"Look here, Mr. 'Frobisher,'" he said in a low tone, "what do you mean by mixing me up in your petty larceny frays?"

Fraser grinned. "'Frobisher' is hot moniker, ain't it? It sounds like the money. I believe I'll stick to 'Frobisher.'"

"I spiked your miserable little scheme, and if you try anything more like that I'll have to cut you out altogether."

"Pshaw!" said the adventurer mildly. "Did you say that hydraulic mine was no good? Too bad! That reporter agreed to take some stock right away."

"Now, see here, Fraser, I want you to leave me out of your machinations absolutely. You've been very decent to me in many ways, but if I hear of anything more like this I shall hand you over to the police."

"Don't be a sucker all your life," admonished the rogue. "You stick to me and I'll make you a lot of money. I like you!"

Emerson, now seriously angry, wheeled and left him, realizing that the fellow was morally atrophied. He could not forget, however, that except for this impossible creature he himself would be lying at Petellin's store at Katmai with no faintest hope of completing his mission, wherefore he did his best to swallow his indignation.

"MR. ATHENS SENT ME DOWN TO GET A STORY."

Boyd hurried to a telegraph office and despatched two messages to Chicago, one addressed to his own tailor, the other to a number on Lake Shore drive. Over the latter he pondered long, tearing up several drafts which did not suit him, finally giving one to the operator with an odd mingling of timidity and defiance. This done, he hastened to one of the leading banks, and two hours later returned to the hotel, jubilant.

He found Big George in the lobby, staring with fascinated eyes at his finger nails, which were strangely purified and glossy.

"Look at 'em," the fisherman broke out admiringly. "They're as clean as a hound's tooth. They shine so I darsent take hold of anything."

"I have made my deal with the bank," Boyd exulted. "All I need to raise now is $100,000. The bank will advance the rest. That $100,000 makes all the difference in the world. The task is easy now. We will make it go sure. These bankers know what that salmon business is. Why, I had no trouble at all. They say we can't lose if we have a good site on the Kalvik river."

That evening Boyd and George started away, but could not locate Fraser. When the train pulled out a familiar voice greeted them:

"Hello, you!" and there was Fraser, grinning.

"What are you doing here?"

"Oh, I'm on my way east."

"Whereabouts east?"

"Chicago, ain't it? I thought that was what you said." He seated himself and lighted another long cigar.

"Are you going to Chicago?" George asked.

"Sure, we've got to put this cannery deal over," the crook sighed luxuriously and began to blow smoke rings. "Pretty nice train, ain't it?"

"Yes," ejaculated Emerson, undecided whether to be pleased or angered at the fellow's presence. "Which is your car?"

"This one—same as yours. I've got the drawing room."

"What are you going to do in Chicago?"

"Oh, I ain't fully decided yet, but I might do a little promoting. Seattle is too full of Alaskan snares."

The younger man shook his head. "You are impossible," said he, "and yet I can't help liking you."

THOUGHT IT WAS CANCER

"Fruit-a-lives" completely restored me
SYDNEY MINES, N.S., Jan. 25th, 1910.
"For many years, I suffered tortures from indigestion and dyspepsia. Two years ago, I was so bad that I vomited my food constantly. I also suffered with Constipation. I consulted physicians, as I was afraid the disease was cancer, but medicine gave only temporary relief."

I read in the 'Maritime Baptist' about 'Fruit-a-lives' and the cures this medicine was making and I decided to try it. After taking three boxes, I found a great change for the better and now I can say 'Fruit-a-lives' has entirely cured me when every other treatment failed, and I reverently say 'Thank God for 'Fruit-a-lives.'"

EDWIN ORAM, Sr.

"Fruit-a-lives" sweetens the stomach, increases the actual quantity of gastric juice in the stomach and ensures complete digestion of all sensible food. 'Fruit-a-lives' is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

QUEBEC MAN MADE WALKING RECORD

Montreal, March 22—In a race with death over the frozen snow-covered ties of the C.N.R. in Northern Quebec, Xavier Valliote of St. Adolph, established what is probably a winter walking record by covering 52 miles in a trifle over thirteen hours. Valliote was at La Tuque on Saturday afternoon when he received a message that a member of his family was dangerously ill at St. Adolph. He found that he could not get a train until Monday morning, so decided to walk. At 3.45 on Saturday afternoon he set out, equipped with a good supply of tobacco and a haversack with a sufficient supply of food and liquid to carry him through. All through the afternoon and night he kept up a pace averaging four miles an hour, sometimes going at a jog trot and then resting for a bit, starting again trotting over the frozen snow. It was a long and lonely journey, most of it through wild country, with occasional patches of settlement but Valliote never hesitated and at five o'clock on Sunday morning he reached Harvey Junction, where he got a sleigh home.

HARD TO DROP But Many Drop It.

A young Calif. wife talks about coffee:

"It was hard to drop Mocha and Java and give Postum a trial, but my nerves were so shattered that I was a nervous wreck and of course that means all kinds of ills. (Tea contains caffeine—the same drug found in coffee and is equally harmful.)"

"At first I thought bicycle riding caused it and I gave it up, but my condition remained unchanged. I did not want to acknowledge coffee caused the trouble for I was very fond of it."

"About that time a friend came to live with us, and I noticed that after he had been with us a week he would not drink his coffee any more. I asked him the reason. He replied, 'I have not had a headache since I left off drinking coffee, some months ago, still last week when I began again, here at your table, I don't see how anyone can like coffee, after drinking Postum!'"

"I said nothing, but at once ordered a package of Postum. That was five months ago, and we have drank no coffee since, except on two occasions when we had company, and the result each time was that 'my husband could not sleep, but lay awake and tossed and talked half the night. We were convinced that coffee caused his suffering, so he returned to Postum, convinced that coffee was an enemy, instead of a friend, and he is troubled no more by insomnia."

"I, myself, have gained 8 pounds in weight, and my nerves have ceased to quiver. It seems so easy now to quit the old coffee that caused our aches and ills and take up Postum." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Read the book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.
