude Aitken bodies.

T.C.L., hope you enjoyed reviewing that porno film for the Bruns . . . but you better cool down a little before you write on it.
