

standard, cost only at the rate of £400 per mile.—This fact speaks volumes. If the Road can be made for £90 per mile, why was it charged at the sum of £400 per mile?—Let those answer who are in the secret. There is iniquity somewhere.—We will also tell another little secret, for the truth of which we can safely avouch. The proposed upset price of that part of the Road which runs through the unbroken forest, is £90 per mile, being something less than has already been expended upon the unfinished part, between Estey's and the Tay Creek!!!—It is not for us to decide why the people should have been a second time brought together to witness an impudent Farce.—nor why the same Actors are again permitted to appear in the scene. Perhaps Sir Archibald imposed that duty upon them as a punishment for their former evil counsels;—perhaps they have again succeeded in deceiving him;—but with all possible deference to the powers that be, we are of opinion that the Commissioners did not expect to sell one single foot of the Road at the proposed upset price. Why was not the maximum price per mile stated in the advertisement of the sale!—This would have been too much at variance with the established maxims of our official formulary.—nay, it might even have been construed as an indication of a future conciliatory course of Politics.—But we forbear.

It is, however, our duty, and a duty which we perform with unfeigned pleasure, to declare that Sir Archibald Campbell is wholly blameless in the matter of the Royal Road, except in so far as he has continued the former Commissioners in office. This we cannot justify. And as we do not consider our bare assertion a sufficient warranty for the existence of every fact, we subjoin a few free extracts from a report submitted to His Excellency by Mr. Goodfellow of Miramichi:

"In the spring of 1831, I was appointed to the superintendance of that part of the Great Road leading to Bathurst, which is situate between Miramichi and Foreign's.—Since that period, Legislative Grants have passed for £915, to be expended on that Road, out of which I have erected Bridges to the extent of £200; and with the balance, after deducting my commission and other small incidental expenses, I have opened and perfectly finished nearly 12 miles of new Road, fit for a carriage, where nothing had ever before been done.—This is at the rate of about £48 per mile."

And Sir Archibald had also a higher authority for supposing that the Road could be made at the rate which is named as the upset price.—In a pamphlet published by the Honorable Thomas Baillie, in London, on the Settlements, Institutions, Soil, Climate, &c. of New Brunswick, prefaced by an Introduction of singular assurance, the following paragraphs are found,—"This Road (the proposed Royal Road,) will cost at the rate of £100 per mile, including Bridges." And again—"In opening new Roads, the expense has been ascertained to be from £80 to £112 per mile, including Bridges and previous explorations; and for the latter sum the goodness of the workmanship, and the solidity and durability of the Bridges and Causeways, should be secured by a warranty of ten years."—This, be it remembered, was written with a view to induce his Majesty's ministers to order the formation of the Royal Road: and it is to be presumed that Mr. Baillie would not venture upon such a grave assertion, unless he had previously ascertained the fact from persons of competent knowledge. We can scarcely repress our indignation when we view all the circumstances connected with this nefarious transaction. Are we to believe that the Royal Road did really cost eight times as much as the Road made by Mr. Goodfellow?—The man who endeavors to persuade us so, is not honest.—It is impossible. The inference then forces itself upon us, that either some person has reaped a golden harvest, or that a great portion of the money has been expended in some favorite and foolish experiment which dares not be avowed to the public.

WATER CONVEYANCE ON THE ST. JOHN.

We had designed to confer an elaborate article on this subject, but as we detest the smallest approximation to Puffing, we shall content ourselves by recommending to our friends a few trips across the River in Mr. EVERITT'S new Team Ferry Boat. If industrious and enterprising men deserve the support of the public, we know of no man to whom the people of Fredericton are more indebted than to Mr. Everitt. Amidst a variety of discouraging circumstances he has persevered in erecting a boat which affords greater facilities for the transport of passengers than any thing that we have yet seen on the River St. John; and we conceive it to be the duty, and we trust it is also the desire, of every man in the community to contribute his mite towards the remuneration of one who has done so much to accommodate the Public.

