HOW BURNS TRAPPED THE DETROIT ALDERMAN

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 20—The testimony of W. J. Brennan, a Burns operative, was the feature of the police court examination today of "Honest Tom" Glennan, the first of the eighteen aldermen, recently arrested on bribery charges, to be tried in court. It was Brennan's evidence that resulted in the arrests of the eighteen aldermen and Common Council Clerk Edward Schreiter, the latter having since made a complete confession.

Today Brennan went into all of the details of the trapping of the aldermen up to the time he alleges that he, representing himself to be an official of the Wabash Railroad, paid Glennan $1,000 for his influence in granting the railroad's request for the use of a city street for building purposes.

The cases against Aldermen Watson, Ellis, Zoeller, Merritt, Hilde and Skrzcki today were postponed until August 30. Alderman Theisen's case will come up next Friday. Disposition was reserved in the cases against Alderman Brozo, Rosenthal, Lynch, O'Brien and Koenig and the examinations of Aldermen Demiel, Mason, Ostrowski, Tossey and Walsh will follow that of Alderman Glennan. Clerk Schreiter has also been remanded for a week.

Brennan upon taking the stand, explained that his right name is Walter J. Burns and that his home is in Boston. He told of coming to the city in April and taking office in the Ford Building as a representative of the real estate department of the Wabash Railroad.

He also engaged an adjoining office and had "New England Historical Society" printed on its door.

TRAPPED THE ALDERMEN.

The detective then told of getting himself acquainted with the different aldermen, of impressing upon them the urgent desire of the railroad for the rights to the street and of opposition to the proposal that was expressed by several of the councilmen. Finally, he testified, Glennan came to his office and arrangements were made for the closing of the street. "Glennan told me at that time that he wanted to use me as a pipe line to St. Louis," said Witness Brennan. "He had wanted for years to get on the line of the Wabash Railroad, he said, and thought he could serve the company by looking after its taxes and other matters in the City Hall. He said he would want about $100 a month for his services."

"I interrupted to say: 'Alderman, this street closing case has been referred back to the committee and I guess there is some difficulty isn't there?'"

"Yes, but I guess we can adjust it," he replied.

"He then gave me a list of some aldermen and said he would see them and pay them. I had already arranged to give him some money for the purpose of the resolution closing the street. The amount that we decided on at that time as necessary for the purpose was between $1,500 and $2,000."

PAID THE BRIBE MONEY.

The witness then went into the details of a further visit with Glennan at the alderman's home and meetings in the City Hall. At last, he said, all arrangements were complete for the payment of the bribe money.

It had been planned for the aldermen to go individually to Brennan's office in the Ford Building and get their share. Glennan was to go last and get what was left. Brennan had told him it would be at least $1,000.

According to the testimony Glennan appeared promptly on July 26th for the money.

"I took out a roll of bills," said the witness, "and counted them. I said: 'Glennan, here is $1,000 that I promised you for voting for the Wabash closing.' He thanked me and put the money in his pocket. As he left I took him into the next room. Mr. Burns was there."

"I said, 'Mr. Glennan, allow me to present Mr. W. J. Burns,' and Glennan said, 'Pleased to meet you.'"

The witness then testified that Glennan, when he realized his situation, handed back the money and made a complete confession.

BRAMWELL BOOTH NEW HEAD OF SALVATION ARMY

EXPONENT OF HOLINESS

As a teacher of holiness, he occupies a unique place in our ranks. In the early days of the army, and when comparatively but a youth, he led holiness conventions, to the influence of which many of our front rank officers acknowledge they owe their experience and present position. At the time of the chief's marriage Mrs. General Booth said that he had been named after the most distinguished man of holiness of whom they knew, as well as after the general, and they had set him before the Lord to be a leader of His forces in respect to this glorious doctrine and experience. To what a remarkable extent this consecration has been honored of God, those who are most closely associated with the chief can bear witness.

It would be anomalous if the chief were not an indefatigable worker. In this respect it may be said that a "double portion" of his father's energy and strenuousness has fallen upon him.

As a boy he probably did less playing and took a more serious view of life than most lads of his age, and in these days of "black youth" he would be considered a phenomenon.

When the chief of the staff ever wasted a moment! As a student he voluntarily undertook open-air meetings after school hours. Accompanied by one of his sisters, he set up for himself at "The Cat and Mutton Bridge," where he received his "baptism of fire," and first came in contact with a London mob.

In the early days, the rapid development of the army, threw much responsibility upon his young shoulders. With marked administrative genius, however, and a fine capacity for taking pains, he not only learned to master the duties of the hour, but, where possible, to devote a share of them upon his assistants as they grew up at his side, and was thus able to stretch on his hands for further conquests.

