THE BANK MERGER IS OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

Discussing the proposed amalgamation of the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Bank of New Brunswick, J. C. Mackintosh & Co., in their weekly circular, say:

The rumors which reached the public a few weeks ago concerning a proposed amalgamation between the Banks of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, have turned out to have been based upon facts. The official announcement has since been made that the directors have agreed upon a basis for the deal. The Bank of Nova Scotia will purchase the assets and business of the Bank of New Brunswick on a basis of an even exchange of shares and a cash bonus of $10 per share to the holders of the Bank of New Brunswick stock. As the capital of the Bank of New Brunswick is $1,000,000, this would mean that there will be an issue of $1,000,000 more Bank of Nova Scotia stock and that $100,000 will be paid out in cash to the shareholders of the Bank of New Brunswick. The Bank of New Brunswick will disappear as a separate institution and the Bank of Nova Scotia will take its place. The number of banks having headquarters in the Maritime Provinces will thus be reduced to one, it being assumed that the Bank of Nova Scotia will still have its head office in Halifax, although the office of the general manager will doubtless remain in Toronto, as at present.

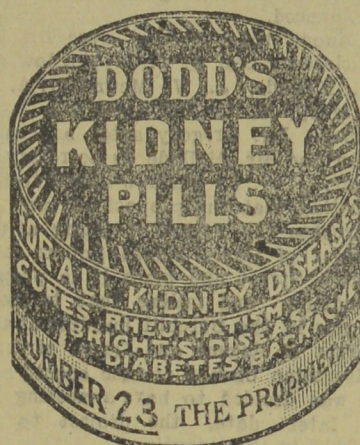

The purchase of the Bank of New Brunswick by the Bank of Nova Scotia accomplishes a union of rather unusual interest in the annals of banking in Canada. The bank to be absorbed is the older of the two institutions and, in fact, is probably the second oldest bank in Canada today. It was established in 1820 and had it lived eight years longer would have been able to celebrate its first centennial. During the earlier portion of its career it was entirely local in character, and it was not until a comparatively short time ago that any effort was made by the management to establish branches outside of the Province of New Brunswick—or, in fact, outside of the City of St. John. The bank now has a score of branches in the Province of New Brunswick, besides which it has five branches in the Province of Nova Scotia, and at least four in Prince Edward Island. Recently it established a branch also in the City of Montreal, so that altogether it now possesses twenty-nine or thirty branches. Its business has been conducted in a very safe and conservative manner, the effort having ever been to maintain a high proportion of reserve to capital. In this respect the bank stands among the highest of any of the Canadian banks. Dividends at the rate of 11 per cent. were paid quarterly during the past four years and for twenty-two years previous to that a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. was paid. The Bank of New Brunswick is a model to the other banks of the Dominion in this, that it has not waited for the government to take action in the matter of imposing independent inspection, but has opened its books each year to a firm of chartered accountants and thus secured, both for the directorate and the shareholders, the benefit of the advice of independent experts.

Twelve years after the founding of the Bank of New Brunswick, was founded the Bank of Nova Scotia. Like its sister bank, it showed very little disposition to branch out in an aggressive manner for many years. In 1875, however, its capital was increased to $1,000,000, and some eight years afterwards took place the union with the Bank of Prince Edward Island, which occasioned an addition of $114,300 to its capital. In 1891 the capital became $1,500,000 and every few years since has been increased by new issues made at prices ranging from 210 per cent. of par up to 268 per cent. As in the case of the Bank of New Brunswick, the directors of the Bank of Nova Scotia pursued the policy of maintaining a high proportion of reserve to capital, with the result that the stock of each bank is quoted among the highest of any bank stocks in the Dominion of Canada. The union with the Bank of New Brunswick will, no doubt, justify itself in an increased ratio of profits to the total amount of business transacted.

It is not many years now since the Bank of Nova Scotia began a policy of expansion. It has extended its offices into Quebec, Ontario and western provinces, and wherever it has gone it has managed to secure its share of business. Not long since it began paying a dividend at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum, this being the highest bank dividend paid in the Dominion of Canada.

Accepting the government bank statement at September 20th last, as a basis for comparison, the Bank of Nova Scotia, after the union has been completed, will be in point of paid-up capital, liabilities and assets, the fifth bank in Canada, being exceeded only by the Banks of Montreal, Commerce, Royal and Merchants. In the matter of note circulation, it will be the sixth bank, being exceeded by the banks mentioned and in addition thereto by the Imperial Bank. In the matter of reserve, however, it will be the fourth bank, being exceeded only by the Montreal, Commerce and Royal.

WHAT HAS BECOME OF FATHER VAUGHAN?

Winnipeg, Oct. 29—Considerable anxiety is expressed in various quarters as to the whereabouts of Rev. Father Bernard Vaughan the famous English Jesuit. He left Moosejaw at two thirty o'clock on last Friday for Winnipeg intending to go to Chicago and thence to New York where he intended to remain two weeks. At Chicago he had an important lecture appointment for Sunday night but failed to arrive. Inquiry at the Bishops palace here elicited the information that Father Vaughan is expected there in a few days but his present whereabouts are unknown.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 29—The market was irregular during the hour meeting support when that sort of attention was needed but being supplied with stocks of strong spots. In commission house the belief prevailed that selling movement would not go far. It was argued that statements of Harriman lines and the Steel Corporation would help support the market and result in considerable covering of shorts. Whether there is much of a short interest is questionable although traders think there is. Amsterdam was credited with selling of American Car and Foundry and Kansas City Southern which caused a slight advance in our market.

No Indigestion, Dyspepsia or Sour, Gassy, Upset Stomach for "Pape's Diapiesin" Users

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapiesin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't fit comfortably or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you eat. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal cramping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

Charles F. Nordlinger, the adapter of "The World and His Wife," and whose adaptation was used by William Faversham and Julia Opp, objects to the play being used by stock companies.
