

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Is the Housewife's Greatest Help.

WHAT so tempting to the laggard appetite as a light, flaky, fruit short cake or a delicate hot biscuit?

Royal makes the perfect short cake, biscuit and muffin, and improves the flavor and healthfulness of all risen flour-foods.

It renders the biscuit, hot-bread and short cake more di-gestible and nutritious, at the same time making them more attractive and appetizing.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for the preparation all the year round of perfect foods.

LOWER PRINCE WILLIAM

Lower Prince William, Dec. 8.—We are all glad to hear that our popular teacher, Miss Alberta Barton, will remain with us for another term.

The Sewing Circle met last Thursday with Mrs. Barry Courser, when a very pleasant afternoon was spent. The new president, Mrs. Dr.
McKenzie was in charge and a number of fancy articles were made ready for the Christmas sale. The Circle will meet with Mrs. Luke Kelly in Thursday next.

Mrs. Alex. Jewett visited her daughter Mrs. David Burden last week.

Mr. Daniel Warden has gone to Kingsclear, where he will spend the winter with his daughter, Mrs. Ernst Holyoke.

The Ladies' Missionary Aid Society will meet as Mrs. Barry Courser's tomorrow evening.

Miss Jessie Jones entertained a number of her friends at a birthday party last Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow, Moore of Burden are being congratulated on the arrival of a baby girl at their home last week.

Mr. Moses Jewett is confined to his home by a severe attack of larippe.

We are sorry to hear of the serious illness of Mrs. Nehemiah Hoyt.

NEW YORK HORSE SHOW SET FASHIONS LAST WEEK

New York, Dec. 6.—Fashion, so far as New York City is concerned, has spoken its last word at the horse show last week. Of course, some novelties may come over from Paris later, but it may be taken for granted that these few odd novelties will not materially affect the styles as indicated by the great costumes showing horse show week. The display was gorgeous, even more so than on previous occasions, which is principally due to the fact that never before were there so many beautiful and rich materials to choose from than at the present time. Velvets, silks, satins and brocades, laces and the most exquisite furs were shown in a bewildering and dazzling array and in various combinations.

No doubt, there were a great many bizarre costumes to be seen at the horse show, costumes as daring as many of the costumes displayed at French resorts and race meetings; yet there was a slight difference.
The eccentricities had been toned down sufficiently not to offend American ideas of decency and good taste. Aside from a decidedly outre costume worn by women who place a higher value upon conspicuous-ness than upon good taste, the costumes seen at the horse show were rather pleasing and attractive.

One of the most striking features of the display was the extensive use of velvet for costumes of every description. Black velvet seemed to be the general favorite, but velvets in other colors were also seen. All kinds of great beauty and highly effective. Velvet was used for gowns, unies and coats, for wraps and loaks and quite frequently for hats and accessories. Another striking feature was the lavish display of furs of the most beautiful color, texure and finish. Sable, black, blue and white fox, ermine and other furs of the costliest kind were shown in profusion and side by side with these one of the less costly and pretentious furs, used either as material or trimming for gowns, cloaks or ats.

Skirts are apparently as clinging as ever, although much more material is put into them, and corsages are arranged in flat, drooping folds, but from the hips to the knees, pleats and flounces and pulls are arranged. On some of the latest models for evening gowns tunics appear, which are nothing short of ballet dancers' skirts. These curious tunics, are, as a rule, made of tulle and one pleated flounce is pos'd over another until the whole affair looks exactly like the old fashioned ballet skirt.

A SEASON'S NOVELTY

One of the novelties of the season is the pannier tunic which is caught up in two places. It was originate recently by one of the Paris designer who since then has made a specialty of such skirts. It is scarcely necessary to mention that this fashion is becoming only to the ultra slender women. For fat women it would be utterly impossible. Even on every lender women these tunics invariably look freakish and their adoption may be considered a fair indication of the wearer's lack of good taste.

One of the most freakish novelties of the winter season is the "Houp-pelande" coat which originated in Paris and was placed on the market by one of the noted designers of that city. The "Houppelande" is a fairly long coat with a double hem at the bottom, made flaring by stiffen-ing, and is clearly an outgrowth of the Persian tunic which is still maintaining its popularity. Some of the more eccentric houppelande models are lavishly trimmed with frills of taffeta or velvet and with bands of sable. Some of these coats are exceedingly wide at the hem, and all of them are so arranged that they stand away from the figure below the hips. The genuine houppelande coat of olden days was rather shorter than the models now being shown in our best ateliers. They also were elaborately trimmed with frills and ruchings and finished off with wide sleeves.

The new wraps look complicated, but they are not, after one is shown how to make them. It is not necessary, in order to be fashionable, that one should have that line of others straight across the back, which cuts the figure in half, and which one sees on half the new oafs, but it is a good touch if one can manage it. The long line of drapery from shoulder to hem is equally good if one manages to provide enough fullness to the shoulder wraps are long, although the accepted new movement is toward wrap that comes to the ankles.
This style will probably not become popular until later in the season.