AN ABLE ADMINISTRATOR

To observe him at his work is a liberal education and it is easy to see that he has been taught in the best and most practical of all schools—that of experience.

From the moment he enters his office at the great centre of activity, the International Headquarters, each morning until the close of the day, he is ceaselessly engaged in administrative work, requiring the closest concentration of heart and brain.

His mental gifts are of a very high order, enable him to see further than even the wisest of his colleagues, and it is a rare thing that the chief cannot put a top stone on the most perfect proposition brought before him.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

London, Aug. 22—No word has yet been heard from Dean Herbert E. Ryle who has jurisdiction over the burials in Westminster Abbey, as to whether the body of the late General Wm. Booth, of the Salvation Army is to be offered sepulture in the Abbey. Dean Ryle is at present in Scotland.

It is thought probable that while the offer may be declined, even should it be tendered, yet it may be made by the authorities.

Canon Herbert Henson of Westminster Abbey said today no question of creed was considered in regard to burials there. Only the distinction and character of persons concerned, were taken into consideration. General Booth's body is to be removed tonight, from the modest cottage at Hadley Wood, where he died, to the Congress Hall, Clapton, for the lying in state.

One of the first duties of General Bramwell Booth now commander of the Salvation Army, will be the appointment of a chief of staff.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL

New York, N. Y., Aug. 22—Commander Eva Booth, second daughter of the late Gen. Wm. Booth, commander of the Salvation Army sailed today on the Liner France for Havre, in a race across the Atlantic in the hope of reaching England in time to attend her father's funeral next Thursday. The France is the only steamer that can get her across to London in time for the ceremony.

The France is due in Havre next Wednesday morning, and Miss Booth hopes to be in London Wednesday night.

Miss Booth has received a telegram from General Bramwell Booth, the new leader of the Army, renewing her commission as commander of the forces in America.

WAITING FOR HARVESTERS

Men From the East Have No Trouble in Getting Work Out West

Eight Thousand Men Here Already Been Engaged—Saskatchewan Takes Largest Number.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 22—An eager lot of farmers, government officials and secretary of western Boards of Trade are awaiting the arrival of the harvesters from the eastern provinces and Ontario. The big excursion from Toronto expected here tonight and other supplies will arrive early on Saturday morning. The balance between the supply of laborers and the demand of the farmers has been held admirably thus far. The harvest will not be generally underway until Saturday or even the beginning of next week and the eight thousand men who have already been sent to work have satisfied fairly well the needs of these districts in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Southern Alberta where the crops are being cut. Saskatchewan has received so far approximately 1,000 of the laborers, Manitoba has about 2,500, while Alberta has taken only 1,500. Wages are ranging here all the way from $2.50 to $1 per day with board according to the class of labor and the urgency of the demand. The binder twine situation is causing a deal of worry, there is a distinct shortage.

MURDERER TO BE SHOT

Reno, Nev., Aug. 22—Andriji Mirkovich is to be shot to death early tomorrow morning at the Nevada State Penitentiary. His is the first sentence to death by shooting ever imposed in Nevada, and was made possible by the law passed at the last session of the legislature giving a condemned person the choice of death by hanging or shooting. Mirkovich chose shooting. The crime of which he was convicted was the murder of John Gregovitch, a Tonic merchant, last May.

Ottawa, Aug. 22—In all probability the application for the merger of the Royal and Traders Banks will come up for consideration before the Treasury Board tomorrow morning if a quorum of the board is available. The board consists of the minister of finance and five members of the cabinet appointed from time to time by order in council. Owing to the absence from the capital of many of the originally appointed board, some difficulty has been found in gaining a quorum.

However, it is probable that Hon. Messrs White, Rogers, Parley, Nantel, Burrell and Monk will convene tomorrow on the question. It is not considered probable that there will be any objections advanced against the proposed merger.

The fact that there are few duplications throughout Canada would obviate the possible objection of reduction of Bank facilities while the proposal of the Royal Bank to increase its capital from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 should it be considered offset other objections. The only possible objections which it would seem might be made would be against too great centralization of capital or the formation of a "money trust." As a committee of the privy council the treasury board will submit its recommendation to that body for ratification.

ISMAY TO TESTIFY IN SUIT

New York, Aug. 22—Charles E. Pickett of New Haven, clerk of the United States Court, who is the master in the inquiry into an alleged steamship combination, sailed for England today to take the testimony of J. Bruce Ismay, head of the International Mercantile Marine Company, on the question of steamship rates. Two lawyers representing the United States Government Mr. Pickett.

The Hague, Aug. 22—Canada, the United States and the principal countries of Europe are represented by delegates at the second International Moral Education Congress, which had its formal opening here today. The sessions will last five or six days and will be addressed by numerous speakers of international prominence.
