In choosing and using a soap for your "Little Fairy" you will find no soap so mild, so neutral, so agreeable to tender skins as FAIRY SOAP.

Being made from products that you could eat, FAIRY SOAP agrees with even the tender skin of a babe.

FAIRY SOAP

is white—pure—floating. It comes in a handy oval cake. We could charge you five times the price asked for FAIRY SOAP and we could add nothing to its quality.

In higher-priced soaps you are paying for high-priced perfume and fancy wrappers—not better soap.

FREDDIE WELCH REGAINED ENGLISH LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE

Bout Went Full Twenty Rounds and
Matt Wells Lost on Points—
Welch Slight Favorite

London, Nov. 11—Fred Welch, the English lightweight, regained his title of lightweight champion of Great Britain in a twenty-round fight fought with Matt Wells, the British title holder. The fight went the full distance, Welch winning on points.

A great crowd gathered in the National Sporting Club, where the contest was held, and witnessed a clever bout in which honors were fairly even throughout. Welch was a slight favorite in the betting. There was some holding and the referee several times cautioned the men to box cleanly.

In the early rounds Welch had slightly the better of it, Wells' work being a little ragged. Both tried desperately in the final rounds to score a knockout.

At the end of the twentieth Welch's right eye was nearly closed, but the referee had considered that he had done the better fighting.

CLAUDE HENDRIX COMING PITCHER OF BIG LEAGUES

Made Great Record With Pittsburgh Pirates This Year—Is a Strike-out-Artist—Has Good Control—Joined Pittsburgh on Receipt of Car-fare

The price paid for a ball player means nothing. Marty O'Toole cost the Pirates $22,500. Claude Hendrix joined the Pirates on receipt of car fare. During the season of 1912 Hendrix made a great showing. In fact, his good work was one of the main reasons why the Pirates finished so high in the race. He won twenty-two and lost nine contests, and helped out in a few others.

Manager Fred Clark played no favorites when using the right-hander. He was worked in his turn, every four days, and did equally well against all the members of the National League. Hendrix's work during the season was as good as that of any other hurler on the Pirate payroll, if not better. He won more games than did the costly Marty O'Toole.

Being a young man, Hendrix has a good future before him and next season should do even better than he did during the campaign just closed. But you can never tell. He may be the same as King Cole, after that worthy pitched such great ball for the Cubs for one season and then went back.

STRIKE-OUT ARTIST

Hendrix did great work as a strike-out artist. He made no records of fanning a dozen or more batters per game, but just the same he whiffed enough batters to be proud of the record. In the thirty-five games or parts of which he worked 161 batters were forced to take an average of 4.6 whiffs per game, which is not bad.

He is the owner of good control. True, he walked a good many men in one game on several occasions, but his walking record for the season shows he has passed only 95 batters, less than three per game. This thing of control brings about the downfall of many a youngster but Hendrix had it and that is one of the main reasons why he succeeded so nobly in the Tom Lynch organization his first real season, although he did work for the team the latter part of 1911.

BOSTON BRAVES EASY.

The Boston Braves proved the easiest picking for him. He faced this team on five occasions and each resulted in a victory. The other team that was unable to win over him was the Chicago Club, which was beaten on three occasions, while the Superbas managed to win one contest from him. Not a club in the league escaped a trimming at his hands. The Reds contributed one to his record, the Cardinals two and the Phillies and Giants three each.

Among his record of wins four were shutouts. He set the Braves down without a tally on three occasions, while the Cubs suffered the other whitewash. Then thirteen of his contests were decided by the small margin of one run. Ten of these were chalked up on the right side of the ledger, while three went the wrong way. All of which shows that he pitched considerably well during the season.

GROVER HAYES KNOCKS AUSTRALIAN FIGHT FIELD

San Francisco, Nov. 9—Grover Hayes, the Columbus, Ohio, lightweight, returning from Australia with his manager, Willard Stuart, reports that the reported prosperous field there for American boxers is entirely overestimated. Stuart also charged that Hugh McIntosh, the principal Australian promoter, broke the contract which McIntosh's representative, Tom Andrews, had given Hayes before he left this country.

"Rather than suffer this injustice," said Stuart, "we paid our own way home when McIntosh had guaranteed us round trip tickets."

"Sam Langford received only $325 for defeating McVey in Melbourne recently."

"The Sydney Stadium, which he said would seat 20,000, holds but 9,000 at the most. The prices range from fifty cents to $2.50."

"Australian fight rules prevail, forcing boxers to separate as soon as one's head touches another's shoulder."

KILONIS WON FROM BAUN AT MONCTON

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 11—John Kilonis, middleweight wrestler, tonight defeated Jem Braun, a sturdy German butcher boy. Kilonis took the match in two straight falls, but his laurels were not won without a hard struggle. Over 500 people witnessed the match. Kilonis won the first fall with a three-quarter Nelson, and toe hold in twenty minutes thirty-two seconds, and the second in sixteen minutes, forty-two seconds with a crotch and half Nelson.

Several times Braun had Kilonis in a tight corner, but his science and knowledge of the game saved him. In strength and endurance the men were very evenly matched, but Kilonis displayed superior skill and speed.

BOMBARDIER WELLS TO BEGIN CAMPAIGN ON THIS SIDE

American Sporting Authorities Doubt
His Ability—"White Hopes"
Again to the Front

New York, Nov. 11—Bombardier Wells, England's heavyweight champion, has announced that he is to sail in a week or two for this country. He hopes to be able to strengthen the impression followers of boxing on this side of the water have of his prowess, and, of course, gather in some money. When he makes his re-appearance here he will find plenty of work to do, provided he does not demand more than his services are worth.

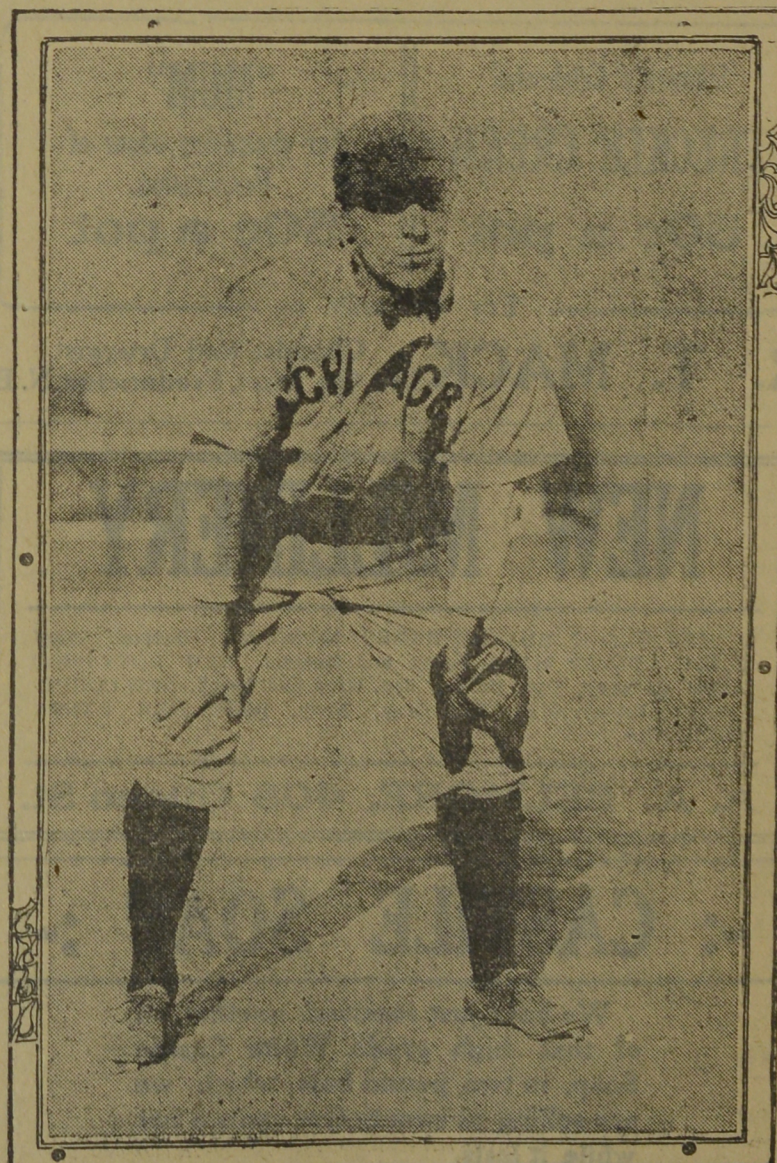

On the eve of his departure from this country Wells was given a royal send-off, which included a banquet at which he was lauded in glowing terms for his skill and sportsmanship. Quite possibly his opinion of his worth was considerably enhanced by all this praise, and he may be disposed to make capital of it when negotiating for matches over here.

But while England's champion is a fine boxer, he is not likely to work much havoc among the men he will be called upon to meet. Unless he has gained in stamina to a surprising degree during his stay in England he will not be a good bet with any one of several of our burly white hopes who can take a punch as well as give one, even if they can't box much.

This winter will see many battles between big fellows known as "white hopes." The various heavies who have attained prominence are laying plans to come to this city for the coming season. Perhaps by next spring one will have outdistanced all his fellows and be worthy of a championship match.

Al Palzer, who heads the band at present, is back in training. Apparently the big fellow viewed with alarm the rapid strides taken by his rival, Luther McCarty, lately and made haste to smooth things over with his manager so that he could resume action. Now that Palzer is back in the ring again an opportunity may soon be had to finally classify him. His manager plans to advance his standard with a rush as soon as he has had a chance to get his hand in again with a few easy matches. All restrictions are to be taken off the hitherto proscribed list of opponents, and he will be open to meet even the champion himself. Such is the announced policy that is to be followed, and if it is adhered to some interesting bouts are sure to result.

TINKER TO MANAGE THE REDS

Cincinnati, Nov. 11—August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Club of the National League, announces that Joseph Tinker, of the Chicago club, would be the 1913 manager of the Cincinnati club.

A despatch from Chicago says two Cincinnati players will be exchanged for Tinker, but the names of the players were not given out, and the deal, according to Murphy, depends upon the assent of Manager Evers.
