SIR EDWARD KEMP IS ELECTED TO THE SENATE

Another Member of the Meighen Cabinet is Given a Haven of Rest—Appointment to the Railway Commission—A Comic Opera Conspiracy is Unearthed by the Tories.

Ottawa, Nov. 3—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen signalled his return to Ottawa by calling a cabinet meeting at which it was decided to appoint Sir Edward Kemp to the senatorship left vacant by the death of the late Senator Frederic Nicholls, of Toronto. This was an expected appointment, although Sir Edward was to have stood for East Toronto in the government's interest and said lately that he had given no thought to the possibility of a place in the senate. His fellow ministers, however, gave considerable thought to it today and as a result another minister is raised "above the fury and caprice of the mob." It is understood he will remain minister without portfolio.

Another appointment made today was the elevation of Calvin Lawrence, legislative representative at Ottawa of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, as a member of the railway commission to take the place of the late A. S. Goodeve.

Mr. Lawrence has been a more faithful attendant of parliamentary sessions than many of the members in the interest of his brotherhood. He was formerly a locomotive engineer on the Ontario division of the Michigan Central Railway, and lived in St. Thomas. This leaves three senatorial vacancies to fill, one in Nova Scotia for which Peter Martin, former M. P. for Halifax, is said to have a good chance; one in New Brunswick for which Colonel F. B. Black is spoken of most, and one in British Columbia for either Herb. Clements or Colonel "Cy" Peck, a native of New Brunswick. The latter is running as an independent candidate, and Clements as a government candidate at present and this may complicate matters.

The Comic-Opera "Conspiracy."

At Liberal headquarters here great amusement is expressed at the persistent propaganda of the government bureau with regard to an alleged "conspiracy" of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Hon. T. A. Crerar to co-operate in defeating the government.

"Such a consummation would have been desirable in every way," said Mr. Andrew Haydon, Liberal organizer for Canada, "Hon. Mr. King made overtures publicly along this line both to the Progressives and to Labor, but both refused to cooperate. The extent of that refusal may be seen by the fact that the president of the U. F. O., R. W. Burnaby, is opposing Hon. Mr. King in North York. There are three-cornered contests all over the dominion, and the Liberals failing a response to their overtures have decided to put up candidates in every constituency over the dominion where at all possible."

The Alleged Telegram.

As to the alleged telegram from

Keeps Fresh and Fragrant in the Sealed Package

Manitoba addressed to Mr. Haydon as secretary of the National Liberal convention, Mr. Haydon would say nothing except that it was a matter of no importance. It is well known here that Liberal headquarters in Ottawa has been bombarded by telegrams from Manitoba because the central organization has consistently stood aloof from that province until all internal dissensions are settled. Factions which arose out of the war have disappeared in other provinces, and Ottawa Liberal headquarters has refused to recognize factions and is awaiting unity. Under the circumstances it refuses responsibility for any telegrams that may be sent to it. There is some curiosity as to how the government got hold of telegrams which the bureau states were addressed to Haydon of the National Liberal committee. The guess on the street is that if the telegrams are genuine, the telegraph messenger boy has not discriminated between National Liberal committee and the National Liberal and Conservative committee. The objection to this is that there is no Haydon on the National Liberal and Conservative committee and that therefore those in charge at such committee would be governed by the ethics of business intercourse and refuse messages not intended for them.

I BOUGHT A CAR.

My name is Jones; I bought a car. The Smiths had one and so you see, To be like other people are, There had to be a car for me. Her name was Liz. She was a boat! Speed? What! Go fast? I rather guess! She'd grab the lightning by the throat And lick a limited express! The Browns they bought a car before I'd fairly warmed my Lizzie's brakes, It cost about five hundred more You have to pay for certain makes, My wife saw Mrs. Brown amuck, Cutting it through suburban towns, And so it naturally fell my luck To buy a car like Mrs. Brown's

In rapid sequence I acquired Six different cars, because you see, My so ambitious wife desired That motorette gentility. Let Mrs. So-and-So be seen In something better in a flash I had to get a new machine And pay the difference in cash.

And now behold me... Now I ride On cushions in a limousine! Our chauffeur drives with mein in side— I must not steer my own machine! And every time I hear a sound Like tin pans come rushing by, I know one happy man's around, And envy him with a sigh. —Henry Edward Warner in Richmond Times-Dispatch.)
