NOTABLE CONVENTION MEETS IN NEW YORK

Prominent Churchmen From all Over the United States in Attendance at the Forty-Third Triennial Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church--Opening Ceremony Was Most Impressive--One Hundred Bishops in the Processional

New York, Oct. 8.—With most impressive ceremonies the forty-third triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States was formally opened today. Within the walls of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, situated on the heights from which Washington and his generals watched the movements of the British occupants of New York during the dark days of the American revolution, were assembled the greatest minds of the clergy and laity of the Episcopal denomination. The bishops, or fathers of the church, were there in greater number than at any previous council. The clergy were represented by theologians of eminence and orators of renown, the laity by financiers whose influence is international, lawyers than whom there are none more able and men of other professions who have reached the top round of the ladder of fame.

The opening ceremony was set to begin at eleven o'clock, but fully two hours before that the hundreds of people had collected and eagerly awaited the moment when the doors should be thrown open to that small portion of the multitude that possessed the ticket of admission. There for more than two hours the thoroughfares leading up to the great pile of gray stone that crowns Morning-side Heights presented an animated scene. Bishops, clergymen, deacons and presbyters moved up and down or stopped and discussed church matters.

AN IMPOSING SCENE.

A few minutes before eleven o'clock the bishops, nearly one hundred in number, formed in the Old Synod Hall for the processional into the cathedral, in which they were preceded by the full cathedral choir, one of the most noted organizations of church singers in America. The members of the choir wore full surplices, and as they marched along singing the processional hymn, "Forward Be Our Watchword," they presented a most imposing appearance.

The bishops proceeded in the reverse order of their rank, carrying out the Divine command that "the last shall be first and the first shall be last." The last man in the procession was the venerable Bishop Tuttle of Missouri, the senior bishop of the church and the presiding officer of the house of bishops.

The bishops were clothed in the full vestments of their office, including, besides the customary gown of the bishop, the degree hood, as it is called. Arriving at the entrance to the cathedral, the procession moved down the main aisle, where the choir filed off to either side and took the customary seats in the chancel. Then the bishops fell back into two lines, between which Bishop Tuttle advanced to the chancel and the others took the seats provided for them according to seniority.

The service, which did not differ from the regular communion service of the denomination, was fully choral. Bishop Tuttle officiated and administered the sacrament. The sermon was preached by the Right Rev. William Lawrence, the eloquent bishop of Massachusetts.

THE HOUSE OF BISHOPS.

At the close of the opening ceremonies in the cathedral the bishops returned to Old Synod Hall and, on being called to order by Bishop Tuttle, the interesting formality of welcoming and introducing the bishops consecrated since the last triennial convention was carried out. A brief memorial service also was conducted in honor of the prelates who have passed away since the last triennial, foremost among whom was the Right Rev. William C. Doane, the famous bishop of Albany.

This afternoon the convention proper assembled for business, the house of bishops meeting in the Old Synod Hall and the house of deputies in the more spacious New Synod Hall. The first work, of course, was organization, and that occupied practically the whole of the afternoon, the houses notifying each other of such organization, as is customary in congress.

The convention will continue for at least three weeks, during which time there will be considered and acted upon many questions of a momentous nature, including some important changes in the present law and government of the church. The proceedings of the house of deputies, for the most part, will be open to the public. But, following the custom of the past, the sessions of the house of bishops will be strictly executive and will be carried on with great form and dignity.

The convention is expected to elect half a dozen missionary bishops. One of the new bishops will be, it is said, for the Canal Zone, and a somewhat larger territory which is to be transferred from the Church of England.

CITY FATHERS ARE PLEASED OVER SUCCESS OF EXHIBITION

The City Council sat for only a short time at its regular monthly session last night. Routine business occupied the most of the attention of the councillors. The most notable item was the congratulatory of Agricultural Society No. 34 and Secretary W. S. Hooper upon the success which attended the Fredericton Exhibition of 1913. His Worship, replying, expressed the opinion that the exhibition had been very successful. He believed that there would be a substantial surplus. One of the newspapers had kindly informed the public as to the size of the surplus but the secretary-treasurer and other officials did not know yet what the surplus would be.