IMPORTED EGGS CHEAPER IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 6.—Eggs imported from Europe are being sold cheaper in this city than eggs laid in the United States, according to evidence said to have been obtained here today by an agent of the United States Department of Justice. The evidence, covering both fresh and cold storage eggs, will be used, it is understood, by Attorney General Mc-Reynolds as an illustration of the gist the cold storage speculators are alleged to have on the egg markets of New York and other big consuming centres.

More than six thousand cases of European eggs have arrived in this port during the past week. The importations have been made possible by the new tariff.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Eggs are to be banished from the tables in the homes of nearly all the cabinet members whose wives have pledged their support to the egg boycott campaign which is being waged to reduce the price. One of the first to give her approval and join the movement was Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, wife of the secretary of state.

"Any subject that touches the home touches the heart of every woman, whoever she is," is what Mrs. Bryan told Mrs. Ellis Logan, a leader in the boycott movement here, when she called upon Mrs. Bryan to obtain her support. Mrs. Bryan assured Mrs. Logan that she was in thorough accord with the movement.

Following Mrs. Bryan's lead nearly all the other cabinet wives have joined the efforts to bring lower egg prices. Pledges have been obtained from Mrs. Lindley M. Garrison, the of the secretary of war; Mrs. Albert S. Burleson, wife of the postmaster general; Mrs. Davis F. Houston, wife of the secretary of agriculture, and Mrs. W. B. Wilson, wife of the secretary of labor.

A monster petition is being prepared with which Congress is to be stormed by Mrs. Logan and her co-workers. It is expected that by next Monday night more than twenty-five thousand names will have been signed to the document. Mrs. Logan declares that already fifteen thousand Washington housewives have joined the movement. It is planned, the club women say, to impress Congress with the need for legislation that will bring about lower food prices.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF AN ABSCESS BY Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mr. A. W. Dryden, Amherst, N.S., writes:—"I am going to tell you what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for us.
My son 'Vance' when only nine months old, got an abscess on his cheek bone.
I took him to a doctor in St. John, N.B., and he lanced it, and told me it would get well in a few days, and wanted me to keep it squeezed out. It did not seem to get any better, so my wife took him back. The Doctor told her to take him home and it would soon get better. It would gather and break, and it went on that way until he was over four years old.

"He lost four pieces of bone out of where it was lanced, and two pieces came from his mouth; he has lost all of his cheek bone, and his eye was drawn down. I took him to doctors in St. John, Mon-ton, and Amherst, and all wanted me to let him go under an operation. He was so small I told them that if he was going to die he might as well die as he was as to go there and be all cut to pieces, so I declined to have the operation done.
I told them I was going to try Burdock Blood Bitters, as I had heard my mother talk so much about it. I got a bottle, and when it was about half gone noticed it was doing good, and before many days the sore stopped running, and healed up, and the abscess has never broken out again. This happened nearly six years ago, so you can see I have great faith in Burdock Blood Bitters, and I can say with all my heart that it is the best blood medicine in the world."

DOMINION JOTTINGS

It is said that eighty per cent. of the population of Saskatchewan is engaged in agriculture.

A Prince Edward Island man was induced to part with $700 by a "Spanish Prisoner" fraud.

Out of 85 samples of maple sugar examined in the laboratory of the Inland Revenue, only 43 were the genuine article. The other samples were adulterated with other sweetening materials. Out of 128 samples of maple syrup, only 86 were pure.

Seldom has a man broken more Statutes, acts or by-laws by a single act than Bernard Wright of Saskatoon, who shot a duck on Sunday. He broke the Sunday law in that he was shooting on Sunday, he broke the city by-law, in that he discharged a firearm inside the city limits, he broke the game act, in that he was shooting out of season, and he broke another section of the same act, in that he shot game without a license. His duck might have cost him $102.75, but he got off with $12.75, and a warning.

Head-Work Wins

But mental activity is dependant for its success-making results, upon the way both body and brain cells are fed.

Right feeding isn't a matter of quantity--most persons actually eat too much. But the selection of the right kind of food helps wonderfully to make men and women active and successful.

The fact is, some every-day articles of food are so lacking in certain food values as to make their common use more or less a menace to physical and mental well-being. (Constipation and a run-down physical condition are readily traced to this lack.)

Particularly is this true of food made from white flour, which is robbed of most of most of the mineral phosphates of the grain when the bran-coat is thrown off in the milling process.
Scientists have long recognized this menace to health, and many people are waking up to it.

Grap-Nuts

FOOD

made from the whole wheat and malted barley, retains the mineral phosphates, as well as all the other nutritive values of the grains Grape-Nuts, as the cereal part of one's diet, perfectly supplies what white flour foods lack.

Grape-Nuts is long baked, most easily digested, and is ready-to-eat direct from the package--fresh, crisp and delicious.
