THE publishers of this paper draw your attention to the advertising columns, and particularly to the advertisements of the local merchants.

These merchants have invested their money in goods to satisfy the needs and desires of us all.

Their enterprise is a distinct service to our community. For this reason we should buy from them to the best of our ability and in so far as our needs and judgment of value dictates.

Then, too, the general commodities advertised in our columns are worthy of consideration. It is desirable that readers should ask merchants to supply advertised goods wherever possible. By doing so the cycle of trade is kept alive and inter-community commerce stimulated. We repeat—

FARMERS OF KESWICK HELD A SUCCESSFUL PICNIC

One Thousand People Listened to a Discussion of Political Issues by Mr. T. W. Caldwell, M. P.—The Meighen Government Roundly Denounced—A Time For Strict Economy in National Affairs.

The United Farmers' picnic at Mouth Keswick yesterday afternoon attracted a crowd of upwards of one thousand people and was highly successful in every particular. The weather conditions were ideal for such an affair and the farmers from the Parishes of Douglas, Bright and Queensbury, one of the most beautiful and fertile farming districts in New Brunswick, were on hand in large numbers. Most of them were accompanied by their wives and families and the latter saw to it that well filled baskets were an important part of the outfit. It was a real farmers' holiday and old and young made the most of it. A well dressed, orderly, good natured crowd, they were out for a good time and they saw to it that a score or more of people from the city who were fortunate enough to be their guests, were not lacking in enjoyment. While many of the picnickers travelled to the grounds by horse and vehicle, there was a surprisingly large number of autos parked on the grounds during the afternoon, most of which were the property of farmers.

The picnic was held on a beautiful meadow fringed by shade trees and located on the farm of Coun. Alex.
Brewer. Refreshment booths for the sale of ice cream and soft drinks were located beneath the trees and did a flourishing trade during the afternoon, and there were the usual games and amusements in addition to a programme of athletic sports.

The Speech Making.
During the afternoon there were speeches by Mr. T. W. Caldwell, M.
P. for Carleton-Victoria, Mr. S. H.
Hagerman, general manager of the United Farmers' Co-operative Company, Limited, and Mr. C. Gordon Sharp, secretary of the organization.
They spoke from a wagon from which the horses had been removed, and were listened to with close attention.
Messrs. Sharp and Hagerman confined their remarks to the commercial side of the farmers' organization, dwelling particularly on the benefits to be derived from co-operation in buying and selling. Mr. Caldwell, however, launched out in a discussion of political questions and paid his respects to the Meighen government now misruling at Ottawa. Mr. Caldwell is a six footer of fine appearance and during his two years at Ottawa has evidently kept his eyes open, as he seems to be singularly well informed on public affairs. In the course of his speech he devoted considerable attention to Premier Meighen's recent address at London, Ont., where he announced his intention of calling on an election before the end of the year. Mr. Caldwell said he noticed from the tone of the Premier's remarks that he proposed to make the tariff the chief issue in the coming campaign. He thought that this was a wise decision on the part of the Premier, especially if he thought it would be the means of camouflaging the big railway deficit, the problem of the unemployed, and some other matters concerning which the people may possibly desire some enlightenment. In dealing with the tariff he said that while the rate of duty may not have changed in recent years the people were paying far more in customs taxation than was the case a few years ago. Prices were higher and duty was now payable on the retail price, whereas they formerly paid on the wholesale price plus a reasonable profit. In the case of binders he pointed out that the duty was now three times greater than was the case a few years ago. There was also an import tax and a sales tax, which came out of the pockets of the consumer and incidentally gave the manufacturers that much additional protection. With regard to Premier Meighen he said that he would not go so far as to say that he was dishonest, but he had certainly not been honest in some of the statements which he had made in his London speech. The Premier, he said, had been trained as a criminal lawyer, and it seemed to him (Caldwell) that he was employing some of the tactics of the criminal lawyer in his defence of the administration of which he was the head.

The Railway Deficit.

Mr. Caldwell next devoted some attention to railway matters and refer-ed to the enormous deficit of $70-000,000 which had been incurred last year in the operation of the government railway system. A silver dollar, he said, would weigh one ounce and seventy million of them, allowing twenty tons to the car, would be sufficient to load more than one hundred freight cars. This was certainly a matter of some importance to the country, yet by making the tariff the sole issue the Premier was seeking to camouflage it.

In referring to the public expenditure Mr. Caldwell pointed out that it was now double that per capita of the people of the United States and quoted figures to prove his statement. He said that in the United States last year the expenditure per capita was $35, while in Canada it was $70 per head. Only recently the Secretary of the Treasury had warned the United States Congress that unless the most rigid economy was practiced in the matter of public expenditure, the nation would be face to face with bankruptcy, and he added that that happened in a country which is spending only one dollar to Canada's two. In touching on the luxury tax, which had been abolished by the Meighen government, Mr. Caldwell pointed out that it had yielded a much larger revenue than the sales tax, and he held that its abolition had been a mistake as people who could afford to indulge in luxuries were the people who should contribute generously to the revenue.

Ship Building

In referring to the wild orgy of extravagance going on at Ottawa, Mr.
Caldwell strongly condemned the government shipbuilding policy on which millions of dollars have already been sunk. He said that many of the ships had been built at a time when prices were at the top notch, and if sold today the government could not realize on those ships anything like what they had cost. A similar policy had been followed in the United States with the result that ships which had cost $90 and $100 a ton to construct were being sold under the hammer for as low a price as $2,000 each. In spite of this disastrous experience, parliament last year voted millions of dollars for the purpose of continuing this ruinous policy. The Farmers' Party had fought strongly against it, and it never would have passed the House had not the gag been applied in the form of closure.

In closing Mr. Caldwell spoke of the splendid fight which the Farmers' candidate, Mr. Ernest W. Stairs, had waged in York-Sunbury in the by-election of May last. He regretted exceedingly the defeat of Mr. Stairs, but considered that he had polled a magnificent vote. The farmers had no reason to be discouraged over their defeat, and he hoped that they would put up a candidate in the election soon to take place and see to it that he was returned as their next representative.

Hearty applause followed the conclusion of Mr. Caldwell's spirited address.

A Bountiful Supper.

Although the women now enjoy the franchise those in attendance at the picnic did not spend much time listening to the speeches, but quickly got busy preparing supper for the great throng. The long tables fairly groaned under the weight of good things upon them and presented a most inviting appearance. Their was seating accommodation for about four hundred persons and the whole crowd was disposed of in short order.
A committee of ladies were in charge of the tables and had the assistance of a bevy of pretty girls who performed the duty of waitresses. It was a splendid supper and was served free of charge.

The Burr's Corner Band, under the leadership of Mr. James White, was present during the afternoon and rendered a splendid programme of music, which was greatly enjoyed by old and young. The picnic was a grand success and those who had charge of the arrangements had every reason to feel gratified.
