

LACK OF EXERCISE

Brings on Troubles which are Best Corrected by

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

Man was intended to live an active, outdoor life, and his digestive system was modelled accordingly. Indoor work with hands or head, long hours sitting or standing still, especially in air that's none too good, slow down the healthy activities of stomach, liver, kidneys and the millions of tiny skin glands.

Sedentary Habits Develop Constipation

Constipation, headaches, indigestion, biliousness, rheumatism and similar troubles follow.

Then the worth of that good old reliable family medicine, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, is appreciated. Though it has been in use for over half a century, modern science has not been able to devise a safer or better cleanser for the whole system.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

are largely vegetable in composition, free from any harmful drug, and mild yet most effective in their action. They are "Mother's standby" in hundreds of homes because they nip in the bud so many of the common ailments.

Made since 1857 by W. H. Comstock Co., Limited, Brockville, Ont., and sold everywhere at 25c. a box. 30

BURDENSOME NAMES GIVEN TO CHILDREN

One Girl Loaded Down With Twenty-six, One For Each Letter of Alphabet

Probably the most burdensome name ever bestowed on a child was that given by Arthur Pepper, a laundryman of West Derby, Liverpool, to his daughter, born in December, 1882. It comprised one name for every letter of the alphabet, and was certainly ingenious in its way, running: Anna Bertha Cecilia Diana Emily Fanny Gertrude Hypatia Inez Jane Kate Louise Maud Nora Ophelia Quince Rebecca Stankey Teresa Ulysis Venus Winnifred Xenophon Yetty Zeno. P, of course, was provided in the surname, Popper.

Hundreds of examples of this poor form of parental wit were brought to light by an investigator. Noah's Ark Smith, Sardine Box, Jolly Death, Judas Iccariot Brown, One-too-many Johnson, Not-wanted Smith, Bovril Simpson, Merry Christmas Piggett, Odious Heaton, Anno Domini Davis, are the names of children probably living who will have to bear them through life. How can such children observe the Fifth Commandment?

There was for a long time a curiosity in nomenclature on the Australian pension list. His name was "Through - much - tribulation - we enter the Kingdom of Heaven Smith." The officials of the Pension Department very pardonably abbreviated him into "Tribby Smith."

It is not surprising that the names of Dickens' characters—odd though they are—should be found in real life for it was from life that many of them were taken. Some, as we know were copied from the names over shop doors, etc., but this was not the novelist's only source of selection. Among his papers John Foster found carefully-drawn-up lists of names, with the source from which he obtained them, and the longest lists were those drawn from the "Privy Council Education Lists." Some of the names thus noted are too extravagant for anything but reality—Jolly Stick, William Why, Robert Gospel, Robin Scrubbam, Sarah Goldsacks, Catherine Two, Sophia Doodman, Rosetta Dust, Sally Gimblet!

"I AM SATISFIED I COULD NOT LIVE"

If It Were Not For "Fruit-a-tives", The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

FENAGHVALE, ONT., JAN. 29th, 1910
"For thirty five years (and I am now a man over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation. No matter what remedy or physicians I employed, the result was always the same—impossible to get a cure. About 2 years ago, I read the testimonial of Hon. John Costigan regarding 'Fruit-a-tives' and I decided to give them a trial. They are the first and only medicine that suited my case. If it were not for 'Fruit-a-tives', I am satisfied I could not live." JAMES PROUDFOOT.
Mr. Proudfoot is one of the prominent farmers of Prescott County and has been Treasurer of Caledonia Township for years. "Fruit-a-tives" is sold at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. by dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

ACTORS RISK LIVES BEFORE THE CAMERA

Hair-raising Tricks Performed to Make Moving Pictures Really Sensational

Each big film-producing company includes amongst its artists a number of nerve-hardened players who are specially engaged to take huge risks in carrying out sensational exploits which add realism to spectacular moving pictures.

These men are mostly retired acrobats and circus riders. One of the most risky and consequently best paid occupations in the "movie" world is that pursued by a number of men who specialize in falling off galloping horses in spectacular Indian or war films. These artists attempt feats that even the most hardened rough-rider would hesitate to perform.

