LIQUOR PLENTY IN PARIS AS WATER SUPPLY DWINDLES

Paris, July 12—Americans with Bordeaux wine cost only a few sous. A surplus of stocks is considered inevitable. Several nations, such as Rumania, Belgium, Poland, Switzerland and the Scandinavian countries, the days when a jugful of the best have just given notice of their intention to raise their customs duties on all joy producing drinks, and as there is yet no sign of Russian and German markets opening to French vineyard products it will be a poor year as far as the producers are concerned—but what a time the visiting Yankees will be able to have!

Unless Paris gets rain soon and lots of it, it will be impossible for thousands of occupants of upper stories in hotels and apartment houses to take even a weekly bath. Although the outlying regions have had substantial storms sufficient to encourage the gardeners, the Paris districts are undergoing the most serious water shortage in forty years. The municipal authorities already have been forced to cut down the drinking water supply from springs and are diverting the more or less impure Marne water through house pipes. In some of the crowded quarters of the capital one can obtain water supply only up to the second floors.

The unusual conditions have brought into unexpected popularity the public and private bathing places in the Seine well known to travellers. But the Seine is probably the uncleanest of French rivers, and it is necessary after indulging in a so-called bath in its waters to spend at least half an hour in a real bathtub getting rid of the filth one has accumulated.

Doctors admit they are anxious over the situation, declaring that unless there is a long downpour Paris will be threatened with serious epidemics. The Seine's level has never been so low since 1865, and it is feared that tugboat and barge traffic between Rouen and Paris will have to be discontinued before August.

Misses Blanche Perley and Margaret McNally, of Fredericton, are guests of Captain and Mrs. J. L. McKinney.—St. John Globe.

Fisheries Inspector Randolph Cochran, of Chatham, is in the city today on business.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Weddall and Miss Margaret Richards, all of Fredericton are at the Duffering.—St. John Globe.

Joys of motoring—"You'd better close the windshield, Henry; I feel a draft."

ECZEMA Defied Doctors & Specialists

"For three years doctors treated me for a terrible attack of eczema," writes Madame Alphonse Lariviere, 671, Rodman St., Fall River, Mass. "Each in turn gave up the case as incurable. I then went to a specialist who charged $20 but did me absolutely no good."

"Though one could hardly have been more discouraged at the time when I heard about Zam-Buk, I decided to try it. I applied dressings of the balm regularly and for bathing purposes used only Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap. Very soon there was such decided improvement that I was encouraged to continue. The combined use of Zam-Buk and Zam-Buk Soap soothed and thoroughly purified my skin of disease." Zam-Buk's

SKIN-SOOTHING ESSENCES penetrate to the root of eczema, ulcers, ringworm, poisoned sores, etc. Zam-Buk not only clears away unsightly surface eruptions like pimples, blotches and rashes—it literally uproots eczema and other obstinate skin disease from the underlying tissues.

The first dressing of Zam-Buk soothes and cools the skin and ends irritation. Then when it has antiseptically purified the diseased parts, Zam-Buk promotes a new growth of clear healthy skin. All dealers 50c. box.

MANY MIXED MARRIAGES

Who are the parties to mixed marriages? What denominations are most largely represented?

In the last report of the registrar-general for Ontario, it is recorded that:

Of 4,626 Roman Catholic men who contracted marriages in the year, 640 or 13.8 per cent. married outside the Roman Catholic faith.

And of 4,587 Roman Catholic women, 601 or 13.1 per cent. married outside their faith.

The percentage is strikingly close. Of the 640 Roman Catholic men—271 or 42.1-2 per cent. married Anglican women.

136 or 21 per cent. married Presbyterian women.

154 or 24 per cent. married Methodist women.

43 or 6 per cent. married other denominations, including a Jewess.

Of the 601 Roman Catholic women who contracted mixed marriages:

238 or 39.1-2 per cent. married Anglican men.

162 or 27 per cent. married Presbyterian men.

127 or 21 per cent. married Methodist men.

22 or 3.1-2 per cent. married Baptist men.

52 or 9 per cent. married other denominations, including eight men of the Hebrew faith.

But 3,986 marriages between Roman Catholics were contracted in the year.

The total of 13.1-2 per cent. of Roman Catholics married outside their faith. This is a decrease since 1910, when 20.1-2 per cent. contracted mixed marriages.

WANTED TO DIE OUT OF DEBT

(By Dominion News Service.) London, July 13—"I want to die out of debt," said a very old man to the Clerk of the Ashton-under-Lyne Board of Guardians, as he walked slowly into the office and handed him $85.00.

The man is 81 years of age. Some weeks ago he was asked to pay a quarter a week towards the maintenance of a daughter in an asylum, but he fell into arrears to the amount of about $150.

Later he became entitled to an old-age pension, and he at once began to put aside a quarter a week out of his pension, and kept an account on an old piece of paper.

His daughter is still being maintained in the asylum, and the old man told the clerk to the guardians that he hoped to pay off the remainder of the debt.
