WRITER IN LONDON TIMES SUGGESTS A NEW BASIS FOR AN ANGLO-AMERICAN NAVAL ALLIANCE

GUARANTEE COMMON RIGHTS ON HIGH SEAS

Rules Would be Drawn Up Between Representatives of Both Nations — Suggests That They Use Their Best Endeavors to Induce Other Powers to Join.

Special to Daily Mail. Copyright 1920 by Cross Atlantic News Service.

London, Jan. 14.—Terms for a basis of an Anglo-American naval alliance are suggested by "Scrutator," in the Times, whose nom-de-plume conceals the identity of a well known personage. He suggests:

(1) England and the United States to jointly guarantee common rights on the high seas in accordance with rules to be drawn up between representatives of both nations.

(2) They would further agree to use their best endeavors to induce other powers to join in the guarantee provided they accept the rules so determined.

(3) They and all other signatories to the agreement would engage in the common against the enemy who attacks any one of them in consequence of the measures taken to protect the rights of all as defined in the agreement.

A discussion of the proposed agreement brings out the point that America and England would first define common rights and later signatories would be obliged to accept the definitions of the two charter powers if they wished to participate in the benefits.

POLICE MATTERS TO BE CONSIDERED ON SATURDAY

Commission to Meet on That Day—Chief Finley Declines to Make Any Statement.

The Police Commission will meet Saturday afternoon at three o'clock according to the statement issued today by the chairman William McKay. The sitting will be for the purpose of considering the three affidavits of Dr. W. R. Ross, Dr. H. H. McNally and Dr. A. L. Gerow to the effect that Patrolman A. Ford Yerxa now under suspension, is in physical condition for police duty.

Chief Finley who was in his office today after several days absence through illness, stated that he knew of no new developments in connection with the matter. He understood that there was dissatisfaction on the part of some members of the force on account of the prospect of Patrolman Yerxa returning to duty in view of the evidence given at the investigation by members of the force, but what form the dissatisfaction would take he did not know. He also declined to make any statement relative to the possibility of further charges against Patrolman Yerxa.

DRESS SUITS AND FLOWERS FOR THE CON. TABOOED

U. N. B. Students Believe Fair Sex Look Good Without Roses—A Precedent Followed.

At a meeting held today the U. N. B. students unanimously decided to follow last year's precedent and cut out the wearing of dress suits at the "Con" for the three lower classes. The latter will be easily recognized by a red and black rosette and further by being informally dressed, since all male guests must dress formally.

Two young men who usurped this privilege of the students last year have had their names struck off the invitation lists.

It was also enacted that "no member of the association with the exception of the Seniors, send flowers to any young lady previous to the "Con."

NOTED SPY PASSES AWAY

Montreal, Jan. 14.—A Paris cable to the Montreal Star says Ignatius T. Lincoln, the Hungarian Hebrew, famed as an "international spy," according to information from Budapest yesterday, has died.

Ignatius Trebitzch Lincoln, went to England several years prior to the war and having become a Christian was ordained a priest of the Church of England. He was given a cure in Kent and there became involved in a dispute with his bishop, ending in the resignation of his living and his deposition. He entered lay life and was taken up by the Cadburys, a strong Liberal family, and was by them introduced into politics. His rise was rapid and he was elected for the British parliament and continued to sit until after the outbreak of the war. It was then found that he was engaged in treasonable correspondence with the enemy and he fled to the States. He was eventually extradited on a charge of forgery and served a short term of imprisonment in England, being afterwards deported. It is understood he was later engaged by the German foreign office, but his later history is obscure.

His first Presidential vote was cast for eHury Clay in 1844. He has voted in every Presidential election since, also in every Gubernatorial election in Connecticut. After becoming a voter he has missed only one town election, and that was three years ago, when bad weather kept him at home. Mr. Dickinson still enjoys good health, reads the papers and takes keen interest in all public affairs.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT BEING PRESSED TO REMOVE THE EMBARGO ON CATTLE

Arrangements Being Made for a Big Municipal Conference in London on the Subject — Canadian Apples are Bringing High Prices in London—Borden's Comment on Disarmament Controversy Attracting Attention.

(Special to the Daily Mail, by Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service.)

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Commenting editorially on the high price of Canadian apples here, the Pall Mall Gazette says:

"What is wanted is a system of sale which would bring the producers into direct contact with the ultimate consumers. This can only be secured by cooperation. Why don't the Canadian apple growers establish their own agencies here so as to cut at the root of the evil against which they protest?"

