LOYD GEORGE EMBODIMENT OF BRITISH SPIRIT

REV. DR. J. H. M'DONALD
SPEAKS ON THAT LEADER

Contrasts Him With Woodrow Wilson—Expects Him to Solve the Present Labor Problem.

The large audience that gathered at the Brunswick street Baptist Church last night heard an edifying and entertaining lecture on "Lloyd George, The embodiment of the British spirit," by Rev. J. H. McDonald, a former pastor of the church and now of Wolfville, N. S.

In opening his lecture, Mr. McDonald stated that the present British premier was the only political leader in any of the countries engaged in the recent war who had his reputation augmented by his work in connection with it. The leaders in all the other countries had been unable to weather the storm of the complex problems arising out of the war.

Embodiment of British Spirit.

Every nation in the crisis finds its spirit embodied in one man. In the recent crisis Lloyd George was the man on whom all hopes of the British people depended. By his actions he has created many personal enemies he always had enemies, but all truly great men have. "Wasps and blow flies always seek a shining mark." This statesman has survived all their attacks and either left his opponents broken or made them his fast friends.

Mr. McDonald traced the early life of Lloyd George and by his clever exposition of the way he overcame serious obstacles and forced recognition by the nation at a very early age induced an enthusiasm in his hearers that was expressed by applause at first sporadic and restrained, on account of being in a church but later heartily voluminous.

The Present Crisis

The organizing of victory was accredited to the British premier by Allies and enemies but the greatest work he accomplished for the nation was at the peace table. At present a grave situation may be precipitated by an extensive strike. There is only one man in the country that can settle it and on him the public depend. He is characterized as an opportunist. This may be his failing but that is not probable for he knows the British people too well. He will find a basis on which all parties will agree and continue in office his reputation not dimmed but enhanced.

Contract With Wilson.

When war broke out Lloyd George called some former political opponents into the cabinet and was continually advised by them. "If Mr. Wilson had done that instead of keeping everything under his own hat" said

Church Filled.

Prof. Fletcher conducted the three o'clock Kenyon Evangelistic meeting in the Methodist Church yesterday afternoon. He also led the meeting for Boys and Girls at four o'clock.

In the evening the church was again crowded. Miss Porter spoke on the movies. "I am going to show you why we cannot back up the modern movies. It is the movies that are thrown on the screen today and not ancient history. Let us try and get the best things for our boys and girls. There has been a gradual development of the moving pictures. The type of pictures used at first was uplifted in contrast the pictures we have today. These pictures are degrading, dealing with crime and infelicity and murder and so forth. These conditions which exist today should not be. What is it that keeps this wrong thing going? The writers of the movies are trying to outdo each other in the startling and sensational and suggestive. The men are so far behind the women in writing these plays that women are employed to go over the men's productions to put tang into them.

Good Pictures Deceive

It is true a good picture is thrown in once in a while to deceive Christian people. This is Satan's way of deceiving the public. If all the pictures and picture houses were cheap and tawdry the whole business would soon go under. When you go to the good pictures you encourage filmdom to go on in the production of bad as well as an occasional good film. The girls anxious to become stars wait for days and days to get on the slate. Many a girl has gone to the bad waiting for a chance in a moving picture company. Thousands sell their souls while a the speaker, peace would have been completed and the United States would be occupying its place at the head of the League of Nations table". The sum of $158 was realized on the sale of tickets.

Are You Sure Your Children's Eyes Are Right?

A responsibility rests upon every parent to give his child every possible advantage in life; to give the child the best of weapons with which to meet the struggles of the years ahead. Surely, Good Eyesight is "the priceless gift" that your child should have.

Remember that poor eyesight means poor concentration and will retard the youngster's progress.

Many a child considered dull or lazy in school or music studies has simply been suffering from defective vision. And often correct glasses have changed entirely the record of performance. Perhaps your youngster's report card is reflecting the presence of eye-strain. Perhaps you are not doing your child full justice. Have an examination made—and KNOW.
