UNITED STATES EXPERT MAKES STRONG PLEA FOR RUGBY

Says it Would be Better Than Present
American Football With It's Experimental Changes

"If the present American game of football, with its experimental changes is to continue, I most heartily recommend that the game of Rugby be substituted." Thus spoke Mr. W. Knibbs, one of America's foremost football experts, after witnessing the Stanford-California Rugby match. He continued: "I believe the athlete and the spectator would be more pleased with Rugby as I saw it yesterday, than with the game we are playing in the East this season. I would very much like to see Rugby the game of the American colleges; an international game so well developed and played that athletic prowess could be displayed internationally as well as in track athletics."

(English Rugby is played on the Pacific coast of Canada and the United States to the exclusion of the so-called Canadian and American games. More than twenty thousand people saw the Stanford-California College game at Stanford.)

FRED CLARKE READY TO SIGN WITH PIRATES

Pittsburg, Nov. 18—Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburg National League Baseball Club, today received a letter from Fred Clarke, manager of the team, requesting that a contract be forwarded immediately to Clarke's Kansas ranch for signing. The document has been mailed.

TED COY, FOOTBALL STAR, LEFT FORTUNE

New Haven, Nov. 18—By the distribution of the estate of Mary S. Harris, filed in the Probate Court, Ted Coy, the former Yale football captain, and his brother, Sherman Coy, a former end rush, each received one-third of an estate valued at $250,000. The other third goes to their sister, Miss Helen Coy.

Mrs. Harris was the widow of the late Prof. Harris, dean of the Yale Theological School, and an aunt of the Coy children. The life use of the estate was left to Mrs. Coy, Ted's mother, who died last spring.

BILL PARSONS AND KID O'NEILL IN DRAW

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 19—The fifteen round boxing bout at the Arena tonight between Billy Parsons of Glace Bay, and Kid O'Neill resulted in a draw. The bout went the full number of rounds and while the decision was well received, many thought the Glace Bay boy had the better of the battle. Both men are pretty evenly matched.

Parsons showed marked improvement over his previous appearance here. He was well trained and in excellent condition.

WALTER COX BANQUETTED BY ADMIRERS AT DOVER

Famous Driver Honored at His Home Town—Presented With Reinsman's Whip—New England Tracks Well Represented at the Dinner—A. H. Merrill Present

Dover, N.H., Nov. 18—Walter R. Cox, reinsman, the second largest money winner of the year on the Grand Circuit, was tendered a complimentary banquet by the Dover citizens at the Park Tavern, Granite State Park, tonight, in recognition of his splendid work as a driver last season and out of regard for him as a citizen of Dover.

During the afternoon many of those from out of town who came to attend the banquet, and others, were given a little matinee sport by Cox, who brought to the track two of his best colts, both by Moko, and gave them their standardization records. Their trials were watched with keen interest. Glenard went the mile in 2:28 and Lucky Clover in 2:29.

The banquet was served at 7:30, when about seventy friends of the reinsman, among whom were many prominent racing men, filed into the handsomely decorated banquet room. Boston, Danvers, Manchester, Concord, Farmington, Exeter, Somersworth and Rochester were among the places represented. During the dinner an orchestra played. Wilbur L. Dunley, manager of the Rockingham Park race track, was toastmaster.

Early in the after-dinner festivities the toastmaster sprang a surprise on Mr. Cox by presenting to him a costly reinsman's whip, having an inlaid pearl handle and a silver ferrule suitably inscribed. The presentation was made on behalf of Mr. Cox's Dover friends. He accepted the gift with a felicitous speech after recovering from his surprise. Mr. Cox's triumphs on the various ovals of the country were referred to by several speakers.

The banquet committee consisted of Frank A. Christie, George H. Bayes, Thomas E. Varney and Frank Harrigan all Dover men.

Among those present were:

Judge Albert H. Merrill of Danvers, Mass.

William Johns, George Keller, John Coakley, A. S. Jones and James Forgie, of Boston.

Charles E. Cox and John A. Cartledge of Manchester.

G. Scott Locke, Lou Currier and Mr. Powers of Concord.

Judge Lawrence V. McGill and Dr. Guy Chesley of Rochester.

Col. Gilman of Exeter.

Henry Page, Frank L. Babb, W. S. Pike of Farmington.

Paul Tardiff of Somersworth.

Dr. George H. Towle of Newmarket.

Pres. Frank W. Hanson of the Dover Driving Club.

