to the Zam-Buk Co.
Dear Sirs,—I have found Zam-Buk most reliable for healing cuts and abrasions; while for the relief of skin irritation it is invaluable.

Zam-Buk Cures Bad Burns.

Stoker Kingsnorth, of H.M.S. "Cochrane," says:—"I slipped and fell with my arm on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly frizzled the skin. At once the ship's surgeon dressed my arm, but the burns took the wrong way, owing to a lot of dirt from the pipe setting up blood-poison. A large scab appeared, and from underneath the festering flesh, matter oozed out. I was in fearful pain and didn't know how to get ease.

"For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments proved no good. Indeed, I got worse. I therefore obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first application, healing commenced; and a few boxes of Zam-Buk healed my wound completely."

Zam-Buk cures eczema, ulcers, abscesses, ringworm, bad leg, varicose ulcers, piles, cold sores, chapped hands, hailes sores, etc. All stores at 50c., or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send 1c. stamp for trial box.

AMERICAN HEIRESS WEDS PEER'S SON

New York, Oct. 1.—An international love romance somewhat out of the ordinary culminated in the marriage today of Miss Antoinette Hecksher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Hecksher of this city, and the Hon. Oliver Sylvain Balloil Brett, eldest son and heir of Viscount Escher of England. The wedding took place at Win Coma, the country estate of the bride's parents at Huntington, L.I. The bride had Mrs. Dreincourt Martin as matron of honor and the only attendant. Cyril Stephenson, a countryman of the bridegroom, was best man.

The engagement of the couple was first announced more than a year ago. Some months later society was surprised to learn that the engagement had been broken. Mr. Brett was quite ill for some time and after his recovery he was seen frequently with Miss Hecksher's brother and other members of the family during his former fiancée's absence in Europe. But there was never any suggestion of the engagement being renewed until the cable announced some two or three weeks ago that Mr. Brett had sailed for New York to claim his bride.

Mr. Brett is the eldest son of Viscount Escher. The title is a recent one, having been conferred on Mr. Brett's grandfather in 1885. The bride of today will inherit a fortune of many millions from her father. She is highly cultivated, has traveled much, and is actively interested in the woman suffrage movement.

HOW THE PLEDGES ARE CARRIED OUT

One of the planks of Mr. Borden's platform when he was campaigning in the West last year was that, if he were returned to power, his Government would take over and operate the terminal elevators. Mr. Borden has not given the slightest indication of fulfilling this pledge. On the contrary, his Minister of Trade and Commerce has directly admitted that the Government would not do so, and recently a significant news despatch to the Halifax Herald contains the very significant news that a syndicate including Sir Max Aitken M.P., and R. B. Bennett, M.P., have gobbled up some eighty elevators and of course they are going to operate them as a moneymaking scheme. If Mr. Borden's political friends are investing millions of dollars in Western elevators, it does not look much like government operation. Another pledge gone.

LOUISIANA SULPHUR MINES

Lake Charles, La., Oct. 1.—Many chemists of world-wide renown are now in Louisiana, fresh from their international convention at Washington, and will spend tomorrow at the sulphur mines near this city. These mines produce the sulphur of the United States and so extensive are the deposits that it is said the entire world could be supplied. The existence of the sulphur bed was discovered some twenty years ago, during exploration for oil, but no successful method of mining it was discovered until ten years ago. The sulphur lies 400 feet underground and is covered by 200 feet of quicksand. The mining is now conducted by a patented process, which consists of melting the sulphur underground by forcing superheated steam and hot water into the bed and raising the

DOCTORS SAID IT WAS HEART FAILURE

And Gave Me Up—But "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Me

MOORFIELD, ONT., MARCH 25th, 1910
"I suffered from severe Indigestion and Dyspepsia for nearly two years. I could not take food without fearful distress. Two doctors thought my disease was Heart Failure and incurable, and I expected to die in a short time. My son asked me to try "Fruit-a-tives". From the outset, I was better and gradually this fruit medicine completely cured me.

I took perhaps a dozen boxes—now I am cured and have gained over 30 pounds in weight."

POLLUTION OF THE LAKES

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—The international joint commission on waterways met in this city today for what is regarded as the most important session that has yet been held by that body. The chief purpose of the meeting is to formulate a programme for the United States and Canada. This question, in the opinion of officials of the two governments has become the most pressing of all problems affecting the welfare of the people of the two countries.

CANADA TO REVIVE THE OYSTER INDUSTRY

After twenty years of depletion the oyster fishery of the Maritime Provinces of Canada just now bids fair to take on a new lease of life. But it will no longer remain the oyster fishery. It will be known as oyster farming. Nature long attended to the trouble of sowing for the oysterman. But he abused her kindness, and now he has to learn the lesson that sowing comes before reaping.

Meanwhile the Canadian oyster is a rather scarce article, and its scarcity is measured in the price we have to pay. Twenty years ago a barrel of oysters could be obtained at wholesale for $1.90. Recently they have gone as high as $10 per barrel. So great has been the rise in value that in spite of a great falling off in the yield, the value of the catch has risen by more than half. Thus in 1882 there were 64,646 barrels of oysters taken, but they were valued at a little less than $123,000. In 1910 the catch was only 29,727 barrels; but the value was $198,689.

So today we pay fifty per cent. more for our oysters, but get less than half we used to get. Seill, we cannot blame nature. She treated us very generously until we treated her barbarously, and then she gave up the struggle on her behalf with a broken heart.

The labors of the other oyster on behalf of humanity are quite staggering. There are various estimates of the number of eggs she lays in a year; but the smallest is 16,000,000. Assuredly she cannot be accused of encouraging race suicide.

All her labors, however, have been in vain. So long as she had to meet only the vicissitudes of the sea, she managed to keep her family at about the same proportions. This was the day when our oyster fishery was prolific. From 1882 to 1893 the yearly production never fell below 50,000 barrels. Man's inroads seemed to be enormous; but so long as he confined himself to normal fishing operations the supply did not fail. Mother oyster was able to meet the vicissitudes of the sea and minister to man's legitimate wants as well.

But man would not give Mother Oyster a fair chance. "One feels a sense of shame," says Mr. M. J. Patton, assistant secretary of the Commission of Conservation, "at the wanton waste that is revealed in the history of the Canadian oyster industry. In early years oysters were actually burned in order to secure the lime in their shells. Ice fishing, which was not prohibited by law until the past decade, was another prolific cause of waste. The oysters were raked up from the bottom through a hole in the ice, the large ones sorted out for market, and the small ones
