FREDERICTON, N. B.

THE DUKE DELIGHTED OVER HIS WASHINGTON TRIP

than an hour. The Duke had no official message to bear from England, and the President had none to give. Their conversation was of the most general character, and the only formal welcome to His Royal Highness was that extended to him when he left his private car at the Union station, by Major A. W. Butt, President Taft's personal aide.

SHORT CALL AT WHITE HOUSE.

The reception in the White House was as unceremonial as state department officials and the British ambassador could make it. The Duke was presented to the President by Ambassador Bryce, and then Mr. Taft presented him to Mrs. Taft and Miss Helen Taft. The members of the cabinet and their wives were presented by Major Butt.

Following the formal reception tea was served in the red room of the White House by Miss Helen Taft.

At the Press Club the Duke made the first and only public speech of his visit to the United States. On being introduced to the assembly of newspaper men, he said:

"I assure you it is a pleasure to meet you gentlemen, who hold positions of such influence in this country. I hope you will always use it for the good of the world. I hope, also, that England and the United States will be always the best of friends for the good of the world."

The visitor, who was accompanied by Ambassador Bryce, had been assured that his visit to the Press Club would be informal. He was received with an uproarious welcome, and, seeing some members smoking, turned to the nearest.

"I am glad to see that this really is informal," he said. "May I ask for a cigarette."

He chatted with the members for some time and then signed his name in the guest book. He did not use his title, but jotted down "Arthur, the Governor-General of Canada."

DUKE RIDES IN ELECTRIC ENGINE.

New York, Jan. 25—There was a little ceremony as possible about His Royal Highness's departure for Washington today. He was escorted to the Pennsylvania station by Ambassador Reid and Lieut.-Col. Lowther, making the run from the Reid mansion in one of his host's limousines. The usual following of taxicabs, containing reporters and photographers trailed along, but there was no curious crowd to force a way through as at several points in the royal visitors' wanderings yesterday. The private car "Sidnet" had been provided for the Duke's use and attached to the express leaving the depot at 11.08.

The royal visitor was very curious and wanted everything explained to him. When he got to his train he wanted to know just how it was made up. Arriving at the big, double-bodied electric locomotive, he was introduced to Motorman Bartlett and entered the cab. Here there was more explaining and at last the Duke was asked if he would care to run the big engine. His Royal Highness was delighted at the prospect, and he set out at once to learn the uses of every little appliance in the cab of the locomotive. Col. Lowther remained with the Duke in the cab throughout the run to Manhattan transfer, where they both returned to the private car, after shaking hands with the motorman and thanking him.

THE BELFAST MEETING

a public meeting, but as the main objections appear to be directed against the holding of the meeting in Ulster Hall, I shall ask the Irish Association to accede to your wishes. There will be no necessity for your friends to endure the hardships of a vigil or sustain the anxieties of a siege. Neither will it be necessary for you to break the law in an attempt to deprive us forcibly of the use of property to which we are lawfully entitled.

"It is not a point of any importance to me where I speak in Belfast. On the contrary, I desire to choose whatever hall or place is least likely to cause ill feeling to the Orange party."

The letter concludes:

"It has, however, become of importance to public liberty that a meeting should take place at Belfast on Feb. 8 and I intend to hold it there in the lawful exercise of the elementary rights of citizenship."

Mr. Churchill's conciliatory move is calculated to lessen the chances of rioting at Belfast on Feb. 8. The Ulster Unionists appeared ready to take any risk to prevent Mr. Churchill from speaking in the hall where his father, Lord Randolph Churchill, had delivered his famous dictum: "Ulster will fight and Ulster will be right."

LIBERALS APPLY FOR HALL

Belfast, Jan. 25—The Liberal association applied to the corporation of the city for the use of Ulster Hall on the morning of Feb. 8, the day on which the Home Rule demonstration is to occur. The object of the application is apparently to enable the Nationalists to take the necessary steps in order to clear the hall should the Unionists who have engaged it for the preceding evening attempt to remain in possession. The corporation discussed the matter at considerable length but adjourned without giving a decision.

Belfast, Jan. 26—The city corporation today refused the request of the Liberal association for the use of Ulster Hall on the morning of February 8, the day of the home rule demonstration at which Winston Spencer Churchill first lord of the admiralty is to speak together with John E. Redmond the leader of the Nationalists.

The corporation also forestalled any further possible manoeuvres by placing a resolution not to let Ulster Hall for any further meetings of any kind in February.

PATIENT REFUSED

CRIMINAL'S ARM

Paris, Jan. 25—A well known French surgeon has a number of patients who have lost limbs, on their bodies, in place of those lost. After considerable difficulty, the surgeon obtained for one patient, the promise of the left arm of a butcher named Renard, who was guillotined last week. The surgeon's dismay however, the patient for whom the limb was intended, flatly refused to have a murderer's arm grafted on him. He declared there was no knowing what risk he might run, and would prefer to continue with one arm rather than stand the chance of running his disposition by going through life with a criminal's arm.

OSLER RIGHT, YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair is First Sign of Age, Harmless Remedy Restores to Natural Color

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well-known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't look old before your time. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what an improvement it will make in the appearance of your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

WILSON INVADES

NEW ENGLAND

Boston, Mass., Jan. 26—Governor Woodrow Wilson has come to New England with his presidential boom. Today he is in Concord, N.H., where he is to confer with some of the foremost Democratic leaders of the Granite State. Tomorrow he will be in Boston, speaking in the evening at the annual dinner of the Boston Real Estate Exchange, and on Sunday he will run down to Providence for the purpose of conferring with Former Governor Higgins and other distinguished Democrats of Rhode Island.

Politicians declare that the New England states are going to be as interesting politically this year as some of the other states that have been regarded in the past as "doubtful." Encouraged by the election of Governor Plaisted in Maine and the re-election of Governor Foss in Massachusetts, the Democrats are going to see what they can do toward carrying New England in the national election. First attention is to be given to Massachusetts, but the missionary work of the Democrats will not be confined to the Bay State alone. Maine is naturally looked upon as decidedly promising ground; New Hampshire, it is thought, is a vineyard waiting for the workers; Rhode Island gives promise of a harvest. Even Vermont is not to be neglected, for mutterings and rumblings are reported from the Green Mountains. Altogether the Democrats believe they see in New England very promising soil for cultivation this year.