We would also call the attention of our Readers to the Packet Boats Henry Bliss and Favorite, plying between Fredericton and Woodstock.—The Proprietors of these commodious Boats have spared neither labor nor expense to beguile the tedium of the journey to their Patrons. To such of our friends who are fond of a River voyage to the upper Country we can point out no more pleasant nor comfortable mode of conveyance than by the Henry Bliss; the idea of engaging a Steward to furnish refreshment to the Passengers was peculiarly felicitous, because we cannot pronounce an eulogium on the Taverns above Fredericton. We may hereafter say something more about the River Craft.

THE FINE ARTS.

Mr. FISK, an American Gentleman, has advertised to give a course of instruction (10 Lessons of 2 hours each) in the elegant art of Theorem Painting, and also the art of Drawing from nature. Our fair Readers will do well to avail themselves of this opportunity to acquire the knowledge of arts which may beguile many a tedious hour, and will prove a never failing source of rational amusement. We have seen various specimens of Mr. Fisk's method of drawing and painting, and we have no hesitation in pronouncing him perfectly qualified to perform the task which he has undertaken.—His peculiar mode of shading is exquisitely beautiful, and may be learned with the utmost facility.

In our last publication, we mentioned that a Company had been formed for the purpose of prosecuting the Herring Fishing in the Bay of Chaleur, North America, and since then we learn that another Company has been formed, and are now engaged in fitting out vessels for the herring fishing on the coast of Newfoundland. The last formed Company intend to supply the Southern States of North America and the West Indies with herrings. In a few years it is anticipated that the North American herring fishery will be in a very flourishing condition. The nets used in that quarter of the globe are draught nets, a proof of the very extraordinary quantity of that delicious fish which inhabit those seas.—Glas. Chron.

From the Miramichi Gleaner, July 2.

The following is the Answer to the Address of the inhabitants of this County to His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, on the subject of the recent additional duty levied on timber alluded to in our last No.

Secretary's Office, Fredericton, 12th June, 1833.

GENTLEMEN,—I am directed by His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th May, with a copy of certain Resolutions passed at a Public Meeting of the Merchants and other inhabitants of Northumberland, and two petitions framed on these Resolutions, purporting to be petitions of the merchants, lumberers, and other inhabitants of that County, praying for a diminution of the tonnage on timber. In answer to which I am further directed to state to you, for the information of the Petitioners; that His Excellency has it not in his power to comply with the prayer of their petitions—but even if he were vested with the power, he should feel himself at a loss how to account for such an exercise of it to his Majesty's Government, who are perfectly cognizant of the fact; that, at this moment, timber on private property is readily selling from 4 to 7 shillings per ton, and this in situations generally as difficult of access as those from which purchases are made on Crown Land. It is also well understood, that timber is selling at nearly the same rates in the neighbouring States. With these facts therefore before him, together with other circumstances connected with the subject, His Excellency cannot concur in opinion with the petitioners, that the late increase of three pence, making the price of timber to British subjects in this Province only one shilling and six pence per ton, when taken from the King's forest, will prove either "detrimental to the trade of the country," or in any degree "burthensome and oppressive to those who are engaged in it," on the contrary His Excellency cannot but view the comparatively small price at present demanded by His Majesty's Government for timber, as a boon to the inhabitants of this province, meriting a very different consideration from that which has been given to it in the documents which you have transmitted.

(Signed) WM. F. ODELL.
To Alex. Rankin and John A. Street, Esqrs.

The late hour at which we obtained the above document prevents us from saying as much as we could on this subject;—but it requires no comment—the document speaks for itself—it is another chapter added to the misrule of the Province, and will go far to convince every unprejudiced mind, of the little regard that is paid by the present Executive to the reasonable demand and respectful remonstrances of the people, when they are opposed to the aggrandisement of those who have unfortunately been placed in authority in the province.
