CAN DRESS WELL ON $200 A MONTH

(Chicago News)

How much does it cost for a woman to be well dressed?

In the days of Salambo, the beautiful daughter of Hannibal, or of Cleopatra, it cost the labor of hundreds of slaves, who counted their days by the number of rables they had wrought on the gorgeous fabric that was to adorn their mistress, or the number of jewels they had cut and polished for her girdle.

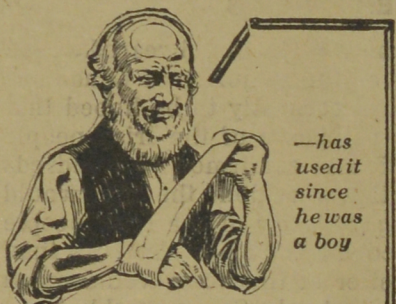

But nowadays it is different. A Newport woman with a reputation for sartorial smartness said that a society woman could be well dressed and follow the fashions if she expended $5,000 annually on clothes. She was Mrs. William F. Burden, called "the best dressed woman in Newport."

"Too much," said Chicago society women today. "One can be well dressed on much less money."

"How much?" queried the reporter in an attempt to find out how much a Chicago husband saves on his wife's wardrobe as compared with a New York husband.

Needs Only $200 a Month

"A woman can dress well on $200 a month," said Mrs. John Donald Black, 222 East Delaware place, who is known to be always sartorially correct. "Of course, it depends a lot on the woman's taste and her judgment in buying. A woman who goes into society needs a wardrobe a little different from the business woman, or the woman who goes out little. But I am sure it is not necessary to spend

MINARD'S
KING OF PAIN
for Sprains & Bruises

THE first thing to do when you have an injury is to apply Minard's famous Liniment. It is antiseptic, soothing, healing, and gives quick relief.

The publisher of the best Farmer's paper in the Maritime Provinces in writing to us states: "I would say that I do not know of a medicine that has stood the test of time like MINARD'S LINIMENT. It has been an unfailing remedy in our household ever since I can remember, and has outlived dozens of would-be competitors and imitators."

THROUGH RAIL SERVICE ATLANTIC TO PACIFIC

Canadian National Railways Furnish Direct Connections with Famous "Continental Limited" Out of Montreal.

The finest train service to the Pacific Ocean is afforded by the Canadian National Grand Trunk "Continental Limited" now leaving at 9.00 p. m. daily from Bonaventure Station Montreal.

The route of this finely equipped all steel train to the coast is via Ottawa, North Bay, Cochrane and via the Transcontinental to Winnipeg and by Grand Trunk Pacific to Saskatoon and Edmonton and via Canadian National Railways to Vancouver—the finest of scenic routes through the Rockies and over the smoothest roadbed.

From Maritime Province points there is connection by Ocean Limited daily, and by the Maritime Express daily except Sunday. The Maritime arriving in Montreal at 7.40 affords the most direct connection, but passengers by the Ocean Limited will have the advantage of a day spent in Montreal. The Maritime arriving at Levis at 1.50 p. m., affords connection with train No. 11 leaving Quebec daily for Cochrane at 5.00 p. m. This train makes connection at Cochrane with the Continental Limited, so it will be seen there is really a choice of two distinct routes.

There is also the through service to the Pacific coast by train leaving Toronto daily at 10.30 p. m., via Sudbury, Port Arthur, Fort William and Winnipeg. Connection for this is made by the Ocean Limited to Montreal, and the Grand Trunk International Limited to Toronto.

Particulars of these splendid rail services to the west will be explained by all C. N. R. ticket agents, and folders and illustrated matter may be obtained by application to any of the City Ticket Offices or by writing the General Passenger Department, Moncton, N. B.

PIGS IS PIGS EVEN WHEN OUT AT SEA

(New York Sun)

Yo, ho, ho! Here's a tale for Ellis Parker Butler! Pigs is still pigs, the same as they was when you put pork into literature for the first time.

