WATCH, FIVE SPOT

THE WATCH LOCATED.

Enoch was persistent in his endeavor to locate the ticker. He made another attempt without so much interference. Taking a lamp he descended to the cellar and remained several minutes in order to get the proper atmosphere. He then came up and went into several rooms, including a bed-room. Enoch was pretty warm on the scent of the watch by that time and finally located it. He told McIntyre to search in the bed-room and he would find the watch. McIntyre did and sure enough, there was the watch on the springs of the bed, with the fob hanging out. Enoch took the five-spot. The only thing that made Enoch's efforts open to skepticism was the fact that the police had carefully searched that very bed a short time before and there had been no watch there. McIntyre took the watch to the police station as Exhibit A and Enoch followed soon after.

NATURAL EXPLANATION.

Groves went on the stand himself and explained to Sitting Magistrate McCready that he just naturally had known that that watch had not left the house because there was no one to take it out and that it could be found if they would only look for it in the right place.

GOT FIVE MONTHS

At two o'clock this afternoon Groves again appeared before the police court and was sentenced to five months in jail in order that he might have lots of time to dream.

NO BOOZE BY PARCEL POST

(particularly those to whose care money is entrusted), that if they used liquor they would be dismissed. Consequently he was not going to be instrumental in putting liquor within reach of these employees who had been warned and he told that he had led them into temptation.

In the second place, Mr. Pelletier said there are many places where the sale of liquor is now prohibited and illegal, because the people have decided that it should be so.

"Am I going to thwart their wishes by allowing the transmission of liquor by parcel post into the districts where the people have said they do not want it?"

In conclusion, Mr. Pelletier said the question is settled and will not be re-opened.

EXCITEMENT AT CHICAGO

lowed by the resignation of Peter Reinberg, president of the board, who in a fiery speech, denounced the members, who had voted against Mrs. Young, and said he could not serve with men in whom he had no confidence and who had violated faith reposed in them by resorting to a secret ballot in defiance of the expressed wish of Mayor Harrison.

The ballot which forced Mrs. Young out stood ten for her, six for Shoop, four not voting and one absent. Eleven votes are necessary to elect.

The defeat of Mrs. Young is the climax of a long and bitter fight she has made against a coterie of book men whose text books had been discontinued.