Present were Mayor Hooper, Ald. Clark, Ald. Boyde, Ald. Osborne, Ald. Farrell, Ald. Weddall, Ald. Mitchell, Ald. Hoban, Ald. Everett.

LUMBER CUT ON THE ST. JOHN

Ninety-One Million Feet Will be Cut During the coming Season

The Bulk of it Will be Handled by Mills at Van Buren, Maine

Van Buren, Me., Oct. 7.—From figures given out here, it is estimated that the entire lumber cut on the upper St. John River, on both Maine and New Brunswick timber lands, for this season just begun, will be 91,000,000 feet. Of this amount 26,000,000 feet will go to St. John to be manufactured and 65,000,000 will be handled by the Van Buren mills.

A. E. Hammond, one of the leading lumbermen of Northern Maine, will handle 13,000,000 feet of lumber by rail. He has broken ground for the construction of a new steam mill which will be located in the town of Van Buren, just south of the Bangor & Aroostook railway station.

ESTIMATES OF CUT.

The estimates of the total cut for this season on both sides of the St. John River, which have been given out from an authoritative source, are as follows:

John A. Morrison for the St. John Lumber Company at Van Buren on the Baker branch, 12,000,000 feet.

A GREAT CRUSH AT THE BANKRUPT SALE

Bargains Hunters Swoop Down on the Lucy Company's Store in Great Numbers

The cheap sale of bankrupt stock being carried on by McManus & Co. at Lucy & Co.'s old stand is an immense success. So great was the crush when the sale began at nine o'clock that it was found necessary to lock the doors and admit the people in relays. From nine until noon scores of people of both sexes stood in line in front of the store, waiting for a chance to get some of the record-breaking bargains to be had within. Those who were fortunate enough to get inside the shop were compelled, after making their purchases, to make their exit by the back way, as turning back was out of the question. The goods are being disposed of at astonishingly low prices and it looks as if the entire stock would be swept away in the course of a few days.

MARYSVILLE TOPICS

Town Council Meet--Town to Have Electric Lights

Marysville, Oct. 8.—The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held in Town Hall last night. His Worship Mayor Gray in the chair. The full board was present and the usual monthly bills were passed and ordered paid.

There is some talk of the Cotton Mill supplying power to light the town, therefore it is expected that in the near future that the town will have electric lights which will be a great improvement as Marysville is certainly in need of light of some kind, especially at this time of year when the evenings are long.

Mr. Wm. Moore and family who are conducting the Company's Hotel are doing nicely and business is reported as being excellent.

A large number of Marysville people went to Fredericton today to attend the cheap sale of Lucy & Co.'s stock.

BALL GAME HAS THE CALL

Little Business Transacted on the New York Exchange

Washington Despatches Indicate Further Attacks on Big Corporations--C. P. R. is Weaker

New York, Oct. 8.—The diversion of Wall Street on account of the ball game yesterday indicated rather clearly the professional character of current dealings in the Stock Market. For the time being this interest will likely overshadow all others of any ordinary kind. It looked yesterday as if the market as a whole was fairly well evened up in preparation for a period of temporary dullness. Those who watched anything except baseball were impressed by the Washington despatches forecasting further attacks upon corporate interests. Neither in regard to money nor to politics is the immediate conducive to substantial recovery in stocks and while eventually the short selling of bears will be overcome there is nothing in the immediate outlook to particularly threaten the bear position. On the other hand, operators contribute strength to these factors.

HARRY THAW WAS LEGALLY DEPORTED

Washington, D.C., Oct. 7.—The State Department today rejected the appeal of Harry K. Thaw, who claimed that his recent deportation from Canada infringed upon treaties between the United States and Great Britain, and asked for investigation. The State Department will take no further part in the matter.

