

SON OF A HORE OF A SCOPE

Luscious Ginnis

ARIES (March 21 – April 19):
Mars and Pluto are still called Mars and Pluto and nothing has changed in your life either nor will it anytime soon.....loser.

TAURUS (April 20 – May 20):
Someone of authority is going to make you feel like shit today. They'll do it again tomorrow, and maybe even the next day. Just remember that somebody thinks you're an asshole too.

GEMINI (May 21 – June 20):
Your lover doubts your sexual prowess; they're holding out on you and probably complaining to their friends as well. A Richard Nixon mask and a carrot sticking out of your ass should take care of everything.

CANCER (June 21 – July 22):
Calm the hell down, you're scaring the kids.

LEO (July 23 – Aug. 22):
Oh good! Away from the mirror for five seconds, I see. That book you were going to start writing, ya well, don't bother, you're about as deep as the paper your reading this off of and your intuition is only a close second. But hey, you look good.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 – Sept. 22):
Sure that first aid course you skipped and saved thirty bucks on last month could have helped save those six people in that horrible gardening accident. But we don't think you're cheap; we admire your thriftiness. Telling everyone that you had saved them and that they died later because of someone else is pretty shitty and we think you're a walking piece of human apathy scum. Maybe you should stay home more - that way you'll save money and less people will hate you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 – Oct. 22):
Hey, that rhymes with zebra.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 – Nov. 21):
The two planets most closely associated with your birth sign are Pluto and Mars. Astrological scientists speculate that the two planets will collide near the earth causing it to plummet into the fiery hell of the sun where all humanity will die burning slowly as we drift closer to the agonizing inferno. Bang up job there Scorpio. I hope you're proud of yourself. Why don't you go buy yourself something nice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 – Dec. 21):
Everything seems to be pissing you off lately, including the fact that you're ugly. This probably stems from a lack of sex. Sure, your forearm is powerful, but you gotta go tear a piece off soon or you're gonna go squirrely (animal sex). Maybe try someone with a self-esteem problem; they'll do anything and they like to cuddle a lot. Remember, a Richard Nixon mask and a carrot sticking out of your ass works every time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 – Jan. 19):
Elvis lives. Find him

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 – Feb. 18):
Not everyone shares your vision. Probably because you were the only one who dropped a real hit at that April Fool's party. Remember that incredible administrative job I told you not to take last week because of all those moons and shit? Well, there are no "moons" that was all a load of crap. You could actually be making upwards of eighty or ninety grand right now, but you're not. I suggest getting a book about taking on emotional responsibilities and perhaps one on thrifty living. Give Virgo a call - not because everybody hates you or anything like that - it's just that you're really, really stupid. As a matter of fact it's probably best if you're not seen in public for a while. Oh yes and Virgo could also help you with thrifty living.

Note: Beware of Sagittarius.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20):
What can I say, you're incredible. You're unbelievably intelligent, amazing in the sack, everybody loves you, and you've got razor sharp wit and finesse. Hell, why stop there? You're better looking than any of the other signs and you're every imaginable good quality a human can possibly be. Would perfect be to strong, or maybe just omniscient - ya, that'll do. The fact that the writer of this "Son of a whore of a scope" is Pisces is of no consequence. If you would like to write The Disrobe and Flail and blow sunshine up my ass please feel free.

Note: Act easy, take Sagittarius home, get the goods and maybe some money or something nice for the living room.
