A BRITISH SQUADRON ORDERED TO MEXICO

British Cruisers in West Indian Waters Given Peremptory Orders to Proceed to Vera Cruz---Announcement has Created Keen Interest in Mexico---Mr. Shaughnessy Has Been Given New Instructions by President Wilson---Huerta Quotes Napoleon

Mexico City, Nov. 19.—Speculation as to what President Wilson intends to do in the face of the Mexican difficulties was increased today by the knowledge that the American charge d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, had received new instructions and that important matters were under consideration.

The announcement that a British squadron was coming to Mexican waters created keen interest, but the effect upon the Mexican mind was reassuring rather than otherwise, because the Mexican people continue to look upon Great Britain as a friend. In official quarters the despatch of the squadron was styled as an act of courtesy.

The foreign colonies in the Mexican capital are preparing to defend themselves in the event of disturbances in the city and particularly should the final settlement be left to the Mexicans themselves. Both Sir Lionel Carden and Admiral Von Hintze, the British and German ministers, respectively, have suggested to their nationals the advisability of perfecting some sort of a defence organization. No such advice has been given to the Americans, but committees are quietly working out a plan of defence and it is possible that there will be formed a general organization, embracing the American, British, German and Austrian residents.

HUERTA POSES AS A NAPOLEON

President Huerta, in his message to Congress Thursday afternoon, will quote Napoleon in justification of his arbitrary dissolution of the old congress and he serves notice that he will ask the new congress to grant him a political bill of health.

Not even a reference to international relations is made in the message which General Huerta has prepared.

Mexico City, Nov. 20.—The message which President Huerta will deliver before congress today is vigorous in tone and is devoted largely to a review of and to reasons justifying his action. In continuing his message, the President makes a strong appeal to the newly elected members of Congress to guard carefully their official acts, inasmuch as the eyes of the whole world are now centered upon Mexico.

The document was read and briefly discussed at a meeting of the cabinet today, the ministers agreeing with their chief that he had done well in not attempting to cover too much ground.

The President confirms himself entirely to a review of the incidents leading to the dissolution of the old congress and justification of his act. What may be regarded as a hint of the delicate situation which Mexico as a nation is occupying, appears in the conclusion of the message, when he reminds the congressmen that the moment is a solemn one and possibly decisive for the future of the nation. In this connection, the President says that the eyes of all the people of the civilized world are upon them. The message closes with an expression of the hope that soon all Mexico may be united and that all may join in the task of national reconstruction.

RECORD BREAKING EXPORTS

Trade Returns Show An Increase of $23,000,000 Over Oct. 1912

Increase Was Largely in the Products of the Farm and Was Due to New U. S. Tariff

Ottawa, Nov. 19.—Statistics of Canadian trade for October show a continued falling off in total imports, reflecting the caution now being exercised by merchants generally throughout Canada in regard to restricting stocks pending recovery from the general financial stringency.

In September there was a decrease of $3,514,951 in total imports, as compared with September of last year. For October the decrease was $7,664,000.

The decrease for the two months is therefore more than $11,000,000, or about ten per cent. Indications are that this rate of decrease will be pretty steadily maintained until the end of the fiscal year and the total imports for the year are likely to show a considerable decrease, as compared with last year.

This will be the first time in nearly two decades that steady Canadian expansion has not produced an annual increase in imports.

For the seven months of the fiscal year the dutiable and free imports

SPELLBINDERS HAD NO OPPORTUNITY TO TALK

Hon. H. F. McLeod and A. D. Thomas Went to Marysville But Found No Audience

A public meeting in connection with the session of the York County Loyal Orange Lodge at Marysville, yesterday ended in a fizzle, no audience appearing to hear the speakers. Those billed for the occasion were ex-Ald. P. A. Guthrie, A. D. Thomas and Hon. H. F. McLeod. The latter is said to have had some pretty hot stuff on the situation in Ulster at the opportunity of making it known. ready for the occasion but was denied. The weather and the darkness aided in keeping away what few intended to hear the speakers. Messrs. Thomas and McLeod turned up all right, but the expectant listeners were not present. The would-be speakers are now indignant that the meeting was called.

QUIET HOME WEDDING WEDNESDAY EVENING

Frank H. Lingley and Miss W. Mae Anderson United in Marriage--- Will Reside on King Street

A quiet wedding the principals in which are well known and popular in this city took place last night at the home of the bride, 643 King St., when Miss Willa Mae Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Anderson, and Mr. Frank Holden Lingley, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Neil McLaughlan pastor of the Methodist Church, in the presence of a few of the immediate relatives.

