BASEBALL NOTES

Martini let out a few remarks Dominion Day, which should not have escaped the attention of the gentlemanly ump. Such remarks should be met by their proper punishment. Martini is a good ball player but he "talks too much," and in the words of the gentleman whose physog appears on the Abbey Salts ad, "such men are dangerous!"

Hughes in right field for the Houlton Reds was a revelation to the fans in the double attraction Monday. We all knew the Brooklyn lad could pound out the pill, but his running catches surprised his most ardent admirers. Hughes is thirty pounds lighter than he was last season and is in excellent condition.

A democracy may be all right but the game of baseball is the great social leveller.

Ganley shows the same old head, and his rare stunts have a way of hitting the fancy of the fans in the right spot. He pulls off some queer ones, but the result is always an incident to Ganley.

FREDERICTON DEFEATED AT HOULTON YESTERDAY

Reds hit Hard and Often--Ganley the Hero of the Hour--Errors were Plentiful--Martini Held Locals to Four Hits

(St. John Telegraph.)
The Fredericton team were outth, outplayed and in no class with General Iott's Reds in today's engagement. Martini, who hurled the pill for Houlton, was in rare form and had the Capitals completely at his mercy. Ganley was the hero of the enemy, making a single, double and triple. Wildes, who played the second cushion for the Capitals, was completely off color, making five costly errors.

MARATHONS FOR WOODSTOCK TODAY.

The Marathons left St. John this morning for Woodstock, where they play this afternoon. On Thursday the Greeks will play a double header in Houlton, when the new park will be formally opened.

Houlton will be in St. John for Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Corey, who pitched for the Toronto team in the International League, has been secured by the Marathon management and he will be seen in action against the Houlton team here on Saturday. Sweet will pitch on Friday.

Tarbell, who has been in St. John for two seasons, has signed up with the Cleveland team and will leave tonight for Cleveland. The fans in this circuit will be sorry to lose Joe but all will hope that he will make good in the big league and help Cleveland to land a pennant, if not this year perhaps next.

HOULTON THREATENS TO PROTEST HOLIDAY GAMES

Of Things that Happen by the Way--Notes and Comments that Affect and Disaffect--Fredericton Players Released--Dispute Ownership of Kearney

A man without some sporting blood should be examined for symptoms of that disease locally known as "dementia Americana," and if reports are correct the Houlton management should consult a specialist.

It was rumored here that Houlton had vague intentions of protesting the games played here Dominion Day because Kearney was in local harness. The claim is advanced that Woodstock still holds the local man by reason of his being with last year's Colts. If such a contention is allowed to base a protest on, we may well say that sportsmanship in baseball is dead. The game is becoming too greatly professional, but one would think, submitting for the sake of argument that Kearney was the property of Woodstock, that the minor curtesies would be extended to each other by the various clubs.

It is greatly to be hoped that Houlton does not take the action which it is suggested will be taken, as the life of the game in the N.B. & Maine League will, no doubt, depend on it.

Fredericton fought too hard for the honor of victory on Monday last and won well merited success in both games to give up without a holler and the fans would not feel at all aggrieved if the management threw up the sponge in the event of such a flim-flam game being put over on them.

Brennan and Fay left by last evening's train for their homes in Massachusetts. Both young men made many friends in the city who will regret their release but, hard as it seems, the survival of the fittest is the one law of baseball.

There were a few soreheads, but a cessation of knocking after the locals put the Houlton Reds to the woods in the double attraction Monday. Yesterday's game, however, loosened up the anvil chorus again. Fredericton fans are sure developing the poorer stunts and should shake themselves and forget it. The best we can expect this year, to our mind, is second position but if every fan can assist to make a team better, it's his duty to do so. It behooves everyone to give the locals a little of their good will and make the best of a situation which could be far worse.

We can't be winners all the time, as the incidents of every day life will teach us. Look a sporting chance in the face and be a good loser.

Contestants--Jack Johnson of Chicago and Jim Flynn of Pueblo, Colo. Place and time--Las Vegas, N. H.; Thursday, at 2 p. m.

Title at stake--World's heavyweight championship.

Length of fight--Twenty-five rounds in twenty-four foot ring.

Rules--Marquis of Queensberry.

Referee--Ed. W. Smith, of Chicago.

Las Vegas, N. H., July 3--Visitors from many parts of the country have been coming throughout the day to see the battle for the world's pugilistic championship between the present holder of the title, Jack Johnson, and Jim Flynn of Pueblo, Colo., and interest in the contest extends to all classes. From the training quarters of the rivals the announcement has been made that both men are in perfect physical condition and ready for the struggle tomorrow afternoon.

The promoters of the mill expect a large attendance. They disposed of many tickets in advance and count upon the late arrivals from a distance and the eleven-hour rush from Las Vegas and vicinity to swell the crowd at the ringside to proportions that will leave them something after all expenses are paid and the fighters given their share. Among the old-timers, however, it is the belief that the crowd tomorrow will fall far short of that at the Jeffries-Johnson battle at Reno two years ago, both numerically and financially.

As a betting proposition the fight does not promise much. To date very few dollars have been placed on the result. There are many persons who think well of Flynn's prowess as a fighter and a vastly larger number who wish him all the good luck and success possible when he faces the champion in the squared circle, but there are comparatively few who think well enough of his chances to back him with cold cash. At the same time there are some who are willing to bet on the Pueblo man at the liberal odds offered. They remember the odds offered on Jeffries two years ago and also the result of the fight, when the sports who had pulled the nerve to back Johnson pulled down some big money. They figure out that if the big negro champion has gone back during his two years' absence from the ring, the contest tomorrow may be repetition of the affair at Reno.

But with all things considered, Johnson looks the winner, and, as he himself says, he ought to score a knockout long before the limit of the fight is reached.

Tommy Burns will be Flynn's first second.
