DETROIT TO VOTE ON CITY OWNERSHIP

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 22—A special election will be held in Detroit today to settle the street railway controversy, which has been a burning issue ever since the late Hazen C. Pingree, during his term of Mayor, inaugurated a campaign for three-cent fares some fifteen years ago.

At today's election the voters will decide the fate of the Thompson-Nally three-cent fare plan, which provides for an extension of the present street railway franchise until 1924 with eight tickets for a quarter in the day time, six at night, and universal transfers. At the same time the voters will pass upon a proposal for out-and-out municipal ownership of the street railways.

The campaign which closed today has been the most hotly contested in the history of Detroit. The Board of Commerce is the leading proponent of the Thompson-Nally ordinance. Billboards and dead walls throughout the city have been covered with posters advertising the merits of the plan. Mayor Thompson and a corps of fifty assistants have toured the city daily making speeches for the ordinance.

It is generally believed that the three-cent fare plan will be carried and the proposal for municipal ownership defeated. The business men appear to be almost a unit in support of the Thompson-Nally ordinance. Sentiment among the workmen is more difficult to gauge, though a straw vote of the employees in many of the large factories indicates that the workmen also favor the three-cent fare plan. The women have taken a lively interest in the campaign, as the women taxpayers are to have a vote at the election.

The opponents of the three-cent fare ordinance are banking on the requirement of the constitution that, to carry, the measure must have not less than three-fifths of the votes polled. This means that the ordinance must have a majority of not less than 10,000 votes.

WOMEN STILL ARE PRAISING THEM

Mrs. Geo. Butler tells what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for her

She was tired, nervous and run down, and suffered from pains in the back but Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her Paquetville, Gloucester Co., N.B., Jan. 22—(Special)—That Dodd's Kidney Pills are suffering woman's best friend was never better demonstrated than in the case of Mrs. Geo. Butler, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place.

"My trouble was brought on by hard work," Mrs. Butler tells her friends. "For four years I suffered from pain in the back. I was always tired and nervous. My head ached and I had dark circles under my eyes, which were also puffed and swollen. I was in a generally run-down condition and feeling very much discouraged when I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills, and I can only say I found relief at once."

The strengthening of woman's health is the kidneys. If the kidneys are right the blood will be pure. Pure blood is absolutely essential to good health. Dodd's Kidney Pills make the kidneys right.

NE TEMERE DECREE WORRYING THE GOVT.

Ottawa, Jan. 22—There is a pronounced difference of opinion developing between the French Catholic and the English Protestant wings of the Conservative party in the House over the "Ne Temere" decree. Premier Borden is being pulled from both sides by these factions. The Protestant members from Ontario are pressing for government legislation which will legalize all marriages made in Canada by clergymen of every denomination, without regard to the religion of parties married. They contend that the victory of September 21 was a Protestant victory and that in Ontario the voting was largely against the "Ne Temere" decree. The Ontario members came to the session resolute to have a marriage law carried through and one of the first bills introduced was a marriage bill by Mr. Lancaster.

The Quebec element of the party has declared that the enactment of such a law would spell ruin for the prospects of the Conservative party in their province and have counseled delay. So far they have succeeded. Mr. Lancaster has had several opportunities to advance his bill, but has failed to take advantage of them and the belief is that he has been handled up to the present. However, he declares that the question must be dealt with, and there are at least fifty men from Ontario in the house who feel most strongly on this question. It is certain that if the government opposes the Lancaster bill when it comes to a vote there will be a heavy defection of Conservatives from the government. The question is an admittedly dangerous one for both parties and there are many members on the Liberal benches who would be well pleased to let this sleeping dog lie.

The government remembers the skillful manner in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier made use of a similar situation in 1896 and are not anxious to afford him the opportunity of repeating the trick. It is understood the government is anxious to shelve the question for a year or two by preparing a test case and obtaining the opinion of the Privy Council upon it. Deferring the evil day by delay of the law is being urged upon the Conservative Protestants from Ontario but they ask, why delay? If the Privy Council holds that the decree is illegal what difference would it make if they took action now to make that certain. If the Privy Council holds that the decree has the warrant of law they would then have to pass an act to set it aside.

So, why delay? That is what is being put up to Mr. Borden and his government today, and they have not decided what to do. In the meantime both the Ontario Conservatives and Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberals are waiting.
