GARRY HERRMANN READY TO TALK WITH JOE TINKER

Chicag National Short-stop Wanted as Manager of Cincinnati Reds—Doolan May be Given in Exchange for Him Involving a Three Cornered Trade—Herrmann Wants to Settle Matter

"JOE" TINKER

Chicago, Oct. 29—Joseph Tinker, shortstop for the Chicago National League baseball team who aspires to attach himself to the Cincinnati Club as manager, missed an opportunity yesterday to confer with his desired employer on the subject. Garry Herrmann, owner of the Cincinnati team was in Chicago, but Tinker was busy in Evanston, a suburb paying a $5 fine for speeding his motorcar.

Herrmann asked as to the deal said: "I have not seen Tinker and I can't say anything about it until he comes to me. I am ready to open negotiations immediately as I want to get it settled." Herrmann refused to discuss what players would be involved other than to say that if President Murphy insisted on having Doolan in exchange some kind of a three-cornered trade might be arranged.

HORACE FOGEL DENIES CHARGES AGAINST HIM

New York, Oct. 30—A general denial of the charges brought by the National League against Horace Fogel, president of the leagues' Philadelphia Club, in this city, on October 17, are contained in a letter received from Fogel by President Thomas J. Lynch.

Mr. Fogel's letter expressed defiance of the right of the National League to try his case for alleged statements reflecting upon National Lynch, who said the text of Mr. Fogel's reply would be made public on November 23, when the league will meet here to give the Philadelphia officials a hearing.

One of the charges brought against Fogel is that in an article published under his signature he states the national league race for 1912 was "crooked" and that President Lynch and certain umpires were working in the interest of the New York Club, and that further it was "fixed" for the New York Club to win the pennant. In his letter of reply today, Mr. Fogel denies he ever made such statements.

"He does not attempt to explain that at all," was the reply. "He merely makes a general denial of that and other charges, and then declares the National League has no jurisdiction in the matter of trying him for his alleged statements."

"Milestones" is to be given in Berlin.

OLD CY YOUNG WILL MANAGE PORTLAND CLUB

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 29—Denton (Old Cy) Young may return to the diamond. When this honored and famous old pitcher announced his retirement last spring, it was thought he would quit the game for good.

He retired to his farm in Ohio and prepared to live the life of a farmer, but the Portland Club of the Pacific Coast League, desired him to assume the management of that club. He refused but again he was asked, and now it is quite likely that he will accept.

He was in Pittsburg only a short while, returning home from the east, where he went to take in the world's series. He stated that he had a splendid offer to manage the Portland team next year and will probably accept.

JEANETTE AND WILLIE THOMAS WON LAST NIGHT

New York, Oct. 31—Joe Jeanette outpointed Jim Johnson of Philadelphia in eight of the ten rounds in a fast bout here last night. Johnson scored a knockdown in the first round with a right uppercut to the neck and also did better work in the sixth.

Willie Lewis, the local middleweight knocked out D. Thomas, the English lightweight in the third round with a right swing on the jaw.

Laughlin to Play Full-back—Five Substitutes being carried—Algonquins cancelled Return Match at St. John Saturday—Team Determined to do its Best Against Mt. Allison Tomorrow—Light work-out Yesterday

The University of New Brunswick Rugby team left this morning for Sackville where Mt. Allison is to be played tomorrow in the first game of the Intercollegiate League in which the local college figures. The U.N.B. team was picked finally yesterday afternoon the only change being the substitution of Laughlin for Otty at full-back as expected. Otty is carried with the team as spare-man on the line-up but has been away however. "Dane" Maimann is shown from college for some days not returning from a Thanksgiving holiday. He will play if he joins the team, however, otherwise Maimann will be the man. Maimann's absence was felt on Monday in the Algonquin game and will be felt more at Sackville turn up.

The U.N.B. team is as follows: Fullback, Laughlin. Halves, Murphy, H. Murray (Capt.) Maimann, Balkam.

Quarters, McFadden, McGibbon. Forwards, Veniot, Duguay, Jewett, Patterson, Parker, Melrose, Alexander, Brewer.

Substitutes, Machum, Otty, Bender, McLeod, R. Murray.

"Babe" Church, the coach, went away with the team and Manager Greg Feeney is in charge of the business arrangements. Quite a number of rooters accompanied the team.

The Algonquins have notified the U.N.B. management that they have been unable to secure grounds at St. John for a return game with the college on Saturday. Under the circumstances the U.N.B. team will return direct from Sackville.