The bride was the recipient of numerous beautiful wedding gifts. Camp Sans Souci which the groom is a member presented the young couple with a brass bedstead. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hawthorn gave a mahogany parlor suit and the present from the girl friends of the bride was a satin puff.

Mr. and Mrs. Lingley left last night for St. John where they will spend a few days and on their return will reside at 643 King St.

Mr. James Malone of Stanley was in the city today.

STOCK MARKET FEATURELESS

Only Twenty Thousand Shares Sold During first hour of Trading

Disgusted Investors May Bring on Further Liquidation---C. P. R. Below 224

New York, Nov. 20.—Yesterday's stock market was featureless so far as the development of fresh impulses was concerned. There was a great deal of idle talk about impending financial trouble, but very happily few people took any stock in such reports. The nucleus of the stories, perhaps, was the surprise that owing to the long absence of commission on house customers many houses would go out of business on the first of the year. The Mexican situation still hangs over the market and until some definite action takes place the uncertainty will be prolonged. The market looks to be well liquidated, although it is quite possible that unless there are some favorable developments soon, either in the nature of initiative from banking quarters or favorable news of some kind, a new stratum of liquidation, however, would have to come largely from disgusted investors for there are no unwieldy speculative accounts outstanding.

EXECUTIVE OF BOARD OF TRADE IN SESSION

Annual Dinner on First Wednesday of January---Amalgamation of Board and Canadian Club

The Executive of the Board of Trade met last night at the board rooms and transacted a considerable amount of business in preparation for the annual meeting and the annual dinner.

Present were Pres. J. T. Jennings, Mayor W. S. Hooper, J. M. Lemont, G. Y. Dibblee, C. F. Chesnut, Ald. W. J. Osborne, Ald. W. G. Clark, G. W. Hodge, J. D. Palmer, F. B. Edgecombe.

A committee composed of Mayor Hooper and Messrs. Chestnut and Palmer was appointed to make arrangements for balloting for the new executive. Ballots will be sent to all members of the board.

Ald. Clark and Messrs. Hodge, Edgecombe, Lemont and Dibblee were appointed to undertake a ward canvass for new members.

The annual Board of Trade dinner is to be held on the first Wednesday of January. Messrs. Slipp, Edgecombe and Dibblee were appointed a committee to make the necessary arrangements.

The suggestion that the annual membership fee be increased from $3 to $5 will come before the board at its annual meeting.

Last night it was suggested that an effort be made to amalgamate the Canadian Club and Board of Trade. The suggestion was discussed and the argument was advanced in its support that the membership of the Board of Trade would be increased and the opportunity of hearing lectures and speakers would be increased.

Messrs. Chestnut and Osborne were appointed a committee to take up the matter.

WASHINGTON ROAD BUILDERS MEET

North Yakima, Wash., Nov. 20.—North Yakima is entertaining for two days the annual convention of the Washington Good Roads association. Delegates from Oregon as well as all sections of Washington are in attendance. The scheduled speakers include Governor Lister, State Highway Commissioner W. J. Roberts, and a number of well known good roads experts.

WILLIAM BAYARD HALE AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

Is Playing an Important Role in Mexico as the Personal Representative of President Wilson---His Famous Interview With Emperor William is Recalled---Was at One Time Pastor of a Church and Afterwards Took up Journalism

Washington, D.C., Nov. 20.—The important role which William Bayard Hale plays in the present Mexican imbroglio as the unofficial and confidential representative of President Wilson has brought that remarkable man again into the limelight of public interest. The last time he held the centre of the stage was in 1908, when he had that famous interview with Emperor William, the publication of which came dangerously near causing serious international complications between Germany and England. His present appearance in a semi-diplomatic role under the most critical conditions and in connection with a situation requiring the most skillful diplomatic handling, naturally revives the interest in Mr. Hale's remarkable and somewhat stormy career.

William Bayard Hale was born in Richmond, Ind., April 6, 1869. His father was a man of wealth and gave him an excellent education by private tutors. Young Hale had brilliant talents and was scarcely more than a boy when he entered the field of literature by writing poetry and short stories for newspapers and magazines. He also showed considerable ability as an orator and took an active part in one or two of the Democratic State campaigns. Then he came to Boston, studied at Boston University and Harvard and completed his education at the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge. There he became acquainted with Bishop Phillips Brooks who took a great interest in the brilliant young student.