Throwing themselves from the saddle when galloping in the midst of a horde of riders, they lay perfectly motionless on the ground, although running a terrible risk of being trampled on by the hoofs of the other charging animals. Another well-known actor, who, in addition to possessing nerve and athletic skill, has his powers of timing well developed, earns a good deal of money through a sensational drop from an express train.

He utilizes this performance in several ways. Sometimes he poses as an escaped convict who endeavors to escape the clutches of the law by a daring jump from an express. On other occasions he indulges in a struggle with another actor on the roof of a moving car, eventually being flung off the train into space.

The manner in which this player accomplishes with safety this daring leap is to fall into a lake that runs at the side of the railway track, for the train on which he does this trick always travels over the same piece of line.

A favorite sensational incident in connection with dramatic films is the falling of a vehicle—generally a motor-car—over a precipice. Many believe that a dummy figure sits at the wheel of the car when it plunges into space. This is not the case, however, for a real actor usually does remain in the vehicle when it leaves terra firma. Quite a number of daring actors are capable of performing this feat without serious injury to themselves. They actually fall over a fairly steep cliff in a car, but just before it crashes to the ground they leap clear into a patch of sand to safety. The motor-car is invariably smashed up.

One film-producing company employs an artist solely for his ability to leap extraordinary distances sideways from a horse's back.

When travelling on horseback over a narrow bridge, he gives a violent sideward spring, which carries him over the parapet of the bridge down to the stream below. This plucky actor has few rivals in the portrayal of this hair-raising deed, for should his spring not be well-judged he could easily sustain some serious injury by crashing up against the masonry of the bridge. This is a favorite trick of J. P. McGowan, who, by the way, used to be a dispatch rider for Lord Kitchener in South Africa.

OUR BODIES AND HEAT

We Drink Liquid That Would Scald Our Hands

The human body can stand far greater heat if it be dry than if it be wet, and, strangely enough, it can stand far hotter liquids inside than out. For example, the average tea-drinker sips tea at a temperature of about 140 degrees—sometimes as high as 145 degrees. But he cannot bear his hand in water at 120 degrees, of his feet in water higher than 112 degrees. Few people can stand a bath in water at 105 degrees.

In parts of Central Australia men live in an average temperature of 115 degrees in the shade and 140 degrees in the sun, while 151 degrees has been registered. In the Persian Gulf the thermometers on ships vary between 122 degrees and 140. An explorer in the Himalayas reports that he found in December, at more than 10,000 feet altitude, a temperature of 131 degrees.

Drs. Bleyden and Chantrey, two English scientists, desiring to ascertain how high a temperature the human body could stand, shut themselves in an oven, of which the heat was gradually raised, and they were able to bear it until the thermometer registered 212 degrees, the boiling point of water.

For handling garbage in cities there has been invented a self loading wagon, garbage dumped into a hopper low in the rear being lifted into the body of the wagon by a belt conveyor.

Passing of the Top Hat

The medical papers of Great Britain join in the chorus of condemnation of the silk hat. The "Medical Press" says:—"The vogue of the stove-pipe is passing; laden with unhonored years, it is sinking steadily into oblivion. Safe motley shapelessness cover the massive crania of our most eminent surgeons, and their dreamy hues of brown and green make our hat-racks quite attractive. The fashion is to be unconventional without reaching the bounds of the 'too utterly utter.' Each of us takes an interest in his brim and moulds his formless headgear with creative dints. We are passing fast away from the tyranny of the hard hat."

TO WELCOME LORD HALDANE

New York, Aug. 23.—Elaborate preparations are being made for the reception and entertainment of Viscount Haldane, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, during his brief visit in New York the latter part of next week. Lord Haldane sails from England today and will probably arrive here next Friday. While in the city he will stay at the Plaza Hotel. On Saturday morning he will go up the Hudson River on the late J. Pierpont Morgan's yacht Corsair and inspect the United States Military Academy at West Point. After a review of the battalion a special train furnished by the Canadian Government will take him and the reception committee to Montreal. On the Monday following he will address the American Bar association, being introduced by Chief Justice White of the Supreme Court of the United States. He will leave Montreal in time to sail from New York on Tuesday. Lord Haldane has been overwhelmed with invitations, both from the United States and Canada, but he is understood to have resolved to decline all except that from the bar association and to confine his visit to America.
