The event is also to celebrate those who have fought and won the battle against this deadly disease and the relay will begin with a victory lap of cancer survivors.

If you are interested in putting in a team, volunteering or if you are a cancer survivor, please come to the information session or contact the Canadian Cancer Society for more information.

A Study In Contrasts. The two new exhibitions which open at Gallery 78, Friday, April 5th from 5:00 - 7:00 P.M. are a study in contrasts. The two artists are friends and share a love of colour and an enthusiastic approach to the world but the similarities end there.

Dawn McCracken is a native of Fredericton who studied Art at the Montreal Museum of Fine Art under the tutelage of such distinguished artists as Arthur Lismer and Jacques de Tonnancour. She continued her studies in art with courses at UNB and Queen's University in Kingston and at the Printing Institute of Metropolitan New York. Her work is characterised by an intensified sense of colour and a truly astonishing verisimilitude achieved painstakingly in oils. Dawn celebrates the beauty of the New Brunswick landscape in all of its moods and splendour.

Born in Summerside, PEI, but a long-time Fredericton resident and local doctor, Brian Mackinnon began painting seriously in 1977. Began self taught, his unique approach to art employs jigsaws and rotors applied to gatorfoam with brilliant enamel, acrylic and oil paint. It is the people of New Brunswick, rather than the landscape which provide his inspiration. His raw exuberant art distills the essence of his subjects in engaging cheerful compositions. Both exhibitions continue until the 30th of April.