The bishop placed him in charge of a mission in Middleboro, Mass., which under the too energetic leadership of young Hale developed into the Church of Our Savior. As the rector of the parish, the Rev. William Bayard Hale became exceedingly popular in Middleboro, and his brilliant ability attracted attention throughout New England. In 1895 he caused a sensation by publishing a paper entitled "A Religious Analysis of a New England Town," in which he pleaded for the unification of church interests, at least in small towns, and severely criticized the methods used by churches to attract crowds and to raise funds.

He retained his hold on his own parish until 1897, when his engagement to Miss Mabel Matilda Jolly, the daughter of a Middleboro woolen merchant, was announced. His choice did not meet with the approval of some of the old women in the parish and they made things so disagreeable for the young minister that he resigned and accepted a call to a small parish in Ardmore, Pa. He married Miss Jolly in 1899 and took her to Ardmore. Seven months later she left him and in 1901 she obtained a divorce on the ground of cruelty. After the divorce had been granted, Ms. Hale retired from the ministry and, for some time at least, tried to earn a living as an insurance agent. Becoming dissatisfied with the insurance business, Mr. Hale gave it up and turned a newspaper and magazine writer. He also took an active part in politics and went on the stump for Bryan in 1900.

Mr. Hale was literary editor of a New York newspaper when President Wilson became governor of New Jersey. Mr. Hale was a strong supporter of Mr. Wilson and became an intimate friend of the governor. The friendship continued after Mr. Wilson was elected President and Mr. Hale was a frequent visitor at the White House. When the Mexican situation became acute, President Wilson sent Mr. Hale to Mexico as his personal representative, to obtain authentic information and advice concerning the conditions in Mexico.

REV. FATHER DONAHUE REMEMBERED BY HIS FRIENDS

Last evening a farewell reception was tendered Father Donahue in St. Anthony's Hall, St. Mary's which was largely attended. The Pastor Rev. Father Ryan presided and in a few words explained the reason of the gathering which was to bid farewell to their Curate who since his ordination has been stationed at St. Mary's.

During the years he has been with them he has done his work well and zealously and so by doing merited their goodwill and affection and they were there to give public expression to their friendly feeling for him.

Mr. John Barry, Jr., then read the following address:—
To the Rev. Walter M. Donohue
St. Mary's Ferry

Dear Rev. Father,—
On this the eve of your departure from St. Anthony's parish to take up your duties in another portion of the Master's Vineyard, permit us to express our regret at the severance of the ties which bound you to us, and at the same time to bid you God-speed in the position which you have been chosen to fill.

Since coming among us a few years ago to assist our pastor in the onerous duties of these scattered missions that comprise our parish you have won the good-will of pastor and people alike by your attention and zeal in the discharge of your duties as curate and you have won too the hearts of the younger generation among us to whom your word and example were an incentive to higher and nobler efforts. These excellent qualities of the good priest that so endeared you to the people of St. Anthony's Church and its missions, you are taking with you to your new field of labor and it is our earnest prayer that they will meet with the same generous measure of success that crowned your work here. As a tangible expression of our appreciation of your priestly services we would ask you to accept the accompanying gift as a souvenir of your first curacy from the combined missions of St. Mary's, Stanley, Tay Creek and Maugeville.

Signed
JOHN BARRY, JR.
On behalf of the parishioners. After the reading of the address Mr. Thos. Dinsmore presented to Father Donahue a magnificent gold watch and chain with pendant and purse of money.

Rev. Father Donahue was visibly touched at the manifestation of goodwill on the part of pastor and people, and in his reply deprecated the fact that he was not worthy of such gifts and words spoken of him. He attributed whatever measure of success he had attained, after God, to the firm, yet kind direction of the Pastor and to the happy home life which it had been his privilege to enjoy. He thanked the congregation and missions for their kindness to him and assured Pastor and people he would never forget them.

The Chancery Appeal case of Hunter vs. Fretwell having been settled out of court there was a session of the Supreme Court morning Judge Barry adjourned sittings until Friday at 11

COLLECTORS FOR BIBLE SOCIETY MADE SATISFACTORY SHOWING

The returns from the Bible Society collectors were delayed in some sections this year and in fact several regular contributions have not yet forwarded their annual amount to this worthy object. As the noble band of young lady collectors is now disbanded for the year, any sums sent to Secretary-Treasurer Sampson will be acknowledged in the annual report. In the city proper the amount collected is sixty or seventy dollars less than last year but in Nashwaakasis the energetic collector, Miss McAdam, has succeeded in returning a larger amount than the previous year. The different churches undertook the work of collecting as follows:
