EVERYTHING READY FOR ROYAL WEDDING

Prince Arthur of Connaught to Lead Duchess of Fife to the Matrimonial Altar Tomorrow--Ceremony Will be Performed in the Royal Chapel in the Presence of Three Hundred Guests--His Majesty the King to Give the Bride Away

London, Oct. 14.—Everything, down to the most minute detail, is ready for the wedding, tomorrow, of Prince Arthur of Connaught and the Duchess of Fife. As a preliminary to tomorrow's event a royal family dinner was given today, at which all the members of royalty who are to attend the wedding and the members of the royal family were present. The dinner was followed by a reception at Clarence House, to which the friends of the bridal couple were invited.

The Royal Chapel, which will be the scene of tomorrow's wedding, is fully prepared for the great event. As it would have been impossible to accommodate the three hundred persons invited to the wedding in the chapel without changing the interior arrangement, the pews were removed and in their place stands of three tiers each were built on each side of the nave, amply spacious to accommodate the guests. A semi-circle of gilt chairs has been placed near the altar rail for the royal guests. One, higher than the others, is reserved for Queen Mary. The keynote of the interior decorations of the chapel is simplicity. There will be no lavish display of flowers or shrubs. Out of respect for the bride white heather will be used in the floral decorations exclusively. The carpet to be used is the same which was used at the wedding of King George and Queen Mary. The gold plate of the altar service dates back to Charles the Second. The books to be used are those used at the King's wedding.

Among the members of royalty who will be present at the wedding tomorrow will be King George, who will give the bride away, Queen Mary, Queen Alexandra, Dowager Empress

Marie of Russia, the King and Queen of Norway, Queen Dowager Amelie of Portugal, Prince and Princess Frederick Leopold of Prussia, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, who will be the attendants of the groom; Princess Maud, the bride's sister, Princess Mary and her cousin, Princess Mary of Teck, Princess Patricia, Prince Olaf, the crown prince of Norway, and Prince John, the youngest son of King George and Queen Mary.

The royal bride will wear a magnificent dress of white satin and lace and her mother's wedding veil. Upon her head she will wear a tiara of natural orange blossoms from the royal hot houses of Sandringham. The five bridesmaids will be dressed in blue, with blue satin shoes and stockings and flower wreaths in place of hats. Prince Olaf and Prince John, who will be pages to the bride, will wear coats and knee pants of blue satin. The bridegroom will wear the full dress uniform of his regiment, the Scots Greys, the band of which will play in the courtyard of the chapel before and after the ceremony. The full choir of the Chapel Royal will sing the hymns.

After the wedding ceremony the guests will assemble at St. James' Palace, where the wedding breakfast will be served. Only the immediate members of the royal family and some of their most distant relations will be present. As to the plans of the young couple but little has been permitted to become known. They will go to Liverpool to say farewell to the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who are going to Canada, but their further movements are a matter of mere speculation.

STOCK MARKET IS BEARISH

Canadian Pacific is off Three Points on Heavy Selling

Fear of Business Disturbance Under the New Tariff Affects Securities

New York, Oct. 14.—There have been no developments over the holiday to alter the general financial situation and prospects. Sentiment as a whole remains pessimistic as to the immediate outlook for reasons that are not far to seek. The fear of disturbance to business from the new tariff, the short corn crop and apprehensions of further anti-trust activity at Washington are the causes underlying the current absence of demand for stocks from any quarter. As against this prices have suffered a fairly substantial reaction from the high levels of the year and at no time during this period has there been any security speculative extension. Under the conditions it is easy possible that the bear selling will run to extremes.

LIBERALS WILL PROTEST

Rogers' Strong Arm Methods in Chateauguay to be Exposed

Minister of Public Works Spent Much Time in the County But Did Not Address a Meeting

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Unless something unforeseen happens to change the minds of those who direct the party, a few days more will see a Liberal demand for an investigation into the conservative methods during the Chateauguay election, which will reveal one of the biggest political scandals for many years. Your correspondent is privately informed that Liberals are absolutely determined on their course but are waiting a few days in order to gather more evidence. The following statement was obtained from party headquarters today:

"While no actual step has yet been taken by the Liberals to protest the election of James Morris in Chateauguay county on Saturday, the matter is being considered and an announcement of what the Liberal party proposes to do will be forthcoming before many days have elapsed.

"The leaders here will be guided by the advice of the local Liberals of Chateauguay, who bore the brunt of the battle and proved themselves to be a splendid lot. They are strongly of the opinion that action should be taken to show up the mass of Tory corruption during the fight."

