MANY MEN AT WORK

The logs that broke away from Mitchell boom in mid-summer and went into South Bay is now about rafted. Nearly 150 men have been busy at the work for five weeks and has task has been a very difficult one. The case is the only one ever known in this district where logs broke from the boom in mid-summer. The gang of men will move to Governor's Island on Wednesday to begin rafting 10,000,000 feet of logs which drifted there. Only part of the crew will begin the work but later it is expected to re-engage all the men. The work is being done by the St. John Log Driving Co.

FOUR ATTORNEYS SWORN IN TODAY BY SUPREME COURT

Two Will go West and Two Remain in Province to Practice—Common Motions Made This Morning ---Large Docket

Four attorneys were admitted to the New Brunswick bar this morning being sworn in before the full bench of the Supreme Court of the province which met here this morning. Of those sworn in two will practise in the west and two in this province. The attorneys sworn in are:

Ivan C. Rand, LL.B., (Harvard), Moncton.

J. J. Hayes Doane, St. Mary's.

Francis M. O'Neill, LL.B., (Dalhousie), Fredericton.

Hugh A. Carr, B.A., (U.N.B.), B.C.L., (King's College), Campbellton.

THEIR INTENTIONS.

Messrs. Rand and O'Neill both intend to practise their profession in the new province of Saskatchewan. Mr. O'Neill, who is the eldest son of Ald. Hugh O'Neill of his city, will leave on Thursday for the west, his destination being Moosomin, Sask. Mr. Rand will leave in the near future with the intention of locating in Regina in the same province.

Messrs. Doane and Carr will practise in New Brunswick. The former will be associated with Mr. P. P. Peters in this city, and Mr. Carr will open his own office in Campbellton, where he resides.

It had been expected that Mr. Wm. Ryan of St. John, would also be admitted to the bar at the present sittings of the Supreme Court, but he has decided to follow journalism in the west, having joined the staff of The Regina Leader.

The Supreme Court en banc, November sittings, opened this morning. The following is the docket:

NEW CHIEF WILL INTRODUCE CHANGES IN POLICE SYSTEM

Organization by Districts Intended—Present Vacancy in Force to be Filled Shortly—New System of Records

The Police Commission met last night and had an informal conference with Chief of Police John H. McCollom, who took charge of the force yesterday. The policemen were present and were told that they were entirely under the control of the new chief, who would have powers of dismissal, suspension and appointment. Matters pertaining to the force were talked over and the new head intimated that he would put into effect some changes in the patrol system and also in the keeping of records. He is to have complete power with regard to law-enforcement.

CONTEMPLATED CHANGES.

Chief McCollom stated this morning that he was working out a system by which patrolling would be done by districts. The weakness of the force at his disposal will handicap the new chief to some extent. He intends however, to try various systems until he discovers one that is satisfactory. The system of police records which he intends to adopt is the same as that in vogue in St. John. Under it an arrest book, a report book, police court charge sheets and report sheets are to be used. The Police Act, City bylaws and other matters with which it is necessary policemen should be acquainted are to be printed in pamph-
