

WHY SHOULD NOT OLD PEOPLE RETAIN THEIR YOUTHFUL VIGOR

No Reason Why Men And Women Of Sixty, Seventy And Eighty Should Not Be Well—The Secret Of Happy Old Age

"Fruit-a-tives", The Famous Medicine Made Of Fresh Fruit Juices, Again Proves Its Great Value In Curing Kidney Trouble.

Old age pays the cost of living. Few men and women of fifty, sixty and seventy are free of Kidney Trouble. Hard work, mental strain and general debility, tell in the long run. And many men and women show they have Kidney Trouble by suffering with pain in the back, headaches, rheumatism, sciatica, bladder disease.

To such people "Fruit-a-tives" has proved one of the wonders of the age—and the most remarkable discovery of the century in modern medical science. This fruit medicine has performed hundreds of cures where the sufferer had been told that the case was incurable.

Take, for instance, Mr. Geo. W. Barkley, a prosperous farmer and one of the leading citizens of Dundas County, Ontario.

At seventy-six, he is the picture of health—with the vigorous actions and the sprightly step of a man of fifty.

Yet for twenty years, he suffered with Kidney Trouble. He took "Fruit-a-tives" and it cured him.

CHESTERTON, ONT., JAN. 25th, 1911
"For over twenty years, I have been troubled with Kidney Disease, and the doctors told me they could do me no good, and said I would be a sufferer all the rest of my life. Nearly a year ago, I tried "Fruit-a-tives". I have been using them all the time since and am glad to say that I am cured. I give "Fruit-a-tives" the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible."

GEO. W. BARKLEY.
"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit, and is the only one that acts directly on the kidneys. It cures. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THIS IS MY 44th BIRTHDAY

James K. Flemming, premier of New Brunswick, was born in Woodstock, N. B., April 27, 1868. As a young man he taught school for several years, afterwards engaging in mercantile pursuits. For a number of years he has been prominent as a manufacturer and dealer in lumber. His political career dates from 1895, in which year he was an unsuccessful candidate for the legislative assembly. He was elected in 1900 and re-elected in 1903 and 1908. He entered the Hazen administration in 1908 as provincial secretary and receiver general. When Mr. Hazen resigned last fall to enter the Dominion cabinet Mr. Flemming succeeded him as premier of New Brunswick.

PREFERS SALOONS TO MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

Toronto, April 25—The Toronto Playgrounds Association passed a resolution yesterday asking the Provincial Government to institute a more rigid inspection of moving picture films, and also asking that women be appointed to the Board of Censors of films. In a course of a discussion on moving picture shows Chief Inspector J. L. Hughes of the Toronto public schools said: "If I had the power to close all the saloons or the picture shows of the city I would close the picture shows, even with the present censorship." Mr. Hughes claimed that the moving picture shows were affecting the eyes of children, as well as tending to inculcate habits of spending money.

Prior to this discussion Mr. C. J. Atkinson had suggested the appointment of a sub-committee to arrange for the holding of moving picture shows at the playgrounds. During the discussion Mrs. A. M. Huestis stated that the Local Council of Women had inspected the moving picture shows in the city and had found that they were very well conducted. Only one child under age was seen at the shows. At a later period of the meeting Mr. J. J. Kelso was named as convener of the sub-committee on picture shows.

A course of nine lectures will be given in May for the instruction of prospective supervisors of playgrounds.

ATROCIOUS ACTS OF GUERRILLAS

Galveston, Tex., April 25—Refugees from Mexico continue to tell of harrowing experiences with Mexican guerrillas and self styled unsurreptitious in the southern republic.

W. R. M. Limes, an American attorney of Honolulu, declares he personally knew of torturing and murdering of the wife of a German settler, by brigands. The woman's husband had given the brigands all his money. They demanded more, being refused, they tortured the housewife, heaped indignities upon her, then thrust her through with machetes. They compelled the German to witness his wife's dying moments while he was powerless to aid her.

GOOD REPORT BY BANK OF ENGLAND

London, April 25—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes:—Total reserve increased £1,661,000; circulation increased, £1,671,791; other securities decreased, £1,913,000; other deposits increased, £17,000; public deposits decreased, £401,000; notes reserve increased, £1,665,000; Government securities decreased £126,000. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 43.42 per cent, last week it was 45.39 per cent.

NATIONALISTS SATISFIED WITH HOME RULE BILL

Dublin, April 24—The leaders and the rank and file alike are delighted and astonished at the success of the Nationalist convention.

Modern politics has never seen a more remarkable and enthusiastic demonstration of unanimity, which is all the more astounding because Premier Asquith's bill fails to give much that some of the Nationalists hoped for, and still hope, in part, to secure.

When Mr. Redmond put the resolution accepting the bill, and not a single dissentient voice was heard, the whole body of the 7,500 registered delegates, from every corner of Ireland, rose to their feet; a multitude of bowler hats fluttered in the air, as did also thousands of green flags and spotted handkerchiefs, and, with the deep throated voice of unanimity, thousands strong, there was let loose all the pent-up enthusiasm of the nation for the promise of freedom, long sought for, and now within reach. Loud above the cheers and shouting could be heard a strong, "Aye, with the blessing of God, John!"

