ATHLETICS MADE PENNANT SURE IN MONDAY GAMES

Cleveland or Washington Cannot
Possibly Head Them Now--Philadelphia Will Have Good Margin

When the Athletics took both games from the Tigers Monday they left no possible way by which either Cleveland or Washington could even work into a tie with them. If Philadelphia should play and lose every one of the eleven games remaining on its schedule, at the end of the season it would have won 93 games and lost 51.

The Naps have nine games to play and if they should play and win every one of them the best they could make it would be 92 games won and 61 lost.

Similarly, if Washington should win the ten games it has yet to play, one with St. Louis, three with New York, three with Philadelphia and three with Boston, its final count would be 92 won and 62 lost. So the very worst that could happen to Philadelphia and the very best that Cleveland and Washington could get is shown in the following table:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Philadelphia	93	60	.608
Cleveland	92	61	.601
Washington	92	62	.597

*One game prevented by rain in the St. Louis series.

One game prevented by rain in the Boston series.

It is probable that none of the three teams will be able to play all the games still on its schedule and it is not at all likely that the Athletics will lose all they play or that Cleveland and Washington will win all of theirs, so the final standing will be considerably different from the figures given above.

PRESERVE THE BIRDS

State of Oregon Interests School Lands
—They Build Pretty Houses

Exhibits of bird houses, built by boys of the schools in Portland, Ore., have attracted much attention and aroused no little rivalry among the boys themselves as to design and execution. They constructed charming little bungalows of rustic strips of bark; quaint reproductions of old-world thatched farm cottages; log cabins, and tiny homes wrought of silvery birch-bark and bits of moss on sloping roofs. Through the co-operation of the Oregon Audubon Society and the State superintendent of Public Schools a widespread movement for systematic bird study and bird protection was inaugurated over a year ago in the Portland schools. Each schoolboy in the intermediate grades constructed at least one bird house during the year. These were placed in public parks, residence grounds, and along the highways. This was the beginning of a State-wide plan to bring the children of the schools into closer relationship with their bird neighbors. William L. Finley, State game warden of Oregon, has done much to have the economic value of birds taught to school children. The crow and the kingfisher both have unnecessarily bad reputations, it is pointed out. To determine the economic status of the crow the department of agriculture examined nearly a thousand of them taken in every month of the year all over the country, and it was found that most of the corn eaten by these birds was waste corn, and the part destroyed while growing was only 3 per cent. of the total food. On the other hand the amount of harmful insects and mice eaten rendered the final verdict in favor of the crow. It was also determined that the kingfisher does not eat trout, but only fish that are of no value to man.

Lifeboat Dwelling

A famous Cornish lifeboat, after years of service, has been converted into a dwelling, and is to let for $3 a week. This old lifeboat has done duty at many wrecks. It was launched when the ss. Mohagan went ashore on the Manacles with the loss of so many lives, and also at the stranding of the American liner Paris.

TIGERS DRAFT DEMMITT FROM MONTREAL CLUB

WILL SELECT DATES FOR CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES ON THURSDAY

Cincinnati, Sept. 23—Chairman August Herrmann of the National Baseball Commission, announced today that he had called a meeting for next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock of the commission to take up the matter of the next world's championship baseball series. The meeting will be held in Philadelphia. Chairman Herrmann will leave tomorrow for the east. He stated that no dates have been set for the opening of the world's series and that none would be set until the meeting in Philadelphia.

SPORTS OF ALL KINDS

Joe Neptune played last week with the Easterns, a semi-pro. team of Bangor.

Coach Campbell is giving the U. N. B. squad gymnasium work when the weather does not permit of playing on the field.

Erwin Wakefield, catcher for the Bangor team in the Maine-New Brunswick League, who finished the season with the Sydney team in the Cape Breton League, is stopping a few days in Bangor before returning to his home in Montpelier, Vermont. Wakefield was with Fredericton a short time.

H. H. Lee of Augusta, Me., one of the Fredericton judges, started at Chatham, N.B., this week. Frank J. Power started at Charlottetown.

Oakie O'Connor may play hockey for the Glace Bay team this winter.

Jimmie Wilkie will again be on the line-up of Sydney's pro. hockey team this coming season.

There is every indication that football will boom in Sydney this fall. The fact that Sydney has in its midst Half-back Billington, who was the star man on the McGill University team, will increase the interest in the game in Cape Breton and a crack Sydney team should result.—Sydney Record.

Morrison, Acadia's star football man, is another who will line out on the Sydney Rugby team this year. He is a fast man and knows the game from the ground up.

Acheen, by the Nova Scotia sire Achille, won the 2:17 class at Pittsburgh, Pa., in straight heats, in 2:14½, 2:14½, 2:12½.

Frederick Winthrop Thayer, captain of the famous Harvard baseball teams of 1876, 1877 and 1878, and inventor of the catcher's mask, which changed the entire history of the national game, died suddenly Thursday evening at his summer home, Cohasset, Mass.

Fredericton High has lost quite heavily by graduation but is out again hot-foot after the Inter-scholastic silverware.

BEGINNING OF COLUMBUS RACE MEET

Columbus, O., Sept. 24—This is the opening day of the grand circuit race meeting in this city, which will continue until October 4. There will be ten principal stake events with stakes aggregating $41,000 in value.

Light of Fireflies

It has been proved by experiments conducted by M. Ives, a chemist, that the light emitted by fireflies, glow-worms and other insects is purely chemical and not in any way biological. Mr. Ives finds that this light is not extinguished by death. Of course after death some stimulus is necessary to excite it, but it can be produced in their tissues two years after their death, which makes certain that it is chemical in origin.

Corrugated strawboard containers which fit closely all around their contents have been invented for shipping single eggs by parcel post.

HANS HOLMER HAS HAD VERY SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Great Canadian Runner Has Done
Some Wonderful Work in Scotland
During Present Season

Hans Holmer, the Canadian long distance man, was full of running the day he beat Frank Kanaly for the world's mile championship at Powderhall, for later that afternoon he ran in a mile handicap, which had 92 starters. Hewas unplaced, however, as a man off the 130-yard mark won in 4 mon., 20 seconds, which was 4 2-5 seconds faster than his own time in the race with Kanaly.

Holmer, by the way, is looking for more worlds to conquer. Through the Sporting Chronicle of Manchester, Eng., he has challenged the world for a race of more than a mile. He asks for quick returns, as he proposes hereafter to do longer distance racing. Holmer's present form is likely to keep his mail down to nil.

Holmer has had a remarkable season abroad, following very indifferent success here last winter. He began to show exceptional speed in the Powder Hall handicaps early in the season. He defeated Willie Kolehmainen in the Edinburgh police sports in 4 min., 26 sec., in a mile handicap with better running in him, if required, and at Loanhead he beat Kolehmainen again in a mile race by 300 yards. Later he easily outran George Dinning in a 10-mile match race at Carlisle.

In the 10-mile championship of the world at the Sporting Chronicle's carnival he defeated the pick of the world and finally annexed the mile championship title by outfooting Frank Kanaly. These important victories, together with numerous winnings at Scotch games, have made it a very prosperous year for Holmer.