The Italian freighter Magyarorszag of the Cosulich line, sailed from the Bush docks in Brooklyn today, but not because, as was rumored for a while, nobody could learn to say Magyarorszag. It was because the ship had its cargo of 1,200 hogsheads of Virginia leaf tobacco bound for Italy.

"The hogsheads have got nothing to do with the pigs," shouted Sebastiano Funicyaminello, first mate of the Magyarorszag, cordially, as the Magyarorszag skipped out into mid-stream. And then, just for cracking a joke like that Michelangelo Donmakkamillaffo, the vessel's cabin boy, rushed up and crowned Sebastiano Funicyaminello with the mizzenmast.

How It All Happened.

About the pigs. Two years ago Sistercio Fibberino, a member of the crew, bought two nice pigs named Jim and Min, to take back to Palermo to his aged father, who liked nothing better than a tender porker, roasted, you know, with an apple in its mouth and all that guff. Imagine the consternation of Sis, when he reached Palermo and found that his daddy had passed away and that Jim and Min were hence left flat on his hands.

This was the night before Whitsuntide, so the crew decided to celebrate by sacrificing Jim and Min and roasting them. But Min beat them to it. Just as Vittorio Funicula, the cook, was about to despatch Min, she triumphantly gave birth to a sextette, and her life had to be spared.

A while after, Vittorio killed one of Min's children, and roasted him. But the darndest storm immediately arose and everybody, including Vittorio Funicula, Sebastiano Funicyaminello, Michelangelo Donmakkamillaffo and Sistercio Fibberino were like to drown, and swore it was unlucky to kill a pig at sea.

Heavy List to Port.

So after that Min and Jim and their children roamed the decks free. They couldn't be landed in the United States, of course, on account of the immigration authorities, although it is reported that one of the most prominent packing houses in Chicago expressed its willingness to act as reference for them.

Now there are seventeen pigs aboard the Magyarorszag and the ship begins to show a decided list to pork—no, port—because Min and Jim are very fat and their descendants are becoming so.

Nobody knows what to do with them. The situation calls for expert advice from Ellis.

GOLD FOUND IN BAGGAGE

New York, Aug. 23.—One hundred thousand dollars in gold coin of the United States found in the baggage of Felice Haddad, a wealthy Venezuelan who arrived yesterday on the steamship Caracas from Venezuela, was temporarily taken possession of by customs inspectors pending an investigation.

Several inspectors expressed doubt whether the visitor was required to enter the gold in his declaration while others said they recalled a similar case a score of years ago when a quantity of gold was confiscated and the action of the inspectors declared legal by the courts. They also pointed out that Venezuela has an export embargo against taking gold from the country, although they could not say what effect such a Venezuelan law would have on its entry into the United States.

$5,000 a year to be well dressed.

"If a woman has three 'outfits' a season she can always be correctly and suitably attired. By seasons I mean spring, summer, fall and winter. And, of course, some of these gowns and wraps can be worn from one season to another. The sum of $200 should be sufficient for a woman who goes into society to spend on her clothes, particularly if she augments her wardrobe with articles she has made herself."

Mrs. William J. Calhoun, who is planning to leave the latter part of August for a lengthy stay in China, also thinks $5,000 a year is more than is necessary for a woman to spend to appear well dressed.

"That sum is more than I spend on clothes annually, a great deal more," she explained.

THE INFLUENCE OF ADVERTISING ON THE PUBLIC MIND

HOW MANY PEOPLE know the names of the highest mountain peaks in the world?

FOR INSTANCE, "Kinchinjanga" is the name of one of the highest mountains in the world. It is 28,156 feet high.

PIKE'S PEAK is only 14,108 feet high—but it gets credit for being higher because it is advertised. ADVERTISING will bring many unknown things into prominence during the coming years.

NOW IS THE TIME, when so many articles and commodities of trade are flooding already overstocked markets, for the man with goods to sell to let the people know all about it.

THE BEST WAY to let the people know is to advertise in the newspapers.

YOU HAVE SEEN THIS in the Daily Mail—let the public know what you have to sell through the advertising resources of this newspaper.
