

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish—A Remedy for all Hair Troubles

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for keeping the hair and scalp in clean, healthy condition.

If your hair is losing its color or constantly coming out, or if you are troubled with dandruff or dry, itchy scalp, get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, use it according to the simple directions, and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in the appearance of your hair.

All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

LATE EDWARD BLAKE LEFT SNUG ESTATE

Toronto, Ont., March 23.—The will of the late Edward Blake was filed for probate in the Surrogate Court. It disposes of an estate valued at $281,758.61, and with the exception of small annuities bequeathed to five persons described as strangers, is divided among the children and grandchildren of the testator on the death of the widow. The property consists of $40,050 in household goods, $17,092.5 in bank and other stocks, $90,729.75 in securities for money, $6,386.36 in cash and $10,500 in real estate.

Samuel Verchoyle Blake, a son in England, receives the books and papers of the deceased statesman and $2,000. Samuel Verchoyle Blake and Prof. Wrong receive a contingent fund of $4,000 to cover the cost of the publication of the late Mr. Blake's writings. Of those described as strangers "N. J." gets an annuity of $200, Lizzie Calder $300 and Mary Richardson $233.43.

MOOSEJAW HOLDS CARNIVAL

Moosejaw, Sask., March 25.—A unique carnival is arranged to be held here Easter Monday to celebrate the spring opening in the northwest. There will be automobile and agricultural implement shows on the principal streets and a public wedding on Main Street, valuable prizes being offered the couple coming forward, including a wedding ring, license and clergyman's services. The program also contains band concerts, Indian pow-wow, a square race, a large procession and confetti battle, and other amusements of a similar nature. The whole city will be decorated and ornamentally illuminated.

The National Women's Trades Union League will soon start a national campaign for a minimum wage scale for five million women workers in this country.

HAD VERY BAD COUGH.

Tickling Sensation
In Throat.

Could Not Sleep At Night.

A bad cough, with that distressing, tickling sensation in the throat, is one of the most aggravating coughs a person can possibly have.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will quickly stop that tickling in the throat which causes the dry cough that keeps you awake at night, for the simple reason that it is so rich in the healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, it cannot help but do otherwise.

Miss C. Danielson, Bowman River, Man., writes:—"Last fall I had a very bad cough and a tickling sensation in my throat. It was so bad I could not sleep at night, so I went to a druggist and told him I wanted something for my cold and he advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which I did, and after taking one bottle I was completely cured. Let me recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup to any one who suffers from a cough or throat irritation."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25 cents.

How the Flemming Govt. Bamboozles the Farmer

Large Proportion of Grant to Agriculture Goes to Pay Salaries and Travelling Expenses of the Medical Commissioner and his Staff of Officials

The business of the country proceeded slowly last week in the House of Assembly. There was only one evening session and that was on Friday. This is accounted for by the numerous delegations and the very large gathering of farmers who assembled at the Farmers' and Dairy-men's Institute. That was a most successful meeting, the sessions being well attended and the subjects discussed of keen interest, not only to those who heard them from a practical point of view but also to the city people whose interest in the work on the farm grows with every year.

The demands of the farmers for more practical interest in their work on the part of the government will no doubt be somewhat embarrassing but that cannot be helped. There is no doubt that the feeling that exists among the tillers of the soil. They feel that there is too much show and too little actual assistance from the department of agriculture. There are a lot of officials and among them all, there is no doubt some good material if it were under the right direction. But without a plan, without a practical head or deputy in the department, with slushy methods and no real knowledge of what will be of the most assistance to the tillers, how can very much be expected? It has been a matter of genuine regret to those in the government ranks who have a real interest in the advancement and progress of the agricultural class, that a different selection was not made from among their ranks to fill this most important portfolio. The people, however, have it in their hands to change all that if the government will not do so. The farmers have too long allowed the politicians to play fast and loose with them and the indications today are that this will speedily come to an end, that the men who are largely, yes, very largely, in the majority in New Brunswick, will see to it that their views are respected, that their work is assisted, that their markets are extended, that everything which tends to make country life more attractive, which tends to make their property more valuable, which helps to keep their young men and their daughters contented and prosperous in the province, will be done.

EXTRAVAGANCE RAMPANT.