REDMOND IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Mr. Redmond excelled himself, in the opinion of his friends. There was the ring of conviction in his voice when he exclaimed:

"It is the greatest and most satisfactory measure of Home Rule ever offered to Ireland. It is more valuable than a mere repeal of the Union because whereas the executive of Grattan's Parliament was responsible to the English Parliament, the present bill provides, for the first time, for an Irish executive dependent on the confidence of an Irish House of Commons."

He added, with thrilling emphasis: "Dublin Castle—Dublin Castle, with all its evil, blood-stained tradition, will disappear!"

WANTS NON-PARTISANS

There was no sound of dissent when Mr. Redmond went on and accepted cordially the safeguards. While believing, as all the other speakers affirmed, that safeguards were unnecessary, he struck a new and somewhat unexpected note. When commenting on the proposal for a nominated Irish Senate, he said:

"We want a second Irish Chamber, crowded with the men who have not been partisans of Nationalism; business men, professional men; men representing the arts, science and literature of the country; and if I had the nomination of the Senate I should put on it a large majority of this type of men." (Great Cheering.)

Quite a right impression, in the view of moderate-minded Irishmen, was made after Mr. Redmond sat down, by the two clerical speakers, one Roman Catholic and one Protestant, but the most dramatic touch was the presence of Gladstone's grandson, congratulating Ireland in the name of the Liberal party.

FREEDOM FIRST: FINANCE LATER

Mr. Devlin, the organizer of it all, made a most eloquent appeal to the convention to consider freedom first and finance afterward.

"We are not," he said, "trucksters or brokers, out for a commercial deal."

He appealed to the character and record of the Roman Catholic population as the chief safeguard for Ulster, and said:

"We decline to stand forever on the banks of the Boyne."

G.T.R. REPORT FINE RECEPTION.

The London financial papers, in reviewing the Grand Trunk's half-yearly report, express the greatest satisfaction over the progress made under the late Mr. Hays. The Financial Times remarks in an editorial: "The full report provides abundant material for comment. All branches of traffic expanded, but principally the goods section. The quantity of freight and live stock carried increased 1,371,500 tons, whilst the short distance business grew so much that the tonnage conveyed one mile expanded by 240,151,900 tons. The large increase from gross receipts from freight occurred despite a drop of 1,43d in the average rate per ton secured. The number of passengers rose by 716,300 and the mean fare declined from 44, 40d to 43, 65d. Train mileage was greater by 825,400 miles and the average takings per train mile went up by 2, 74d. The expenditure per train mile rose only 1, 87d. This is extremely satisfactory considering the heavy rises in wages that have occurred. The Financial Times also comments approvingly on the fact that nothing was spent out of capital on rolling stock; but considerable additions were made at the expense of revenue."

The Merchants Bank has declared the regular dividend of 2½ per cent for the quarter payable June 1st.

TO SUE FOR CLOTHES LOST ON TITANIC

The above list, with accompanying information as to where the several articles were purchased, is set forth in the course of an affidavit by Baron von Drachstedt. Mr. Opp declines to state whether he will advise his client to sue until he has had time to look up the maritime law dealing with the subject, and refuses to discuss the case from a legal standpoint until he has made himself familiar with the law.

SUCCESS OF SUIT WOULD MULCT LINE OF MILLIONS.

Should Baron von Drachstedt being a successful action for compensation for the loss of his wardrobe and jewelry, a precedent would be set which would, of course, result in the White Star Line being mulcted for almost incalculable damages for the loss of personal and other uninsured property left with the Titanic.

Insurance experts now calculate that the total losses on the Titanic will aggregate near $15,000,000, two-thirds of which will fall on the marine insurance companies. American companies doing a general insurance business have also felt the brunt of the disaster heavily.

The greatest individual loss, not even excepting Lloyds, will, it seems, have to be borne by the Travelers of Hartford, which in accident risks alone is liable for $1,000,000 on policies held by Titanic passengers, as well as $85,000 on straight life policies. This company also has an added loss on marine insurance, it is conjectured, as it is one of four or five companies doing that kind of business. Others are the Aetna, Pacific Mutual and the Columbian National.

It is said that Lloyds carried $5,000,000 insurance on the ship alone, for indemnity to its owners, though Johnson & Higgins, the brokers who placed the insurance, say that only $1,050,000 was placed with the underwriters at Lloyds and that the remainder was widely distributed throughout the world.

Insurance Field, the insurance journal, however, places the loss in marine insurance at $10,000,000 and underwriters assume that the added $5,000,000 over the insurance itself represents policies covering cargo and valuables in transit.

The insurance newspaper mentioned sums up the losses as follows:
Life insurance, ..... $2,193,000
Accident insurance, ..... 2,213,000
Marine insurance, ..... 10,000,000

Total, ..... $14,406,000
