WALKERTON, ONT., MAY 9TH 1911
"My trouble was extreme Nervousness, brought on by indigestion or Dyspepsia, from which I suffered in its worst form."

I took several boxes and am pleased to say I am now enjoying fine health.

MIRAMICHI TUNGSTEN MINES MAY PROVE VALUABLE

(Chatham World.)
Mr. Samuel Freeze is confident that there are millions in the tungsten mine he is about to open at Burnt Hill, Southwest Miramichi.

Besides tungsten ore, the mine produces topazes, several bags of which Mr. Freeze has gathered on the surface. Some of these will rank as gems, and the others will be ground for use as a polisher in place of emery powder or diamond dust. The capital of Acadia Tungsten Mines, Ltd., is $99,000, in shares of $10, and it is owned by Mr. Freeze, managing director; Mr. Matthew Lodge, president; and Mrs. A. E. Williams, executrix.

Mr. Freeze, who was a miner in the west in his youth, and visited the Klondike some years ago, has long been impressed with the conviction that New Brunswick offers as good a field for the prospector as any other land, and he has done more or less prospecting every year. This is his best find and he looks confidently forward to the sale of a great quantity of tungsten ore at a big profit. The ore is on or near the surface and the mine will be a producer from the start. Reduction works will be built at the mine for treating the ore.

In New York city 131,972 children between fourteen and eighteen years of age are now at work, 66,620 boys and 65,352 girls.

SIGNOR MARCONI GIVES FURTHER TESTIMONY

Washington, April 29—Mr. Marconi, whether the witness thought it was "wise and discreet" to run a ship at 21 knots through the night. Captain Moore said it was frequently done and that a field of ice seldom was met with at this time of the year where the Titanic went down.

"Suppose you had been advised that there was ice ahead would you consider it wise to drive your ship at that speed through the night."

"It would be most unwise."

THINKS HER SIDE WAS RIPPED OUT

Asked his opinion of how the Titanic met her end Captain Moore said he felt that the vessel struck the submerged spur of an iceberg which ripped her side as far back as the engine room.

Captain Moore was then excused and the committee took luncheon recess.

P.A.S. Franklin, New York manager of the International Mercantile Marine, said the first authentic information they got was from five their agent at Montreal though their first official news was from Captain Haddock of the Olympic. He added, however, that previous to either he had been informed by the Associated Press of the accident which had been reported by the Canadian Press.

"The information from Montreal, then, was correct?" queried Senator Smith.

"Marvellously correct," replied Mr. Franklin.

Mr. Franklin denied that any attempts had been made by the company to reinforce the Titanic after news of the accident had been received. She was insured for $5,000,000 and the company carried $3,000,000 as her insurance in its own fund. He added that the company did not insure the cargo but only the freight money.

PUT LIFE BELT ON STEAD

Andrew Cunningham, a state room steward on the Titanic, said the order to call the passengers had been given at 12.30, fifty minutes after the ship struck. "I don't think there was any emergency alarm to call passengers," he said.

"How are passengers alarmed in case of disaster then?"

"Each stateroom steward calls his passengers."

By 12.30 his passengers had gone on deck, said Cunningham, except Mr. Cummings who was getting on an overcoat.

"After that William T. Stead asked me to show him how to put on a life belt. That was the last one I put on. I never saw him again."

After all the boats had gone Cunningham said he and a mate had jumped clear of the ship as he was afraid of the suction and after swimming around was finally taken aboard a lifeboat. Those on the lifeboat were largely members of the crew who had been picked out of the water.

The manufacturing industries of the United States employ as wage earners 6,615,016 persons, or almost 14 per cent. of the total population.

Plans are being laid ultimately to unite all the workers in the metal and machine industry in New York in a metal workers' industrial union.

RHEUMATISM YIELDS TO ZAM-BUK

Read This Lady's Experience

Just at this season many people find themselves suffering from aches and pains of rheumatism, sciatica, etc. For these Zam-Buk is a sure cure.

Mrs. Mary Harman, Wheatley, Ont., writes: "I had rheumatism very badly. It affected my right arm and leg, and was so bad that I could not put my hand to my head or behind me. I was quite helpless, could not do my work, and could not dress myself, but had to be attended to like a child. The rheumatism in my leg was so bad at times that I could hardly walk."

"Naturally I tried various remedies but they seemed to do me no good. A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk. I obtained some and had it rubbed thoroughly into the affected muscles. Before the first box was used I was very much better. I could move around the house with ease, and dress myself, and needed very little personal attention. I continued with the treatment, rubbing Zam-Buk in thoroughly every day, and in a few weeks time the rheumatism was driven completely out of my system. The cure was permanent too, and since then I have never been troubled with rheumatism."

It is just as good for skin injuries and diseases, eczema, scalp sores, eruptions, piles, cuts, burns, bruises, scalds, etc. All druggists and stores 50c. box, or by mail from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto for price.