THE CATTLE EMBARGO

From all influential quarters the government is being pressed to remove the embargo on Canadian cattle. Arrangements are being completed for a big municipal conference in London, to which representatives of city corporations and councils of England, Scotland and Wales are invited. Resolutions are being framed for passage urging the authorities to immediately abolish the embargo, pointing out that refusal will seriously diminish British flocks and herds.

THE DISARMAMENT QUESTION

Sir Robert Borden's comment on the naval disarmament controversy is still attracting large attention in this country, and is not dimmed by Secretary Daniel's statement before the Congressional committee yesterday, which seems to qualify his previous public utterances.

"Borden puts the matter into words so simple that no one can misunderstand," says the Daily Graphic. "There is surely logic in the demand that if the United States intends to build the biggest fleet in the world, she will immediately fortify the boundary between Canada and herself, for if she cannot trust us on the sea, she cannot trust us on the land. It is also true that if we cannot trust America we should fortify the American-Canadian frontier at once. If there is to be war between the United States and ourselves, it will be fought, so far as the land is concerned, in Canada. Such a situation is absolutely unnecessary and unthinkable."

WELLESLEY COLLEGE GIRLS HEAR A PLAIN TALK ON DANCING

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Not for many a day have Wellesley College girls heard an address that caused them to sit up and take notice like that delivered today by Mrs. Augustus Trowbridge, wife of a Princeton professor. Shimmying, toddling, balancing and cheek to cheek dancing are of African origin, she declared. Young Persons have learned them unwittingly.

"Dresses with backs which allow no decent rest place for the man's hands were originated by those of low caste; then they were copied by ladies," said Mrs. Trowbridge.

Mrs. Trowbridge advocated as remedies the elimination of the frenzied jazz music, that girls stop extreme dances among themselves while at college, that the programme dance, with no cutting in be used, that girls return to their chaperons after each dance and that there be no dangerous between-dance automobile rides.

CHARGES AGAINST GERMAN WAR CRIMINALS HAVE BEEN FORMULATED

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The charges against German war criminals under the Versailles treaty have been formulated and sent to the penal chamber of the supreme court at Leipzig, the chosen tribunal before which they will answer. The date of the trial has not been fixed, but the British government is pushing the matter earnestly.

AN AGED PEER WEDS BARBER'S ASSISTANT

Edinburgh, Jan. 12.—The romance of the 77 year old Viscount Melville and Miss Margaret Todd, who was until recently employed in an Edinburgh hairdresser's shop, culminated in a wedding at Melville Castle, Midlothian. The new Lady Melville, a state-ly woman of forty, with snow-white hair, motored from Edinburgh to the Castle with her sister as bridesmaid. She was dressed plainly in a walking costume trimmed with fur, and the ceremony was carried out in strict privacy. This is the aged viscount's third marriage. He has four sons and two daughters by his first wife.

FATTED PIG WAS KILLED FOR AIRMAN

Crowley, La., Jan. 14.—Louis A. Kloor, father of Lieut. Kloor, one of the three naval balloonists whose arrival at Mattice, Ontario, was announced the other day, closed his grocery store soon after he received the news and killed a fatted young pig, which will be prepared for the fete to welcome the young officer to his home. "It is what he likes best," Mr. Kloor stated, "and we want to give him a real 'home-folks' feast when he gets through with the necessary formalities and is able to come to us. The weather is cold now and the pig will be about right when he comes."

CANADIAN LUMBERMEN'S ASSOC. TO ADOPT A RECOMMENDATION TO NAME A TRAFFIC OFFICER

WOULD HONOR THE MEMORY OF COL. MACKENZIE

Fredericton Man Suggests That Sugarloaf Mountain be Re-named After Leader of 26th Battalion.

(Chatham Gazette.)

Mr. H. B. Bailey, of Fredericton, son of Dr. Bailey, formerly professor of geology at the U. N. B., was in town yesterday and when in conversation with the Gazette he made a suggestion that might well meet with the hearty endorsement of the province at large. It was in connection with the idea recently advanced by Rev. Fr. MacGillivray, chaplain of the 26th Overseas Battalion, at a dinner of the officers of that organization held in St. John.