It is no wonder that there is so much dissatisfaction with the present state of affairs. One has only to look at the extravagance that prevails in the matter of officials, to note their salaries, to count up their yearly expenses, and when he sees that something over $20,000 is spent in this fashion, he no longer wonders why there is so little money to give the practical assistance he and his associates have asked for so often. For example, the commissioner for agriculture, Hon. Dr. Landry, is charged with $1,700 under the head of agriculture. He gets $500 more, or rather $600 more, including incidentals, as a member. He gets a lot of travelling expenses and when all are added up, it will be found that the province pays for his services and expenses nearly $3,000 per year. Mr. Hubbard comes next with $1,800. For the deputy head of a department, this man Hubbard travels a good deal and naturally he does not travel without liberal expenses. Mr. McDougall has $1,500, Mr. Daigle $1,400, Mr. Turney, the horticulturist, draws $1,500, and his assistant, Mr. Gorman, $1,000. Then there is Mr. Wilnot, the immigration agent, with $1,200 and Mr. Bowler, his London associate, gets $1,500. These last named gentlemen each have office establishments to keep up and the expenses of them rise into the thousands. So far the province has seen little, if any, results from this expenditure and it is to be hoped that some good will soon come out of such generosity of the people. There are a couple of lady stenographers, one of whom, Mrs. Dumbreck, occasionally goes upon a demonstrating tour in the country. Then there are a couple of clerks at $800 and $300, and last, but not least, there is the poultry expert. Mr. Jones' salary is not so large as either the dairy inspectors or the horticultural man but he is not without hope and he need not be. He has not been long in office, and $900 may be easily increased if one has the proper friends at court and there is no doubt that Mr. Jones has them. His expenses, too, for the first nine months, were nearly $500 and that must be a source of considerable satisfaction to him. The expenses of the dairy superintendents are not by any means small for the auditor general's report says that Mr. Daigle for the last twelve months drew $1,066.44 for that purpose.

That is how the money goes or a lot of it. That is how these make-believe farmers are enjoying themselves at the expense of the public.

MR. McLEOD'S BUDGET.

The budget debate last week was interesting. Mr. McLeod's presentation of a bad case was as wordy as only Mr. McLeod can make it. It was his first attempt as provincial secretary and it probably will be his last. He has not been used to dealing in sums of large amount or transactions of the kind that are necessary in the affairs of the province. His promotion from the post of solicitor general to that of provincial secretary was somewhat unexpected but the result of the election of September last was unexpected itself and the things that follow it might naturally be of a like character. It is said that Mr. McLeod would have preferred to be surveyor general and the story also goes that his colleague, who enjoyed that office did not look with delight upon him as his successor and so a truce or an agreement was necessary and the premier himself retired from the provincial secretaryship, assumed the office of Hon. Mr. Grimmer, who was made attorney general. Be that as it may, the change involved the presentation of the budget by the Hon. Mr. McLeod on Tuesday. If one could have listened to him without knowing where he was speaking they would have imagined that they were hearing a second time one of the campaign speeches of last winter. It was the old issue and the old government. There was nothing new. There is nothing new and original in this government. They are simply following in the footsteps of those who went out of power in 1908, doing far worse in a financial way, and far worse in every way because they have adopted a standstill policy and in some of the departments they are retrograding. The legislation that was placed upon the statute books by the old government, which hardly had time to mature and certainly did not have time to be acted upon, is now giving this administration the chance to put some of it into effect. Only the other day a bill was brought down to amend the act relating to the coal areas in Queens County. Those coal areas were discovered, developed, assisted and encouraged in every way by the former administration. They spent a lot of money in doing it; they placed same debt upon the province with respect to the Central Railway, but they opened up the coal mines of Queens and Sunbury and made it possible for one of the richest mineral deposits in this part of Canada to be exploited. See what has happened! The most astute business man, that long-headed corporation of Canadian Pacific Railway, through its agents and officials, have sought and acquired control of large sections of the coal fields and today one of the best known railway men in the world, Sir Thomas Tait, who for a year after he had graduated from the Canadian Pacific Railway, had charge of the Australian system of railways, is president of the company which is to build the Gibson Mine Railway, assisted by the province to the extent of $15,000 a mile guarantee. This is one result of the legislation introduced a year ago by the old government.

The mines of Gloucester came to the front under this administration, but the apparatus, the legislation, everything that fostered and encouraged the search for iron, was begun by the old government. This is also true of the oil wells of Albert and Westmorland.