NEW EDINBURGH MAY NOT PRESS CHALLENGE

Ottawa, Oct. 31—The New Edinburgh Hockey Club will not press its challenge for the Allan Cup this fall. They challenged last spring and the trustees put them over until December, but in the meantime Clint Benedict and Carroll Kendall have signed contracts to play professional hockey and Eddie Gerard, Harry Broadbent and Horace Merrill may do likewise. The inter-provincial champions in fact, will be short all but two or three of their regulars. Kendall is going to the coast and Gerard, Broadbent, Merrill and Benedict will be the Ottawas.

PUNTS AND DROPS

Here's hoping for a victory for U. B. at Sackville, tomorrow. It looks good but you never can tell.

Dr. Rankine of Halifax an old Dalhousie player and now with the Wanderers, is to referee the U. N. B.-Mt. Allison game at Sackville.

The Halifax Echo says that negotiations are on for a game November 9, at Sackville between the McGill University English Rugby team and Dalhousie.

DIAMOND DUST

Charley Street who acquired name and fame as a member of the Washington team because of his successful catching of Walter Johnson's speed, and added thereto by catching a ball dropped off the Washington Monument, has been sold by Providence to Chattanooga, in the Southern League. Street is a peculiar sort of genius. He is slow as molasses in the winter time as a runner, yet there is no more active catcher in the game in the matter of whirling around to catch foul balls. His slowness and the fact that his arm seems to have died on him accounted for his sale.

Street's most apt simile in describing how it felt to catch a ball off the Monument was that it was like catching one of Walter Johnson's fast shoots when Walter was in a hole and was relying entirely upon speed to extricate himself.

ACADIA FORWARDS SLOW AND HEAVY QUARTERS STRONG

Herb Paisley Sizes Garnet and Blue up Further as Weak at Full-Back

(St. John Globe.)

Mr. H. F. S. Paisley, a former Mt. Allison coach, who witnessed the Mt. Allison—Acadia game in Wolfville, told The Globe that he considers Acadia's great strength this season lies in their forward line. The scrim was heavy and what it lacked it speed it had in formation work. That Acadia had great faith in their forwards themselves was shown by the fact that they always took a scrim in preference to a "throw in." Their halves have an easy time since the scrim constantly controls the ball for them. He considers their fullback was weak and that they were strong in the quarter division.

(Note—The above is practically what the King's College players said about the team from Wolfville.)

HOW "SIGNED ARTICLES" ON BASEBALL ARE WRITTEN

(Brooklyn Eagle)

It is amusing considering the number of "signed articles" about the past world's series to hear that Hal Chase who was also supposed to be "signing articles" in 1911, was received into the good fellowship of the Giants, last Sunday when he denied that he had ever written a story attributed to him, in which he was supposed to have cast reflection upon the Giants. So much for those who swallow the guff thought to be written by the players every time anything big happens in baseball. In the vast majority of cases the player simply stands for what some experienced baseball reporter chooses to say for him and there you are.

Still, Sullivan's experience is no worse than that of Johnny Kling. In their day they were recognized as the brainiest catchers in their respective leagues, and they were figured to be Connie Macks in disguise but when they became full fledged managers, the brains and astuteness they showed as players could not be imparted to their benchmen and they never made a hit as field generals. The same may be true of Jimmy Sheckard if he comes to Brooklyn.

Hans Wagner had the self respect this year to make no such bluff. In addition to refusing to go on the road with a barnstorming team, he declined on the ground that he did not want to "make money" under false pretenses "a fat sum for a series of supposed articles for a newspaper. All of which shows the German element is worth considering in matters of common sense.

OUTSIDER WON THE CAMBRIDGESHIRE STAKE

Newmarket, England, Oct. 30—The Cambridgeshire stakes handicap today resulted as follows:

Louis Winan's Adam Bede, first; La Boheme, second, and Drinmore third.

Twenty horses ran. The betting against Adam Bede was 100 to 7.

The Cambridgeshire is a flat race for three years and upwards, and is run over a distance of one mile and a furlong.

The manager of the Chattanooga team is Kid Elberfeld, who will never be excelled in the history of baseball as a game player. He is said to have been the only batter who would deliberately stick his head in the way of a fast pitcher in order to get to first base. Why he was not killed has always been a mystery of the game. Elberfeld had his fling as player manager of the Yankees in parlous times, and did not deliver the goods to the satisfaction of the critics, but he seems to be making good in the South and he has a host of admirers who wish him good luck.

Few of those who were panning Elberfeld when he was having his troubles in New York knew that he is the father of enough children to receive a letter of commendation from the Bull Moose and is one of the quietest, most home loving men that ever broke into the big leagues. For a long time thirteen people sat down to his table at every meal, but it seemed to work all right. A world's series would have been a big help to the Kid.

Maude Raymond and Frances Demarest have joined the cast of "My Best Girl."
