HARRY TATE, THE PURSER

Special to Daily Mail. Copyright 1921 by Cros Atlantic News Service.

London, Feb. 18.—Harry Tate, the English vaudeville star, reveals that the purpose of his recent visit to America was partly to gather local color for a new "sketch" he is producing, wherein he will impersonate a purser on board an Atlantic liner.

"In my sketch," says Harry, "some of the silliest questions will be asked of the purser in of course, an exaggerated form. It may wind up with a fire drill; and by the time the purser has assured all anxious inquirers of the safety of the ship, the vessel will have reached New York."

NOT QUALIFIED.

A Friend—Why do you object to being called "colonel" squire?

The Squire—Well, I never was in the army. I don't make speeches, I don't swear and never take a drink, so honestly I don't feel that I have any claim to the title.

A LIVELY TALK BETWEEN MEMBERS OF THE SENATE

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—A sharp clash between Hon. Senator Dandurand and Hon. P. E. Blondin featured the debate on the address in the Senate today. Senator Dandurand, resuming the debate, attacked the Constructive party for its attitude on reciprocity in 1911, and said that while the Liberal party was fighting for a square deal for the farmers, the Postmaster General, Senator Blondin, was "down in Quebec shooting holes in the British flag."

"That is an absolute lie," declared Senator Blondin. "I have denied it in the house before and I want the honorable member to take it back."

"I understand the honorable gentleman quoted words about shooting holes through the British flag from the speech of another gentleman," replied Senator Dandurand.

"Then you do not know what I said," retorted the Postmaster General.

Senator Lavergne said he was present at the meeting and heard Senator Blondin use the words referred to.

Blondin Denies Charge.

Senator Blondin denied ever having used such words and defied Senator Dandurand to quote the words he had used.

"Will you state under what circumstances you used the words?" asked Senator Dandurand.

"My turn will come to speak and what I say will prove; that lie has gone too far," Senator Blondin replied.

Senator Dandurand said the postmaster general did not deny what he (Dandurand) had said.

"That is a wilful calumny," declared Senator Blondin.

Senator Lavergne said he was present when Senator Blondin made the reference to the British flag, but he could not recall the exact words used.

The Speaker requested that Senator Dandurand accept the denial of Senator Blondin. The former said he was quite willing to take back what he said which was simply that in 1911 Senator Blondin was down in Quebec shooting holes in the British flag.

Senator Fowler Talks.

Senator Fowler, who followed, characterized the new senate chamber as a crime perpetrated on the country. "It was too narrow, its galleries would be a disgrace to a country theatre and its ceiling reminded him of a circus."

He declared that Senator Dandurand was a sower of discord who desired to make trouble. Harmony was requisite to national greatness. Senator Fowler defended the enfranchisement of all soldiers as well as their wives, mothers and daughters.

Senator Casgrain said the Liberals were protectionists but for good protection. Under the Liberal tariff railways and industries had flourished in Canada, but under the present government stocks had declined in value and unemployment increased and immigration fallen off.

Senator Casgrain condemned Canada's expenditure in the league of nations and the proposal to appoint an ambassador at Washington.

Second reading was given to the bill to amend the elections act regarding the use of existing lists in Ontario prohibition plebiscite. It was expected to pass the Senate tomorrow and the commons will suspend the debate on the address so that the measure may become law at once.

THROUGH THE MISTS.

Over the meadow there hangs a haze
The moor is wrapped in a mist;
Yet shining and splendid there meets my gaze

The brook by the sunlight kissed
Joy and I have been driven apart,
My days are dreary and long;
Yet a wonderful thing makes a glow
in my heart—
I hear a blackbird's song!

HOW TO SAFEGUARD YOUR DIGESTION

The Blood Should Constantly be Kept Rich and Pure.

If you suffer from any form of indigestion your diet should be carefully chosen. Over-eating is always harmful but at the same time one must take enough food to supply the needs of the blood. It must be remembered that the blood has to carry nourishment to every part of the body and fuel for its energy and defences against disease, as well as the requisite juices for digestion. Hence when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises; also when indigestion begins the blood still further suffers. Therefore, to safeguard your digestion, the blood should be kept rich and free from impurities. For more than a third of a century Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a favorite tonic for enriching the blood and strengthening the nerves. If, therefore, you find yourself troubled with indigestion, or other ailments due to weak, watery blood, you will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills both safe and effective. The value of this medicine in cases of stomach trouble is shown by the experience of Mrs. J. Lewis, Lake George, N. S., who says "I suffered very severely with indigestion. I had severe pains in the stomach after every meal. I had a loathing for food, my rest at night was very much disturbed, and my general health was declining. I was under a doctor's care, but did not find any improvement. Reading of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done in a similar case I decided to try them with the result that after giving them a fair trial, my general health was improved, and all symptoms of the indigestion that had afflicted me disappeared. I feel very grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for saving me from so much misery."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WILL OF LATE COL. M'LEOD, M.P.

Left Estate of $56,577 Which Goes to His Children
When They Become of Age.

As the will of the late Col. Harry McLeod has created some talk in the community and some erroneous impressions appear to have got abroad in regard to it, the Mail has procured a copy of the document and it is herewith published for the first time here are its chief provisions.

To my executors all estate real and personal, in trust for my children, Jean, Norman and Mary. My executors shall have power to invest whatever cash they may, whether from life insurance payable to my estate or otherwise, into such stable securities as to them shall seem wise, and shall use the income therefrom for the support, maintenance and education of my said children and for the support of my wife as long as she remains my widow. When my children have all attained the age of twenty-one years my estate shall be divided equally among them. My executors may at their discretion sell my home in Fredericton and add the amount to my invested estate. To my son Norman I give my salmon rod and my gold hunting case watch and any of my personal effects he may wish. To Jean I give my diamond and sapphire tie-pin and to Mary my diamond ring.

"The household furniture shall be divided among my children whenever the home ceases to be a common home. The war pictures and souvenirs shall also be divided among my children. Norman shall have the portraits of my great grandfather, grandfather and myself."

The late Col. McLeod left an estate valued at $56,577.49, of which $20,500 is in life insurance. The executors are J. Fred Boyer and Norman P. McLeod.

A New York iron worker fell sixteen stories and sprained one of his little fingers. Another man might fall off the front porch and break his neck. Such is life.

ADVERTISING INCREASES THE HEIGHT OF A MOUNTAIN

HOW MANY PEOPLE know the names of the highest mountain peaks in the world?

FOR INSTANCE, "Kinchinjanga" is the name of one of the highest mountains in the world. It is 28,156 feet high.

PIKE'S PEAK is only 14,108 feet high—but it gets credit for being higher because it is advertised.

ADVERTISING will bring many unknown things into prominence during the coming years.

NOW IS THE TIME, when so many articles and commodities of trade are flooding already overstocked markets, for the man with goods to sell to let the people know all about it.

THE BEST WAY to let the people know is to advertise in the newspapers.

YOU HAVE SEEN THIS in the Daily Mail—let the public know what you have to sell through the advertising resources of this newspaper.