The view as expressed is that the Liberals went into the Chateauguay fight with two objects, first was the election of Mr. Fisher, if possible, and the second to ascertain the methods of Hon. Robert Rogers and his election machine. They lost the fight but they have secured a mass of evidence of the methods of Mr. Borden's minister of elections.

On the other hand, The Montreal Star declares it is unlikely that the Liberals will contest the election but admits that "those higher up" may overturn the views of local Liberals.

CITIZENS OF ST. JOHN ARE IN DEAD EARNEST

Want the Gutileus Agreement With the C. P. R. Held up by the Minister of Railways Until it can be Examined by an Expert--Prominent Tories Condemn the Action of the Government--The Spineless Minister Must Act

St. John, Oct. 14.—The voice of St. John's citizens, assembled in a great mass meeting at the Nickel Theatre last evening, was raised in protest against the use of the I.C.R. as a lever to divert four of the direct mail ships from this port.

The net result was to make a ringing demand for a square deal from the Borden government and the C.P.R., and all who saw the size and realized the temper of the assemblage felt that the city is fully aroused and means business. Any hesitation on the part of the powers-to-be to give full justice to this, the Winter Port of Canada, it was made evident last night, will be met by a rebuke long to be remembered in this country.

The resolutions passed by the meeting (and no one present could avoid the knowledge that the crowd thought the resolutions ought to have more powder in them) demanded two things principally:

First, that the minister of railways withhold his approval from the Gutileus agreement until impartial traffic experts decide whether or not it is discriminatory and that he absolutely refuse to sign if they find it is;

Second, that the government be urged to let contracts at once, to separate tenderers, for the construction of ten additional steamship berths on the West Side and push them as rapidly as possible to completion.

But these resolutions do not fully reflect the indignation of the meeting over the Gutileus-C.P.R. deal and its determination to get justice for this port no matter who is hit in the struggle. Beyond question the feeling of the citizens, as shown last night, is that the government is on trial, that Premier Borden and Mr. Hazen are on trial—and that the verdict will be recorded later on—after St. John has seen what these gentlemen are going to do.

Here follow a few brief but significant extracts from the speeches:

SOME HOT SHOTS.

D. F. Pigeon—First and foremost the fight is with the government of Canada.

Mayor Frink—"By grace of the I.C.R.—It seems to me there is a whole sermon in those words.

D. F. Pidgeon—An iniquitous arrangement.

H. A. Powell—We will force the government into the fight.

Mayor Frink—I am surprised that a man in the employ of the I.C.R. should be invested with power to negotiate an agreement of such interprovincial character without consulting the minister of marine and fisheries, who represents this constituency.

D. F. Pidgeon—One solid stand to force the hand of the government to withhold approval. There is no way of getting out of it, it is up to the government. It is for Mr. Borden and his colleagues to see that the minister of railways does not give approval to discriminatory rates.

J. B. M. Baxter—It is the fairness of the government that is on trial if we press the main resolution and if the amendment we propose the government of Canada from any responsibility.

H. A. Powell—If better terms than before were granted the C.P.R., it must be at the expense of the treasury of Canada. I say this without reserve.

Prominent speakers heard at the initial sessions this afternoon were Senator Robert L. AID FOR ACCUSED COLLEGE GIRL

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 14.—Many persons of wealth and influence have come forward with offers to aid Miss Mabel Sturtevant, the brilliant young college graduate, who was arraigned before United States Commissioner Mason today on a charge of defrauding through the use of the mails. The charge is based on an alleged scheme of the young woman to obtain contributions from society women to help girls through college. Miss Sturtevant declares that she had no intention to commit fraud and that her present troubles are due wholly to her ignorance of "high finance." Among those who have offered to assist her is Gardner Lathrop, general counsel of the Santa Fe railroad. Mr. Lathrop is a director of the University of Missouri, from which institution Miss Sturtevant was graduated several years ago with highest honors.

SURVIVORS TELL OF THEIR EXPERIENCES

London, Oct. 13.—The stories told by the passengers of the steamship Carmania and other liners which went to the rescue of the burning Volturno, describe the heroic efforts in the face of almost insuperable difficulties to save the passengers and crew of the doomed ship.

As yet information is lacking as to how the fire originated, but it is shown that the fact that not more lives were lost was due in the first place to the wireless, and, in the second, to Captain Barr's happy idea of calling the Narragansett for aid.

There is some discrepancy in the stories with regard to the behavior of the crew, but it is significant that of the crew, numbering ninety-three, it is reported seventy-eight perished, while most of the officers remained aboard and were eventually rescued.

