

To The Electors of the City of Fredericton.

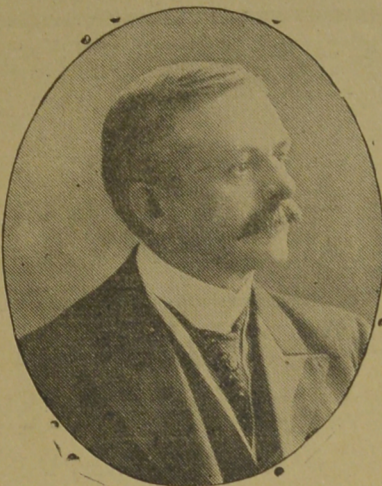

At the very general and urgent request of many of the citizens, I am allowing my name to be put in nomination as a candidate for Mayor.

There are indications of real progress in our city and I have the spirit to do my part in taking advantage of every opportunity to advance the welfare of all the citizens.

Respectfully soliciting your vote and influence, I am

Yours faithfully,

W. J. Osborne.

It is said that "Officer 666" which is now an established success in New York was rejected by a number of managers before it was accepted by Coban and Harris.

The British Labor party has decided to commence the publication of a daily paper, devoted to the interests of labor. The necessary funds for the undertaking has been subscribed.

ARTEMUS WARD'S ADVICE TO THE ORANGEMEN

(Toronto Globe)

How many of those in Massey Hall on Wednesday last recalled Artemus Ward's account of his interview with "the future King of England" half a century ago? The Duke of Newcastle had incurred the wrath of the Orange brethren by his refusal to allow the then Prince of Wales to receive an Orange political address on his visit to Canada. The humorist in his own inimitable way described the incident. A saving sense of humor would go far to solve the Ulster problem. But it is to be feared there were no Artemus Wards at the Massey Hall meeting. The humorous sally at the expense of the Orangemen can be recalled today with great profit by those who have ears to hear:

"Just then," says the great humorist, "I met a long perseshun of men with gownds on to 'em. The leader was on horseback, and, ridin' up to me, besed: 'Air you Orange?'"

"Sez I, 'Which?'"

"'Air you a Orangeman?' he repeat ed sternly."

"'I used to peddle lemons,' sed I, 'but I never delt in oranges. They are apt to spile on your hands. What particular loonatic asylum hev you and yure friends escaped from, ef I may be so bold?' Just then a sudden throwt struck me, and I sed: 'Oh, yure the fellers who air worryin the Prince so, and givin, the Jook of Noocastle cold sweats at nite by yure infernal catawalins, air you? Wall, take the advice of a Amerykin sittersen. Take orf them gownds, and don't try to get up a religious fits over Albert Edward, who wants to receive yaiu all a ekal footin', not keerin' a tinker's cuss what meet-in' 'ouse you sleep in on Sundays. Go home and mind yure bisness, and not make noonsense of yourselves.' With which observashuns I left 'em.'"

Much water has passed beneath the Boyne bridge since then. But Artemus Ward's advice still holds good. During those fifty years Orangism has been the pliant tool of Toryism in both Ulster and Canada. It has resisted every advance of the tide of democracy. It has clung with childlike tenacity to the tattered robes of the privileged classes, mistaking its shibboleths for the voice of Protestantism. How can the Hockens and the Gearys reconcile their professed horror of Roman Catholic rule with their quick response to the crack of the Tory whip when men like the Hon. J. J. Foy seek the suffrages of the Toronto Orangemen? How can the Rev. Dr. Hncks ask the Protestants of Canada to weep tears over the sorrows of a Protestant Ulster that stands on the same platform with that most subtle of all Ultramontanes and greatest foe of Irish self-government, the Duke of Norfolk? No weight can be attached to the paper resolutions of men who never dread an alliance with Popery if it be only of the true blue Tory brand. As Artemus Ward saw it fifty years ago so Orangism is today—"a long perseshun of men with gownds on to 'em." And their leaders still ride on horse back—ride in to place and emolument as the trusty agents of the Tory caucus.

EAT, SLEEP, LIVE IN NEWEST MOTOR

(Montreal Herald)

Mr. U. H. Dandurand, always a specialist in automobiles, who had the first automobile in Montreal, and who has been running cars ever since is planning to purchase a car which will have everything else on the American Continent lashed to the mast and yelling for help.

Mr. Dandurand's new car is not so much a car as a country residence on wheels. It is a sort of tip-less Pullman. It will contain four sleeping bunks, which may be pulled down and made up in regular fashion a smoking room and a kitchen. It will be the best car of its kind on the American continent, and it will cost Mr. Dandurand all of $15,000.

The new car will carry a man servant as well as a chauffeur. It is understood that the good old custom of leaving your boots out to be cleaned and finding somebody else's in their place in the morning, the step-ladder for upper berths, and the clothes message at the end of the trip will be strictly adhered to. For long tours over the country, Mr. Dandurand thinks his new car will be the best ever.

GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to its Natural Color

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea" and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit.

The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers.

The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty and makes it grow.

MR. LAVERGNE NOT SATISFIED

Quebec, March 1.—Mr. Armand Lavergne, back from Ottawa, says he is far from satisfied with the Keewatin bill before the Federal House as it now stands, because it is mute on the question of the Catholic minority rights, and does not contain the clause which should protect these according to the resolutions of Blake and Mackenzie.

Mr. Lavergne prefers not to give his opinion of the Government's conduct in the matter, and that of the French-Canadian Ministers until further explanations are given. He has not changed his opinion since 1905, where it is a question of accepting a half-measure that has already been condemned elsewhere, he says he will not accept from Mr. Borden what he refused from Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"Today," said Mr. Lavergne, "they want to leave Keewatin under Manitoba laws. That is to say under the Laurier-Greenway legislation, which was denounced by all the Conservative party."

"In the Conservative deputation from Quebec there will certainly be some who will continue to defend the principles which we have defended together and that in the company of certain Ministers who seem to have abandoned them."

ILLUMINATE NIAGARA FALLS

Niagara Falls, Ont., Mar. 4.—Plans have been perfected for the permanent illumination nightly of the falls of Niagara, which if carried into effect will result in the installation of the most powerful electric illumination in the world. Plans which will today be urged on the Ontario legislature, the New York Senate provide for the installation of a battery of twenty 30-inch projectors in the Gorge, set in a niche in the Canadian bank opposite the Falls and a battery of twelve sixty inch projectors on the top of the bluff, north of the transformer house of the Ontario power Company, west of Queen Victoria Park.

WAS TERRIBLY NERVOUS.

WOULD START AT THE LEAST NOISE.

Wherever there are people who are troubled with deranged nerves they will find that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will restore the equilibrium of these deranged centres, and bring back the shattered nervous system to a perfect condition.

Miss Emma Read, Laskay, Ont., writes:—"I have great pleasure in writing to tell you about the great benefit I have received by using your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About a year ago I was very badly run down and could hardly do my work. I tried different medicines but none of them did me any good. I was terribly nervous, and would start at the least noise, and even start in my sleep, which made me very weak. I used two boxes of your pills and I am now well and strong again."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25. For sale at all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