Arthur H. Morrison, Eugene F. Dixon, Owen Coogan, James F. Dennis, W. Pitt Roberts, Dr. George A. Tolman, Thomas Sherry, ex-Mayor John H. Nealley, Fred D. Frary, William G. Meloon, ex-Mayor George J. Foster, George M. Grant, Col. Chas. C. Goss, William A. Goss, Fred W. Neal, William D. McDonald, Dr. Fred L. Bodwell, Fred M. Nash, Dr. Elbridge A. Shorey, Dr. George R. Smith, Nathaniel E. Curtis and Edward A. Willard of Dover.

TENER WILL ACCEPT NATIONAL PRESIDENCY

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 19—Governor Tener said tonight that only a few minor details were to be arranged before his acceptance of the presidency of the National League of Baseball Clubs. He made this statement on his way to a train for Philadelphia after a four-hour conference of four representing clubs of the league, and Charles Ebbets of the Brooklyn Club, stated that he regarded the matter as all settled.

MONUMENTS FOR LIARS

The Sea Dyaks Are a Very Truthful and Honest Race

So truthful are the members of the race known as the Sea Dyaks of Borneo that when a really good lie is told to them they build a monument to keep the memory of the perpetrator.

This is only one curious piece of information among many supplied in an article in the "Mission Field." These people, it is stated, are as honest as they are truthful.

So disgraceful do they consider the deceiving of others by an untruth that such conduct is handed down to posterity by a curious custom. They heap up a pile of branches of trees in memory of the man who has uttered a great lie, so that future generations may know of his wickedness and take warning from it.

The persons deceived start the tugong bula—"the liar's mound"—by heaping up a large number of branches in some conspicuous spot by the side of the path leading from one village to another. Every passer-by contributes to it, and at the same time curses the man in memory of whom it is. The Dyaks consider the adding to any tugong bula they may pass a sacred duty, the omission of which will meet with supernatural punishment, and so, however pressed for time a Dyak may be, he stops to throw on the pile some branch or twig.

In his jungle home the Dyak is remarkably honest. Families are often away from their homes for weeks at a time, living in little huts on their farms, and though no one is left in charge of their rooms in the lone village house, things are seldom lost.

The writer states that with an experience of nearly twenty years in Borneo he knew of only two instances of theft. One was the theft of rice. The woman who lost the rice most solemnly and publicly cursed the thief, whoever it might be. The next night the rice was left at her door.

The "Prison of Silence"

Republican Portugal still tolerates a prison whose carefully-planned, diabolical torture is enough to make prison reformers turn in their graves.

In this prison, called the "Prison of Silence," in a grim castle on the outskirts of Lisbon, nearly everything that human ingenuity can suggest to terrify the prisoners is done. The corridors, piled tier on tier five storeys high, extend from a common centre like the spokes of a huge wheel. The cells are narrow and tomb-like, and within each stands a coffin. The attendants creep about in felt slippers. No one is allowed to utter a word. The silence is that of the grave. Once a day the cell doors are unlocked, and the half a thousand wretches march out clothed in shrouds and with faces covered by masks, for it is part of this hideous punishment that none may look upon the countenance of his fellow-prisoners. Few of them endure this torture for more than ten years.

DUDIE ARCHDALE WILL RETIRE FROM THE RACE TRACK

She Has Had Great Record Winning
$45,000—Owner Frank G. Jones
Will Keep Her

Dudie Archdale, 2031, has trotted her last race, according to advices from Memphis, where she is owned by Frank G. Jones. Mr. Jones announced last summer that he intended to retire her at the close of the campaign and keep her as long as she lived.

Although she is one of the smallest and lightest trotters in the 2:10 list, she has been a wonderfully enduring and consistent campaigner. Since Ed Geers brought her out in the Grand Circuit in 1910 she has trotted 41 races, 25 of which she won and in only one of which she was replaced. The only time she failed to get a part of the purse was in the handicap at Boston, when the starter gave the word with her head turning the wrong way of the track.

Starting in 120 heats in her four campaigns, she was first in 61 of them, second in 34, third in seven, and fourth in seven. Fifty-four of her winning heats were trotted in 2:10 or better, 13 were below 2:06, and eight were in 2:05 or faster. The average was 2:06½. Her earnings total $45,000. She may be bred to Etawah, 2:06½ next spring.

The St. John Standard boastfully declares that there are no grafters or middlemen under Flemming rule. The Standard editor should get in touch with Mr. J. K. Pinder, M.P.P. for York, and endeavor to find out what is going on.
