DONALD FRASER.....President

Fredericton, N. B., July 3, 1912

TRADE GOING SOUTH

In some parts of the Dominion the most influential "argument" against Reciprocity was the contention that traffic would be diverted north and south, and our east and west lines of transportation would go out of business in consequence. Unquestionably this claim influenced thousands of votes, and unquestionably it was a piece of conscious mendacity. If the growth of a north and south trade really meant injury to Canadian transportation routes, then the assumption to power of the Borden administration is the beginning of the end. Scarcely was Mr. Foster in office when, in order to relieve a western wheat congestion—which he was utterly unable to see during the election campaign—he made arrangements for facilitating the carrying of Canadian grain over American markets or shipped from American ports. The diversion of traffic thus effected has gone on increasing at a rate altogether amazing. From a Report of the Department of Trade and Commerce, we learn that during the year 1911, the terrible "Jim" Hill's line, the Great Northern Railway, loaded in Winnipeg and carried to Duluth 944 cars of wheat, nearly all of which were thus loaded and carried after the Torris came into power. During the nine months ending May 31st of the present year, the same line has carried to Duluth 7,273 carloads of Canadian grain. The north and south traffic thus created is already great, and there is every likelihood of the rate of increase being kept up. And all this diversion of traffic was brought about by the urgent request and active negotiations of the same Mr. Foster who denounced gloom but a few weeks previously, such a policy with "fury, tears and That shifty politician evidently believes with Ralph Waldo Emerson that "constitency is the bugbear of small minds."

As exclusively announced in last evening's Mail, Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey was nominated by the Democrats at Baltimore yesterday as their candidate for president of the United States. No less than forty-six ballots were taken before Governor Wilson secured the necessary two-third vote of the convention. Hon. Champ Clark, speaker of the House of Representatives, made a stiff and determined fight for the nomination, and it is scarcely likely that there will be much regret felt in Canada over his failure to win out. The Hon. Champ, is a tail twisting politician who can always be counted upon to say the wrong thing at the wrong time. He heartily supported the reciprocity agreement with Canada but some cheap talk which he indulged in about annexation contributed largely to the defeat of the measure at the polls in this country.

The reciprocity agreement entered into between Canada and the United States is all right as far as it goes, and will no doubt meet with the approval of all consistent Liberals. It will mean greater trade expansion and the Liberals are for that every time. We have important seaports in the Maritime Provinces upon which much public money is being expended but they can never be developed without foreign commerce. The cost of living in Canada is altogether too high, and the people will welcome the relief that will follow the tariff concessions granted to the West Indies.

The fire committee of the City Council has at last got down to business in regard to the proposed new fire station. They have decided to utilize the site of the present structure, which is the property of the city. The proposal will meet with the general approval of the citizens.

The Ohio State branch of the Journeymen Barbers' International Union of America will continue its present fight against Sunday barber work and introduced a bill into the general assembly providing for a State license for barbers.

D. E. Pickard,
David A. Essena,
George L. Colter.

On motion the report was adopted as read:

Coun. McMullin moved that the council go into committee of the whole to consider the consideration and revision of the bye-laws.

Dr. Sterling was appointed chairman and the resolution passed.

Coun. Cowperthwaite thought that the parish should be divided up into districts, such as the present school district, and each one be empowered to look after the cattle running at large in their own particular district.

Coun. Essena thought it would be impossible to have a general law.

Coun. McMullin said that the cattle running at large in one district was often times as much inconvenience to the people of adjoining districts as they were in their own, and thought that the man who owned cattle should be made to look after them. Every man should be responsible for his own cattle.

Coun. Essena thought it would be a pretty expensive piece of machinery to have districts formed like school districts, entailing an appointment for pound keeper and field driver in each district. There were 11 school districts in Kingsclear and he considered the present form of enforcement was good enough.

Coun. Cowperthwaite thought there might be no expense in the pound keeper worked on commission.

The question also evoked healthy discussion from Couns. Graham, Everett and Morrison.

Coun. Fawcett moved that further consideration be left over till tomorrow.

It was then decided to take up the discussion on the bye-laws section by section and after an hour's deliberation it was decided to report progress and ask leave to sit again.

On the re-assembling of the Council Dr. Sterling made application for leave of absence and on motion of Coun. McMullin leave was granted.

On motion the meeting adjourned till 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

UPPER HAYNESVILLE

Upper Haynesville, June 28—A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dunlop Upper Haynesville, Wednesday afternoon, June 26th when their daughter Eva became the wife of Mr. William E. Watson, a prominent merchant of Van Buren, Maine. The bride descended the stairs which were beautifully decorated, leaning on the arm of her brother and took her place under an evergreen arch. The bride was becomingly costumed in white silk and Baby Irish lace trimmed with tulle, pearls and fringe. She wore a bridal veil wreathed with orange blossoms and caught up with white ribbon and Lillies of the Valley and carried a bouquet of Bride's Roses and Carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Laura Dunlop, was gowned in pink silk trimmed with lace and rosebuds with a wreath of Forget-me-nots in her hair and carried a bouquet of Carnations and Ferns. The groom was supported by Rev. E. W. Lester of Minto. In the presence of about one hundred and fifty relatives and friends of the contracting parties, after the newly wedded couple had received the congratulations and good wishes of the assembled guests, they led the way to the dining room, where a wedding repast was charmingly served such as must have pleased the most fastidious of epicures. The bride was the recipient of a large number of magnificent wedding presents in gold, silver, old ivory, china, etc., besides one hundred and fifty dollars in cash. Her gift from the groom was a gold ring set with opals and diamonds and he remembered the bridesmaid with a plain gold bracelet. After supper they left by the C.P.R. express for Montreal, where they will spend their honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home in Van Buren, Me. The bride's travelling costume was a blue serge suit with a black hat trimmed with marquisette lace and a large willow plume.

The many friends of the young couple will join heartily in the wish that their wedded life may be prosperous and happy.
