TOM FLANAGAN DEFENDER OF JACK JOHNSON

Says he is Being Persecuted Because of His Color—Literally Dogged by Women

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 12—Tom, C. Flanagan, who was Jack Johnson's manager before and after the famous pugilist's battle at Reno against Jeffries, when the colored man captured the heavy weight championship writes a long article in the Evening Telegram today. He does not excuse Johnson's moral lapses but says the big black is one of the cleanest and fairest sports white or colored, the writer met.

"Jack Johnson, as a fighter," says Flanagan, "has been as straight as a string in the face of temptation that few white men would withstand, but he has never been forgiven for defeating Jeffries. He made himself thousands of powerful enemies that fatal day at Reno, when he crumpled up the carcass of Jeffries. That was his great mistake. He could have lain down to Jeffries and retired independently rich, but he did not because he was a cleaner and better sport, than thousands. Jack Johnson is no saint, I am free to admit, but don't forget that he has been literally dogged by women, in every city of any size he has ever visited supposedly respectable, white women, and Toronto was no exception to the rule. Johnson will be driven out of Chicago not because he is worse than many others, but because there is one moral code for whites and another for blacks. He will probably go to Europe and fight allcomers. Johnson is the greatest pugilist who ever entered the ring, but he is black."

PAPKE TO FIGHT ANOTHER FRENCHMAN

Paris, Nov. 12—Frank Klauud of Pittsburg, has declined to fight Billy Papke and instead Papke has accepted an offer to fight twenty rounds with Bernard at the Cirque de Paris, stating that he wanted an easier game. Bernard is the former welter-weight champion of France who lately has grown into a middleweight.

ST. LOUIS LETS VETERAN BATTERY GO ELSEWHERE

St. Louis, Nov. 12—Jack Powell and Jimmy Stephens, two of the oldest Brownies in point of service on the team, are slated for duty elsewhere next season. That's the latest tip that has leaked out, and during the winter arrangements will be made to turn over the elephantine twirler and the diminutive backstop to some other club.

The fact that this veteran battery is to be passed up by Manager Stovall doesn't necessarily mean that they have outlived their big league usefulness; in fact, Powell has just finished one of the most successful seasons of his career, considering his length of service in the big arena.

HIGH DUFFY TALKING BUSINESS WITH COMISKEY

Chicago, Nov. 12—Hugh Duffy, late manager of the Milwaukee team of the American Association, is not hooked for the managerial berth at St. Paul, Buffalo or any other minor league town, according to information gleaned here.

Duffy came here last Thursday in answer to an urgent telegram from Owner Comiskey of the White Sox. Whether Comiskey is interested in the New York Americans or St. Louis Browns is not known here, but at any rate it is one of these managerial berths Duffy seems destined to fall into the influence of Comiskey in the American League calls for anything. Duffy has been in conference with the Old Roman six times in two days.

WALTER JOHNSON MADE GREAT RECORD IN PITCHING BOX

Joe Wood Nominally Sat Top of the List, But Johnson Pitched More Games

Chicago, Nov. 12—Although Joe Wood, the hero of the world's series, tops the list of pitchers in the 1912 American League averages issued today, Walter Johnson, of the Washington club, probably is the leading pitcher of the season.

In games won and lost, Wood excels Johnson, but the Washington pitcher worked in seven more games than did Wood. Johnson struck out 303 men in 168 innings, the season's record, and held 1,321 opposing batsmen to eighty-nine runs. Wood pitched 344 innings in 43 games, during which 104 runs were scored off him. He struck out 258 batters. The Boston pitcher won 34 out of 39 games, while Johnson won 32 out of 44, besides playing two ties.

Edward Walsh, of the Chicago team, was the "work horse" of the season. He pitched in 62 games, twelve more than any pitcher in the league.

Joe Jackson of Cleveland his Nearest Rival-- Milan Leads Base-Stealers--Speakers Batted Well but Made no Hits of Frank Lange

Tyrus Raymond Cobb has again won his yearly honor with the bat. It is the sixth consecutive time that the heavy stickler of the Tigers leads the batsmen of the American League. His average of .410 is exactly .15 better than that of his nearest rival Joe Jackson, of Cleveland. Altogether, Cobb made 227 hits, 30 being doubles, 23 triples and 7 home runs. "Honor to whom honor is due," is a perfect-fitting maxim for Cobb and there can be no doubt as to the great Georgian's universal superiority with the willow.

