TWO GREAT LEADERS

A writer in The Montreal Herald very vividly contrasts the late head of the Salvation Army with the present head. Of the elder and probably the greater Booth, the author says:

Looking at him, as the writer has done from probably a dozen platforms some of them separated by distances measuring half the earth's circumference, it seemed as if he had lived bareheaded in tempest and tumult, as if the powers of darkness had swooped down upon him as he flogged the enemies of God with cunning words and stormful gesture, as if Satan, who had assailed him with craft and cunning, had been baffled a hundred times and had struck him with blasts of hate and revenge.

There was no smoothness in the man, no oil, no softness, and but littleunction. One could not imagine him with pomaded hair, a straight parting and Heppish hands. He was rough cut from the rock. One thought that Satan had many times seized the mighty nose of this fiery prophet, and endeavored thus to fling him hammer-like into space. One never thought that the old general had been bred in an atmosphere of teacups and wool-work.

What a human dynamo is here described.

The son, on the other hand, would pass anywhere for an evangelical bishop. He is smoothness itself. Shorter than his father, fatter, rounder, and kinder, he has the engaging manner and the cordial voice which gave human pleasantness to diocesan functions. His face is full and round; white mutton-chop whiskers add the corrective note of professorial dignity to cheeks otherwise entirely jovial; his white hair sticks up high from his head; his eyebrows are black; his small brownish eyes twinkle; he wears a princely air at the end of an unassertive nose; his mouth is tight and buttonish; the tone of the complexion, heightened by the black eyebrows and the white hair, is a greyish brown. A nice face, the face of a busy man, an indulgent father and a rather pedantic head master.

Bramwell Booth is a man whose walk has acquired a style that some say is characteristic of the man. He never does anything slowly and walking least of all. The walk of a man is perhaps a guide to his character. He is in a hurry, but he desires to hurry pleasantly. He may have to knock you down and go over your body, but the blow will be a feather-weight and he will step as lightly as possible over your tenderest feeling. He is full of business, but his business is to be urbane. He has a thousand things to do, but kindness is the soul of all of them. If you waste his time, he will introduce you to one of his staff with so confidential a manner that you feel dignified and ennobled. If you have something useful to say, he will stretch his legs, lie back in his chair, and give you a feeling that he was never so entertained and diverted and interested before; but directly you have said all that is essential, up he will spring into an alert attitude, say what he has to say in reply, jump to his feet, extend a warm hand and dance you out of the room to the stair-head before you are quite sure that you have got your umbrella and gloves in your hand.

It is evident from all this, however that the younger Booth is also a leader of men and an accomplisher of great things.

Notwithstanding the fact that thousands of men are employed in railway construction work in this section potatoes are selling for a good deal less money than they did a year ago. That wonderful home market which the flag flappers told us so much about last fall must have gone abroad on a holiday trip.

Do the farmers of York County need larger markets and freer trade? Ask some of the farmers who planted more potatoes than usual this season.

The farmers of New Brunswick are unable to sell their potatoes this year for want of a market. The Flemming government is going to relieve the situation by providing settlers from the Old Country with ready made farms so that the production of potatoes may be increased.

"We want a larger market and that market is in the United States," Sir Wilfrid Laurier told the electors of Soulanges on Saturday. The farmers of New Brunswick who are being offered seventy-five cents a barrel for potatoes ought to endorse Sir Wilfrid's sentiment.

The farmers of York County who took their cue from the flag flappers last fall and voted against reciprocity are now in a position to sell their potatoes at seventy-five cents a barrel in the "home market."

The Tory flag-flappers who bamboozled the farmers of York into voting against reciprocity last fall ought to buy their potatoes now and pay them a decent price for them.

Premier McBride says that the people of British Columbia stand for a Canadian navy. He says that the Laurier policy is all right but it did not go far enough.

The Canadian riflemen made a gallant fight for the Palma trophy at Ottawa on Saturday but lost it by eight points.

How do the farmers of York like the prospect of selling their potatoes in the "home market" for seventy-five cents a barrel?

RICHILIEU IS VERY ACTIVE

New York, Sept. 16—The dullness in the market became pronounced towards the end of the first hour when the trading settled down to wait the opening of the money market. The tone was firm however, and commission house reported some little increase of public interest. Announcement of an engagement of gold for import tended to promote an easier feeling regarding money situation although it was not believed that improvement would become heavy at this time.

Montreal, Sept. 16—London continued buying and the rumor that further developments re Richileu & Ontario to benefit of the shareholders. There is some talk of gunning for Rodolphe Forget.

MIKE GIBBONS WON

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 14—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul, showed much superiority over Young McCartney of this city, in their scheduled six round bout at the National Athletic Club here, tonight. The referee stopped the fight, McCartney laying helpless on the floor when the gong sounded at the end of the second round. Gibbons hit McCartney where he pleased and had the Philadelphian completely at his mercy.

GOLD HUNTERS RETURN FROM NORTH

St. Johns Nfld, Sept. 16—After great hardships in the frozen North, Captain J. Bartlett of the steamer Neptune of this port, who headed a gold hunting expedition to Baffin Land returned to this harbor reporting the loss of one of his ships and the discovery of extensive coal deposits but no gold. The sealing steamer Algerine of the expedition was lost in Ponds Inlet. After she was crushed in the ice, the ships company walked forty miles over the floes to land and found a cache left by Captain Bernier. For two weeks they subsisted on four crackers each per day, while they worked their way to Button Point 70 degrees north latitude where they were picked up by the Neptune. The party was unable to penetrate far into the interior owing to ice and unfavorable weather conditions.

The Neptune brought two tons of ivory, sixty bearskins, one muskox and a live polar bear, which is the property of Mr. Pell a wealthy sportsman who was one of the explorers.

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF HAMILTON GIRL

Toronto, Sept. 14—While Hamilton detectives are hunting everywhere and police are watching the boats and making other enquiries, the whereabouts of Ethel Greene of Burlington Beach, baffles all. After finishing her walk at six o'clock last Tuesday evening Miss Greene disappeared. Yesterday morning a letter purporting to have come from her was received by the family. In it the writer states that she has married Thos. White. The costume in which she was married is also described. Who Thos. White is and where she met him, or anything else, she does not volunteer. Near the end there is a postscript to the effect that they will reside in Buffalo. Ethel Greene is only seventeen years old, she has never kept company with any young man and in addition to this she has never shown any inclination for the society of them.