Mr. Jos. W. Folk, solicitor of the State Department, today issued the following statement concerning the case:

"After a careful examination of the treaties between this government and the government of Great Britain alleged to have been infringed upon in the deportation of Harry K. Thaw from Canada, this department can find no provision violated by the action taken in connection with this case by the Canadian authorities, either administrative or judicial.

NO VIOLATION OF THE TREATY RIGHTS.

"This department, therefore, would not be warranted in making any representation to the British government in the matter. The inquiry determined is not whether Thaw should be liberated or whether extradition should be granted but the question before the department is whether there was any violation of any British-American treaty in the Thaw case by the Canadian authorities. The reply must be in the negative.

"Senator Oliver, who brought the matter to the attention of the department, will be advised accordingly."

The nuptials of Robert Neil MacCunn, late of Greenock, Scotland, and Louise Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Edgcombe, took place at 3.30 this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Ashburton Place. The wedding was one of the most brilliant which ever took place in Fredericton. Out-of-town guests as well as members of Fredericton's best society attended in large numbers as the bride and groom have a large circle of acquaintances.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Neil McLauchlan, pastor of the Methodist church. The bride was attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Muriel Massey of this city, and Miss Muriel Eaton of Princeton, Me., cousin of the bride. Mr. Charles H. Edgcombe, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Mr. W. M. McKie of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, was also a member of the bridal party, acting as usher.

Above small windows on either side of the opening of the arch, which bore a shower of small bells, were the initials of the bride and groom, "E" and "M" in script in white carnations against the background of smilax. The chandelier was draped with wax-berries and asparagus and the mantel was draped with mauve orchids. The decorations of the dining-room were lilies of the valley and asparagus. The parlor was decorated with asparagus and yellow chrysanthemums with mantel banded with palms. In the halls the prevailing decorations consisted of autumn leaves and woodbine.

WEDDING LUNCHEON.

After the ceremony luncheon was served in the dining-room, the bridal party being composed of Mr. and Mrs. MacCunn, Misses Massey and Eaton and Messrs. McKie and Chas. Edgcombe. The most prominent feature of the tables was a bride's cake three and a half feet in height and ornamented with pearl grapes and foliage, which is the finest example of the pastryman's art ever seen in Fredericton. It was made by W. McWilliam Inc., Quebec City and weighed fifty pounds. At the table of the bridal party the place cards bore exact reproductions in color of the costumes of the bride and bridesmaids.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, the ceremony being performed in the drawing-room of Ashburton Place, beneath a Gothic arch

BEAUTIFUL GOWNS.

The bride wore a gown of ivory Duchesse satin with coat-effect of rose point lace and trimmings of Roman pearls and pearl ornaments. The bridesmaids were gowned in corn color silk crepe with trimmings of royal purple velvet. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white orchids and on her head wore a Juliet cap and bridal veil. The bridesmaids wore bridesmaids' caps and veils and carried bouquets.

BEAUTIFUL DECORATIONS.

The floral decorations of the house were by Miss Ada M. Schleyer and were exceedingly beautiful. The arch beneath which bride and groom stood was draped with smilax and banded with ferns and palms.

MANY PRESENTS.

In the upper hall of Ashburton Place were displayed the wedding gifts, which bore testimony to the popularity of the bride and groom. Friends in all parts of the province and also the State of Maine as well as the Old Country remembered the happy couple. Prominent among the gifts is a cheque for £100 from the brother of the groom in Australia. There are also substantial cheques from the father of the bride and from friends in Great Britain. Among other gifts are a beautiful Crown Derby tea-set, many pieces of sterling silver, a chest of sterling silver of Lafayette pattern, three rare pieces of mahogany furniture and a sterling silver toilet-set complete. They carry with them the resolutions adopted on Monday evening at the rousing non-partisan meeting held in Keith's Theatre.