What stands out clearly from all the narrative is that practically all lives lost were sacrificed in attempts to launch the boats before the arrival of the other steamers, and that had Captain Inch known so much help would be forthcoming practically all might have been saved.

TO DISCUSS RAILWAY SIGNAL METHODS

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 14.—Signal engineers representing practically every large railway system in the United States are gathered here to attend the eighteenth annual convention of the Railway Signal Association which opened here today for a session of four days. The various methods of signalling employed by the large railway systems of the country will be discussed in a series of interesting papers to be read before the convention.

MANTEL AND CODERRE TO BE JUDGES

Montreal, Oct. 14.—Conservative circles announce that the electors of the counties of Terrebonne and Hochelaga will be called upon to make the choice of a new candidate to represent them at Ottawa. Hon. W. B. Mantel, minister of revenue and the interior, and deputy for Terrebonne since 1908, will resign his office and will be appointed as member for the Railway Commission, to replace Hon. M. E. Bernier, or he will be made a judge.

The Hon. Louis Coderre, deputy for Hochelaga, it is understood, will also be made a judge.

It is probable that Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, K.C., will be candidate in Terrebonne for the government, and L. T. Marchal, K.C., will be candidate in Hochelaga.

A BEAUTIFUL PLANT

An old gardener writes to the Mail as follows: A very pretty little window plant which has attracted many passers by for several weeks past is in the window of Mrs. Harris Fenety's home, corner of Church and Charlotte streets. It is a trailing variety of Campanula (Bell flower) literally a little bell, pure white. This extensive and well known genus consists of more than two hundred species, including annuals, biennials, and perennials some of the perennials are dwarf plants, producing a profusion of flowers which render them adapted for rock work or graves in cemeteries, or they make pretty hanging baskets. The Campanula Medium is a biennial and very ornamental for the garden, including several shades of pink, mauve, white and purple both double or single, commonly called cup and saucer flowers and easily produced from seed. Mrs. Fenety's geraniums have been much admired all through the summer months.

WILLARD KITCHEN PRESENTED WITH ADDRESS BY ST PAUL'S

Session of Church Expresses Regret at His Departure for the West--Presentation This Afternoon to Mrs Kitchen--Miss Agnes Kitchen Remembered by Golden Rule Circle, King's Daughters

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kitchen will leave Fredericton tomorrow night for Vancouver, B.C., where they will make their future home. The other members of their family will follow next week. The departure of Mr. Kitchen and his family from Fredericton is generally regretted by the citizens of Fredericton and all will be very much missed. Although Mr. Kitchen is to make his home on the Pacific Coast, it is not his intention to cut off all relations with the east. He intends to make an annual visit to Fredericton.

Last night the session of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church expressed its deep-felt regret at the departure of Mr. Kitchen by presenting to him an address which contained an expression of their feelings. The address was read by Lt. Col. T. G. Loggie. Mr. Kitchen replied in suitable terms expressing regret that it was necessary for him to sever so many ties. There were also expressions of regret at Mr. Kitchen's departure by Rev. Dr. W. H. Smith and members of the session. A beautifully encased copy of the address is to be presented to Mr. Kitchen.

PRESENTATION TODAY.

This afternoon many friends of Mrs. Kitchen are gathered at a farewell tea given in her honor at the residence of Mrs. P. M. MacDonald. As a token of friendship and best wishes a silver card case will be presented Mrs. Kitchen this afternoon.

FAREWELL TEA.

The members of the Golden Rule

Circle of King's Daughters are holding a five o'clock tea in honor of Miss Agnes Kitchen, who will follow her parents to Vancouver on Tuesday next. The tea is to be held at the residence of Miss Ella Thorne. Miss Kitchen has been a very valued member of the Golden Rule Circle.

The following is the address: Fredericton, N. B. October 13th, 1913.

Willard Kitchen, Esq., Dear Sir:—

On the eve of your departure with your family from Fredericton the Trustees and Sessions Board of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church cannot allow you to leave us without expressing their profound regret as well as the sorrow of the congregation they represent.

We feel that your departure from this City will be a distinct loss to the community and your removal from this church will leave a blank that will be hard to fill the more so when we consider the active support you and your family have always given it, not only in a large financial way, but by your wise counsel as a Trustee, your generosity on every occasion when a call was made for help and by a personality at all times affable and agreeable. Rest assured you carry away with you to your new home the good wishes of your many friends in this city and more particularly in this church.

To Mrs. Kitchen and your family we can only express the same kind feelings. May you all have enjoyment and prosperity and happiness in your new home.