The official averages for the season which were announced recently by Ban Johnson, president of the American League, show thirty players in the prized .300 class. Joe Jackson's consistent work gave him second place with .395, while Tris Speaker of the Red Sox, pulled down third with .383. Borton of Chicago, forced himself in ahead of Lajoie, with .371. Borton indulged in only 31 games, so the Cleveland's namesake is the rightful owner of fourth place. Nap's average was .368. Another bench-warmer, Lelivelt, of the Yanks, steps in after Lajoie and snatches sixth position from Eddie Collins of the Athletics. Then follows the wonderful J. Franklin Baker, Collins' closest rival on the Philadelphia Club with 10 circuit drives alongside his name, Baker leads the field in home-running hits.

BEST BASE STEALER.

Clyde Milan of the Senators, is at the top of the list of base-stealers. He beat out Cobb, with a record of 88 steals, as against 61 for Ty. Eddie Collins also finished ahead of Cobb, having 63 robberies to his credit.

Three of the thirty men in the .300 class are Highlanders. This includes Harry Wolverton. Birdie Cree was 10th with an average of .332 and Wolverton just slid into the flock of "high men" with .300.

The Athletics led in club-batting with .292. The Red Sox finished second with .277. The Highlanders arrived at the top of the second division with .260.

SPEAKER'S FINE RECORD

Tris Speaker would have owned a batting average of .500 this season had he been compelled only to face the Cleveland pitchers. The player who won the Chalmers American League trophy made a hit every other time he went to the bat in the games with the Naps, getting 37 safeties out of 74 trips to the plate.

Detroit hurlers were easy for Speaker, Tris running up an average of .410 against them, derived from 34 hits in 83 times at bat. He hit .395 against the St. Louis slabmen, .392 against the Washington delivery clerks, .376 against the Athletic artillerymen, .392 against the New York twirlers and .323 against the Chicago curvers.

LANGE THE MAN

Oddly enough it wasn't Ed Walsh who was the most puzzling of the White Sox slabmen to the Speed Boy. Speaker ran up an average of .333 against Comiskey's man of steel, and .090 against Frank Lange, whom he faced eight times.

Walter Johnson was no puzzle to the player voted by the Chalmers jury the most valuable man in the American League, Speaker making seven hits in seventeen times at bat off the Idaho phenom—an average of .417.

Speaker went hitless in only 23 of the 153 games in which he participated. In 64 contests he made one hit in 41 contests he made two in 21 contests he made three and in four contests he made four.

Speaker's biggest days with the bat were May 4, June 9, June 17 and August 23, he obtaining four safeties on each of these dates. The pitchers he then faced were respectfully, Cashion and Akers of Washington, Mitchell of St. Louis, Walsh of Chicago and Steen and Baskette of Cleveland.

This is how the man who won the Chalmers auto batted against the pitchers:

N. H. A. RETAINED SIX MEN HOCKEY TEAMS AT MEETING

Fred Taylor Can go Back to Ottawa--- Clubs to Use Both English and French Players

(Montreal Herald)

Above were the essential results, in addition to the drawing of the schedule, always a lengthy business, at the annual meeting of the National Hockey Association at Kastel's Hotel on Saturday afternoon and evening. Four clubs were in favor of continuing the six-men hockey and two, Tecumseh and Ottawa, in favor of returning to the seven men game.

A proposal to start the games in Toronto at eight o'clock met with considerable opposition from the Tecumseh representatives, and eventually, headed by "Ned" Williams a former Montrealler, Toronto could not see why games should be started at eight o'clock in Toronto to suit the convenience of visiting clubs while games should be started at eight-thirty elsewhere to suit the home clubs.

"It puts us in the lush league class," was the attitude of the stalwart Tecumseh delegates, and finally a compromise was arrived at where, all games started at 8.15.

MORE NEGOTIATIONS

President Emmett Quinn, who was re-elected, was instructed to enter into further negotiations with the Pacific Coast League, provided that the claims of the latter to Johnson and Hyland were relinquished.

Wanderers relinquished their claim on Fred Taylor, who will become eligible for the Ottawa Club on payment of the hundred dollar fine imposed on him last season by the N.H.A. It is understood that the fine is to be paid by Taylor himself. The following directors were elected:
