The anguish over the loss of Ben Johnson's gold medal has.....AAAAAARRRRRGH!!! (In a supreme feat of self control our editor manages to avoid the insidious malady that has afflicted most media across the land: "The Ben Fixation")...Whew, that was close!

I'm impressed folks! Varsity Mania's first attempt at promoting UNB varsity sports has been a success. Last Saturday's soccer game had over five hundred people attend, and five hundred enthusiastic people at that! I think that Carl Burgess has done a fantastic job in putting Varsity Mania together and I hope that this success continues. As an added bonus, our guys, the UNB Red Shirts, beat UPEI 2-0. They are a good soccer team and continued fan support at the games will only make them better. Wouldn't it be nice to have a bit of school spirit around here for a change? Now's your chance UNB! See you at the next game...

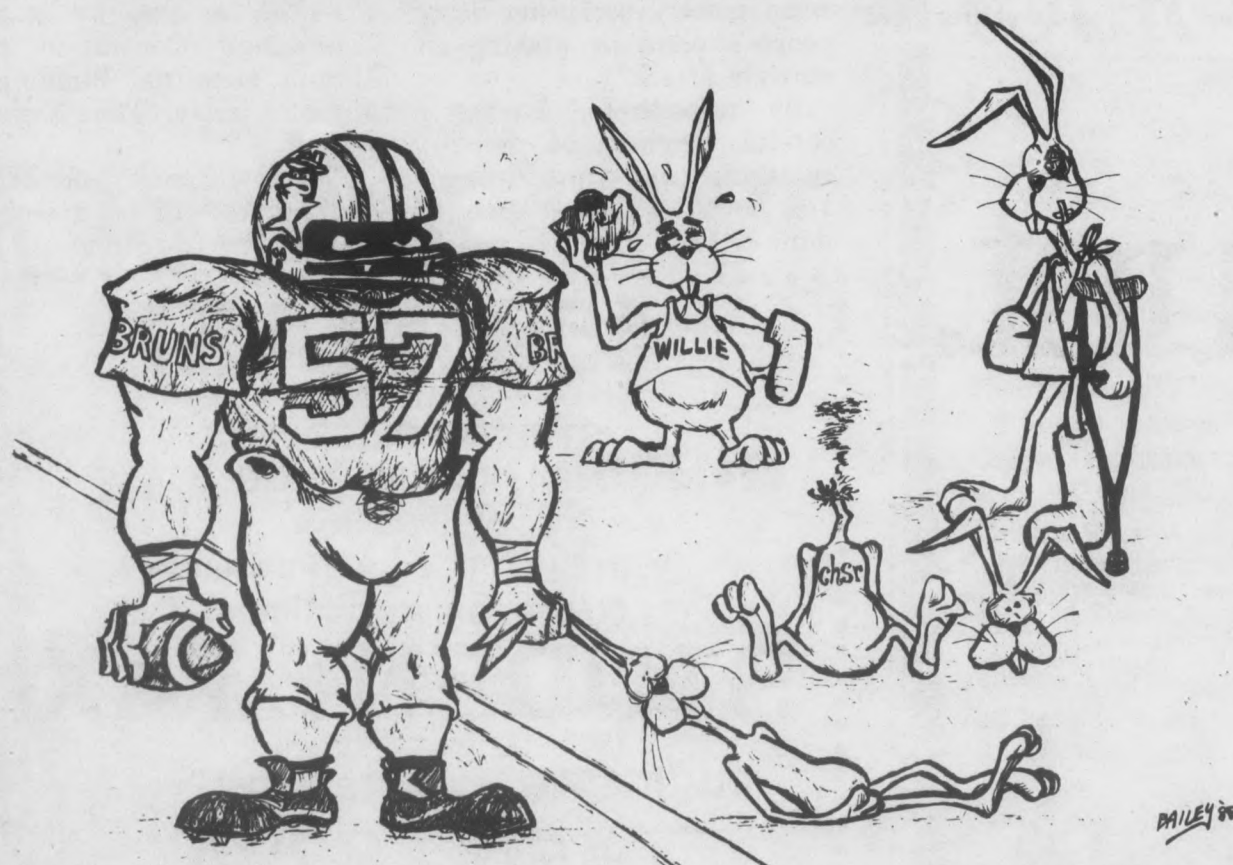

If you did go to last Saturday's game you probably noticed who seems to be becoming a new mascot: the SMART PACC PIG. That's right! Now you can see a life size version of everybody's favorite "liquor pig" leading the cheers at all major UNB events. Don't despair though, we at The Bruns have been in touch with the cartoonist that does "Mr. Jones" and it seems that the lounge lizard is just itching for another shot at the pig.

And one last word to CHSR Prepare to eat turf on the 15th!

This week's feature seeks to deal with a rather touchy subject: date rape. The articles presented here are hardly conclusive but rather seek to begin to explore the whole issue of male aggression and the dynamics of male/female communication especially in the context of social dating. If the articles effectively stir you up to respond, then they would have succeeded in what they were meant to do. At the same time, the writings attempt to suggest that it is time for some dialogue on this issue, an issue that is rooted firmly in the whole question of communication. Uzo just completed his doctorate in English here at UNB and does some teaching in the English Department. Pam is currently completing her Masters in English at UNB. We welcome their boldness to contribute to the discussion on this issue.

Mugwump BY Journal

Another Friday, another Mugwump, another author. What miserable things shall be said about deserving people?

From the how low can you go department: The Editor of the Bruns wanted me to write this, because he wants to stack the Bruns team, again, for the media bowl. Rumour has it he has even asked the Brunswickan ageless wonder Bill "That's Sir Slime to you" Traer to be the official game ball.

What in the hell does Mugwump mean? If you think you know the answer to this question then send your solution to Room 35 of the SUB. You may win valuable prizes, but knowing how cheap the editor is, probably not.

Announcing the first annual SUB Scavenger Hunt. The rules are very simple - just collect the following items and win absolutely everything you never really wanted.

1. A Molson's Rock banner that has the word "details" on it.
2. One portable wall.
3. One electronic signboard.
4. One broken radio that is set to CHSR.
5. One Brunswickan that has been used for kitty litter.
6. One autographed photo of John Bosnitch in the SUB.
7. A list of all rooms that AIESEC has had in the SUB.
8. The last chair from Singer Hall (Ross still wants it returned).

Good news. Bambi season is less than one month away.

Tragic news hit the Bruns office Monday. The body of Hittler Kitty was found in a flat condition late Sunday night. Foul play is suspected by the police in the death of last years' popular write in candidate. In the press release the police say they found a goalie stick and a broom at the scene of the crime.

Word of the Week: Stagnant - motionless or inactive. Please see Physical Plant.

Thought for the Week: The only good bunny is a dead bunny.

And now for the obligatory Ben Johnson comment: hey, he's just a runner, eh! Why the big hype?