NO WORDS WASTED

A Swift Transformation Briefly Described

About food, the following brief but emphatic letter from a Georgia woman goes straight to the point and is convincing.

"My frequent attacks of indigestion and palpitation of the heart culminated in a sudden and desperate illness, from which I arose enfeebled in mind and body. The doctor advised me to live on cereals, but none of them agreed with me until I tried Grape Nuts food and Postum.

"The more I used of them the more I felt convinced that they were just what I needed, and in a short time they made a different woman of me. My stomach and heart troubles disappeared as if by magic, and my mind was restored and is as clear as it ever was.

"I gained flesh and strength so rapidly that my friends were astonished. Postum and Grape-Nuts have benefited me so greatly that I am glad to bear this testimony." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

It will seem treason perhaps, to say so, but the first proposal to build the Valley Railway came from the old government. New Brunswick was not then in as prosperous a condition as at present and it was felt that a guarantee of $15,000 per mile was all that could be afforded. That was not enough and so the project fell through, only to be taken up when Mr. Hazen and his friends were returned and $10,000 added to the guaranteed amount and to be snatched up by a shrewd Maine Yankee who will either spoil the horn or make the spoon before he gets through with the government and the province.

MR. SWEENEY'S SPEECH.

But to return to the budget. Mr. McLeod had a hard task before him to say to the people that the province had enjoyed the largest revenue in its history and at the same time to announce that his economic government had spent $56,000 more than it had received. In the speech that followed by Hon. Mr. Sweeney he said that while there was a record revenue there was also a record debt; that it was a government of broken promises and boastful expenditure; of deficits and favoritism; of unbusinesslike methods; of profession rather than performance; of a multitude of officials with increased salaries; of concealed accounts and wasted money; with no crown land policy but waste and depletion of the country's principal source of revenue, and nothing to safeguard the rights and privileges of interested interests in the lumber business. Upon these lines the ex-surveyor general criticized the speech of the provincial secretary and before he concluded on the following day he had made one of the best addresses that his friends had ever listened to. He exposed in detail the false argument of the provincial secretary that they owed their increased revenue not to an increased cut on crown lands but rather to an honest collection of the stumpage and in exposing it he told the House that it was a strange thing that the officials in the Crown Land Department who were in the main the same as had worked under him, could be dishonest at one time and honest at another. He proved the absurdity of the "honest stumpage" claim by showing that the government took no count of the tremendous quantities of lumber shipped to the United States in recent years, of the large quantities of pulp wood cut from crown lands and shipped to the same market, and of the increased demand from United Kingdom ports for New Brunswick deal.

PINDER'S CHANGE OF HEART.

In the Public Accounts Committee the chairman, Mr. Pinder of York, shines out as the chief apologist of the government expenditure. He is still at loggerheads with the old administration and so long as he lives will find that a skeleton in his closet. For a man who was once so vigilant in the interests of the province, and one who saw a thief on every page of the auditor general's report, who looked for graft and rake-off in almost every line, the change is most remarkable. He takes the auditor general's explanations without a word of comment. He believes that the thousands of dollars of postage stamps are all used in the work of the departments. He can even tolerate fountain pens and pocket knives for the clerical forces without blinking an eyelid. It does not apparently worry him to find that G. T. Pinder who happens to be a son of his, got $6 a cord for wood for the legislative buildings and offices while J. Richardson only received $3 and J. Winslow $5 per cord. It looks as if Mr. Pinder was like a great many other people who believe in the bridge that carries them safely over the stream. The chairman of the Public Accounts Committee is looking for very large assistance on the part of the province to assist in the completion of his Southampton railway. If he does not do his duty as a loyal supporter in the House, he may not get it; and Mr. Pinder does not propose to lose any such thing as a large bond guarantee.

PRESENTATION

North Shore Leader: On Tuesday night after the performance of the St. Patrick's concert, at Newcastle, the members of the Robert Emmet play presented Mr. George M. McDade with a valuable suit case. The presentation was made informally by Mr. C. P. McCabe. Mr. McDade responded feelingly, and thanked the members. He particularly regretted leaving so many charming young ladies but he would always remember them. The other members expressed regret at Mr. McDade's removal from Newcastle and after singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," the gathering dispersed.

Messrs. J. F. O'Donnell and M. J. McFadden of St. John, spent Sunday in the city.