Father MacGillivray had suggested that the province erect a monument in Campbellton to the memory of the battalion's gallant commander Colonel A. E. G. MacKenzie, who gave his life in the great war in the final hour of victory. Mr. Bailey advocates the naming of the prominent landscape feature of Campbellton, now known as Sugarloaf Mountain, for the dead commander and to call it Mt. MacKenzie. As this is easily the most striking mountain in the province within range of any large settlements, it would almost everyday be a reminder to everyone who travels by the C. N. R. from any part of Canada through this province of one of the most illustrious names that Canada has the right to inscribe on her war shield, and as the present name was only given from its resemblance to an article in every day use, the change can work no hardship on any person. As Col. MacKenzie was a Campbellton boy, the suggestion is still more pertinent.

Already British Columbia has named one of its big mountains for Edith Cavell and selected one that had borne a personal name, so that New Brunswick would have precedent for what seems a very suitable move.

COULDN'T STAND COLD TOOTSIES

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 14.—Cold tootsies on his back on frosty nights, even if they were those of his wife, was more than O. L. Copper of Republic could bear, and as a result he kicked his wife out of bed. That happened not once but several times, according to Mrs. Copper, who won a decree of divorce here today on charges of cruel and barbarous treatment.

Mrs. Copper declared the trouble began one night last winter when she gently placed her feet against her husband's war mback.

Copper objected and when she said her feet were cold and his back was warm, Copper kicked her out of bed.

London, Jan. 13.—Peter Hermann, the New Orleans bantamweight, won over Jimmy Wilde in Albert Hall here tonight. The referee stopped the battle and awarded the decision to Hermann in the seventeenth round.

Wilde was sent to the floor three times in the seventeenth and the referee stopped the contest to save Wilde, who was helpless.

THE DETAILS WILL BE WORKED OUT LATER

W. B. Snowball Says Such an Official is Absolutely Essential—Will Ask for the Abolition of the Business Profits Tax—N. B. Men in the List of Officers.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 13.—At this morning's session of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, A. E. Clark, Toronto, reported for a special committee, that the engagement of a traffic officer by the association was recommended. The details as to personnel, pay, etc., will be worked out later.

W. B. Snowball, of Chatham, N. B., said a traffic department was absolutely necessary. He moved that the report be adopted.

E. F. Perry, New York, told of how the National Lumber Association of the United States had established a traffic department. The plan had worked out well. W. M. Ross of Ottawa, Mr. Snowball and A. C. Monbert of Toronto were appointed to draft a resolution on taxation with special reference to the abolition of the business tax.

President McLachlan said that during the war, it was discovered there were fifty-two methods of measuring logs in North America.

Addressing the lumbermen this afternoon, Hon. E. C. Drury, premier of Ontario, said the great work for us to do is that we make the lumber industry a permanent one. We have to provide for the future so that there shall be a crop for all time.

Hon. Beniah Bowman, minister of public works, believed the pulp industry could be made perpetual.

Dan McLachlan, Arnprior, was again elected president of the association. A. E. Clark, Toronto, is vice-president; Angus McLean, Bathurst N. B., second vice-president, while R. J. Cameron, Ottawa, is again honorary treasurer, and Frank Hawkins, secretary. Next year's convention will be held in Toronto.

It was recommended to the incoming executive to get a statement of the attitude of non-tariff companies in regard to the lumber insurance. This information is to be obtained with a view of recommending the entire abolition of the business profits tax. This was carried.

The government's action in holding tariff hearings throughout Canada was approved. W. B. Snowball and F. McCrea, M. P., moved that the government be urged to be careful in encouraging any legislation shortening hours of labor, in view of the necessity of greater production. The resolution carried.

Directors for the ensuing year elected include: New Brunswick—J. Fraser Gregory, St. John.

CANADA WON'T HAVE FOREIGN INTERFERENCE

Geneva, Jan. 12.—Canada's repudiation of foreign interference in her domestic affairs was voiced by Sir George Foster at the League of Nations Session, when M. Hanotaux reported on the constitution of Permanent Committees to deal with economic, financial, transport, and labor questions. The Canadian delegate, protesting, said:

"We Canadians do not even allow England to interfere in our affairs and we shall certainly not stand it from a financial committee which we do not know and which is partly composed of members speaking a foreign language. We have confidence in Europe and its statesmen, but we do not forget that the world war arose in Europe, out of her antiquated national jealousies. Public opinion in Canada would not approve of our financing institutions which are scarcely known and it would not understand why our best men should be kept in Europe permanently."
